Full Description :

Solid fragment of a hollow, anthropomorphic figurine which includes part of a rectangular foot and rounded leg. The leg appears to lie along the proper right edge of the figurine and is rounded and life-like. The foot is rectangular and juts out from the front surface of the figurine. Four grooves define five toes and the surface of the figurine appears to continue below the base of the foot. The interior surface is rough, there is an interior-shifted firing core, and there is no paint or slip.
