CAT. PHOTO/DRAW. NUMBER

PSB 106T/1-3

A fragment of a scored & center lid. The paste appears quite crude with many small to medium sized inclusions - white, clear and orange. The paste is a lighter colour than rest of fragment. It is light brown/yellowish colour, while the rest of frag. is a darker brown.

The non-scored surface is well worn with a few surface cracks and the edges of this side are chipped and badly worn. The edges of the scored surface are not so worn. The incisions were made with a single pointed instrument, made while clay was wet. The vertical lines were made first, then the horizontal. They form highly irregular and uneven rectangles. Appears to be carelessly scored.
