This is a fragment of a strap censer handle. It has a fairly fine soft brownish paste w/ some white inclusions that reminds me a little of Santa Rita paste. One side of the handle has some remnants of red paint on it. This side of the handle also is more well finished, smoothed and rounded than the other, which is not well smoothed at all and is rougher to the touch. In fact there is a noticeable break in the smoothing of the one side + the edges and the rougher side.
