Fifth Fire On Campus Draws Caples Response

By Tom Ford

A fire caused by the College and used to store College equipment was burning in a Saturday night. The fire department was notified of the fire at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday. The blaze was on a ramp and the fourth suspecting of arson.

Dean Edwards, Dean of Students, said that inspectors were looking at fires to determine how they were set. The inspectors are working on the premise that the fires were deliberately set by "one or more persons." The fire was the first of a series of on-campus fires that occurred in the past three previous fires in the Kenyon area.

Dean Edwards attended the need to students on campus to answer questions of police and faculty equipment in question or with questions which could be related to the buildings.

A report to the fires, President Dallas released a statement on Saturday.

students, Faculty, and all other members of the Kenyon College community are also responsible for the safety of any individual on campus and in a matter of the College.

Presidentiial Possibility Wiley To Visit

The invitation of the Student Board to the President, John E. Wiley and Carrie Smith Wiley, will be held on October 8th and 9th. During his graduation seminar to come from Brown College in 1944, Mr. Wiley studied a Rhodes Institute of College administration and subsequently completed his master's degree in law. Since 1955 he has served with the law firm of Wiley, Austin, Confaut in Boston.

he became a partner in 1944 and served as managing partner of that firm of seven years.

Mr. Wiley has continued to be active in educational affairs, having been annually active in the affairs of Brown College as a member of the Alumni Council and the Board of Overseers, of which he is currently the Vice President. He has been a lecturer in Law at Boston University and has written numerous articles for law publications.

Candidate Dave Noble Speaks On Issues At VI

By Steven Lebow

All political candidates and opinion are expressed in the College of President, in Gambier. Last week, I said Dave Noble for President, and at this point in the campaigning, I said to all students.

Noble had continued to be active in educational affairs, having been annually active in the affairs of Brown College as a member of the Alumni Council and the Board of Overseers, of which he is currently Vice President. He has been a lecturer in Law at Boston University and has written numerous articles for law publications.

He has been a lecturer in Law at Boston University and has written numerous articles for law publications.

He spoke out for the creation of a Committee on the future of the College and a new approach to the running of the College.

The College, which consists of 29 members, and the students have a right to continue the work of the President and to keep the students informed.

The Student Council considers itself with two functions, the allocation of funds to student organizations and the expression of student opinion effectively.

The proposed course in the College is that of student tax. This tax has to do with the allocation of money to student organizations. Presently, $25,000 a semester is allocated to the students' fund. This is designated as the student activities fee. This fee is what the Student Council gives to allocate funds.

Because of high costs and a large number of student organizations on campus, the College does not have enough funds to meet all the requests. An increase is needed in the student fees to meet the student organizations.

The student organization must present an estimate of the funds the organization will need for the year by the end of the semester. The Finance Committee of the College will have to present to the Student Council the recommendation for the budget to be approved by the Council.

The student body will, then, get a referendum and students will have to decide whether to increase the student activities fee or to keep the same figure. The treasurer has to approve all increases before they go into effect.

The Council, which consists of 29 members (there are two empty seats), four to be filled out by the Student Council. The student body will then vote on the proposal. This fee is what the Student Council gives to allocate funds.

Another issue under consideration in the Council is that of marijuan

Doe Noble

Noble has been active in school and community affairs in Westfield, where the Wiley reside. He has two sons and a daughter.

Mr. Wiley will be available to talk with students at the lounge of the Board of Trustees at 10:00 until noon on Wednesday.

Noble is one of several candidates who will visit this month.

"I think a lot of students misunderstand, and in a great extent, operate the student council," said Kevin Martin, Student Council President. "A good number of students feel that Student Council wields a great power in affecting the administration of the College to change policies and they feel that an effective Student Council can do anything—this is really not the case."

House System Funds Claimed by Martin

To the Editor:

So that the readers of the Collegian may not be misled by the erroneous statements in the 26 May 1956 issue regarding the fund held by the Student Council concerning house grading, allow me to present a succinct and true history of this somewhat sensationalized controversy.

As far as I can tell, over one semester ago, I submitted a report to the Student Council. The report was designed to bring the funds held by the Student Council regarding house grading, under the jurisdiction of the Senate. It was approved by the Senate, and the Senate recommended that the funds be used to cover the expenses of the Senate committee. The Senate vote was unanimous.

As far as I can tell, over one semester ago, the Senate committee recommended that the funds be used to cover the expenses of the Senate committee. The Senate vote was unanimous.

you feel,” he said. “But that’s a question where my personal view and my political view have to differ. I don’t think my constituents are ready for it.”

A representative from K.O.W. brought up the question about Noble. Noble had no plans to answer to offer. After some discussion the floor leader, I guess, in the long run, I do have to vote against legislation absolutely limiting abortion because it limits personal freedom.

Noble projects a liberal image, particularly when contrasted with his opponent: young veteran, John Ashbrook. Noble claimed that Ashbrook has one of the poorest roll call and committee attendance records in Washington. Mr. Ashbrook has agreed to debate with Noble sometime later this month. No place or date has been set, but Mr. Vernon is being considered as a possible location.

Zak Pack Hacks B-W; Lacks Zip To Zap O.B.

By David L. Bacon

It was a strange week for the B-WPack, which had stumbled near the third quarter in a game that had just upset a nationally-ranked conference contender and played a non-conference game against a top 130 team. In preparation for their October 11 showdown, the B-WPack had to balance their team’s performance with the need to keep their lineup strong.

Several players were out for the game, including螺丝 who had injured himself in practice. The team struggled to find a rhythm, and Kenyon dominated the game.

Kenyon Ladies

Win 2, Lose 1

By Pamela Ologin

The Kenyon Ladies unleashed an overwhelming offensive attack that overpowered Ohio Wesleyan 6-0 and Baldwin Wallace 10-0 in Kenyon dominated field hockey. While eight different players from both teams scored in the contest, Ohio Wesleyan and the Baldwin Wallace scored in the worst goal-less 3-1 loss of a season.

Kenyon's second-half scoring on the Kenyon side of the field, crossing the opponents' mid-line, only once did Kenyon play a game of almost perfect control. Twice in the first half, first Carrie Meehan and then left-stick player scored in the contest against Ohio Wesleyan and the Baldwin Wallace players. Kenyon's second-half scoring on both half posts included left-stick player and left half flank player scoring.

Fifteen times Kenyon took penalty corner shots with one long corner. In addition, the Ladies took 37 shots on goal.

Within the first 15 minutes of the second game, the Ladies had taken a lead that was never even close to being coming to their opponents. Kenyon held an 8-0 lead.

Within the first half of the second game, the Ladies were unable to build on their lead, and the game ended 1-1.

The Kenyon College Women's Field Hockey Team had a successful season, finishing third in the conference and reaching the tournament semifinals.

Annual Tennis Tourney In Second Week

By David L. Bacon

The colt reporter crept thinly into the plush, smoke-filled offices. Peering from behind a smoking ope, the gathered Euchur horse, "The Great Gatsby's Ghost, Jimmy, we need a 25th wedding-anniversary Tennis Tournament! Can you handle it?"

"Sure, Mr. White," the poetical horse replied, lowering his hand to the floor. "What will Clancy and Lois say?" This was Jimmy's most electrifying moment. He was assured coverage of the Arthur DeWitt hall tour.

The reporter answered always with glances, "Tennis Office Directed in Freshman Fire-Fighting Accident. Doctor Doolittle's Son's Competent Competitor-Carrie Lin. Pet Over-population Curbed-Sagu Sh-Tiq Laic! All 125 Days." The new "Tennis Office" was established in the colt's school hall.

Tennis Tournament is currently showing its second week of competition. These student and faculty who signed up before the September 24 deadline are competing for titles, which will be awarded at the conclusion of the two-week elimination. Games are held to decide the top four teams in the following categories:

- Men's and women's singles
- Men's and women's doubles

The five categories were men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles, and mixed doubles. It is open to all students and faculty members who signed up before the deadline. The top four teams in each category will be awarded trophies.

Kenyon Sports

Raiders Batter Believed Leaders In 34-7 Loss

The Kenyon Lords, primarily playing for the second time, were able to hold off a powerful Oberlin, who had previously scored a goal against Kenyon. The Lords came out of halftime with a renewed sense of purpose and were able to contain the Oberlin attack, which ended with a scoreless draw.

The performance by the Kenyon defense was impressive, as they were able to hold the Oberlin attack to just one goal in the second half. The Kenyon offense was also able to put pressure on the Oberlin defense, which led to a goal in the second half by Kenyon's leading scorer.

Lukac's Line

By Paul B. Lukac

On first glance, you might think that women's sports are being left out here at Kenyon. You would be right, but not completely so. It is true that the college does not offer the same athletic opportunities as some of the larger universities, but it is working hard to change that.

Women who choose to compete in intramural and intercollegiate sports at Kenyon can choose between basketball, volleyball, and volleyball. All five are coached by one person, Ms. Karen Burke. She notes that the athletic department has "an excellent situation," but accepts it with apparent good spirits.

However, is it not an idea, and Ms. Burke has no reason to worry. However, if it is not the Athletic Department's fault. Athletic Director Phil Morse points out that while the student population at Kenyon has practically doubled in the past seven years, there have been no new athletic fields or facilities built. He also notes that the entire process of planning and construction of these fields is one that has been ongoing for the past several years.

Therefore, there are other sports which seem destined for intercollegiate competition. They include cross-country and rugby.

I started playing rugby at Kenyon, and it was one of the best decisions I made. The social aspect of the sport is a huge part of what makes it so special. The Kenyon Rugby team is made up of players from all over the country, and we are able to play against teams from other universities.

Competition in the third annual Kenyon Tennis Tournament was last week.
