On Thanksgiving Day we once more lowered down to our ancient rival Ohio State.

The team played the best ball it was capable of and were in no sense outmatched. We gave the Columbus Dispatch write-up as being a good authentic account of the struggle.

Kenyon football men, after working as grittily as they are wont to year after year, saw their cause supported by one Thanksgiving afternoon when Ohio State defeated them 22 to 0.

In the last few years, the tradition and custom of the Gambier men to either score or come near doing so, yesterday was an exception, and never during the 60 minutes of play did an opportunity present itself fully to the general field from until the very last half minute of playing. Hines and Jones fumbling exchanges of kicks put the ball on Ohio's 22-yard line. Lord the regular place-kicker of the Gambier team, was already on the side lines because of an injury. It fell to Bentley to make the try at goal. His kick was a bad one and another play was not attempted, time being called right there.

Ohio found no trouble gaining on the Pierce machine and in the first half should have had four touchdowns. Instead third one was made on a forward pass which was deflected illegal, the ball going over the line on the fly instead of being handled by Powell just inside fair ground. Again the oval was worked to the Kenyon one-yard line when time was called for the first half. State had gained it on the six-yard line on a fumble of a punt. One play put it to the one-yard bar when time says the score.

In the second period Captain James here thought play to himself by twice kicking the ball over the bar from placement after the team had been held by the Kenyon defense. The third one was an easy shot from the 15-yard line. The half, coming later in the first, was a dead ball goal from the 35-yard line and at a very difficult angle. James drove the ball hard and true. A touchdown in this final half brought the score to 22 to 0 total.

Two Kenyon men wound up their football careers in a blaze of glory. Osborn's head suffered a broken nose in the first three minutes of play but he stayed the contest through against three Ohio State centers put in the game to Kenyon to Ohio State.

The usual variety of All-Ohio teams came out on the Sunday following Thanksgiving and as usual Kenyon did not receive the attention due her. Here at Kenyon we have no city papers to take advantage of every good play and for that reason our men are seldom given the credit they deserve. The Columbus Dispatch naturally favors State and according to their columns there is never but one team on the field and that is always O. S. U. The Cleveland papers divide their honors between Case and Reserve, occasionally dropping Oberlin a few crumbs. Coach Pierce saw all the Big Six teams except Oberlin this year and he chose the following as his All-Ohio team.

Next year's prospects have been so thoroughly discussed in Ohio papers that the item by this time is indeed a threadbare one.

One thing seems peculiar in the 1910 football prospect and that is for that the larger schools with exception of Ohio State will suffer more than most by graduation. Reserve, Case and Oberlin will each lose six from seven to ten men. Oberlin in particular being the hardest hit of all.

State should have a good team although the loss of Captain Jones will prove a hard blow.

O. W. U. is fortunate in having but two men graduate and should make a good showing.

At Reserve the undergraduates are bemoaning the loss of Portsman, Wertz, Schiller, Barney, Corlette and Hob. Seaman will have a different task ahead when the 1910 season rolls around.

Otterbein and Wittenburg will prove factors in the championship race next year. By next year the work of Excedine and Detray should begin to be apparent. What Miami will be able to do in the conference is as yet an open question. As a whole the 1910 season should be an even thing. The strong teams will be weaker and the week teams stronger. It is to be hoped however that the championship will be decisively decided and not be left in doubt as in the past several seasons.

The corner-stone of this much needed building was laid on Tuesday, June 30th, the day preceding last Commencement. A proceeding composed of the officers of the two institutions, Clergymen, Alumni, and Undergraduates, formed in front of the College building about 6 o'clock p.m., and marched to the spot selected, where a large number of spectators were already congregated. The ceremonies were commenced with prayer, read by the Bishop of the Diocese, and the responsive rec-ing of the 145th Psalm, after which the assembly united in singing a beautiful and appropriate hymn, written for the occasion by a graduate of the College and Theological Seminary. A sealed glass jar containing a number of documents and photographs was then placed in the cavity prepared for it, and the President of the College read a list of its contents, which was as follows:

Journal of General Convention for 1856; Journal of the Diocesan Convention for 1856; Last Annual Catalogue for 1856-57; Kenyon Collegian for June, 1857; Mt. Ver-onn Democratic Banner, June 30;
Mt. Vernon Republican, June 30;
Western Episcopalian, June 26,

vaine's Last Annual Address; Christ our Helper, a sermon by Rev. H. H. Sibert; Charge by Bishop McIlvaine on Justification

The stone was then placed over it, and the Bishop striking it three times with a hammer, pronounced the corner-stone laid in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, that upon it might be erected a durable structure for the promotion of Religion and sound Learning. Then standing upon the wall, he delivered a most beautiful and appropriate address.
He spoke of the happiness which all present must feel in witnessing the laying of the corner-stone of another building to be erected in this beautiful grove for such a purpose. He made a beautiful and touching allusion to Bishop Chase, and then briefly adverted the great objects of these institutions, namely, the cultivation of Piety and sound Learning. He then spoke of the essential element of education, which is the proper discipline of the mind—not the mere accumulation of knowledge:
an indispensable means to which,
and of equal importance is the Greek, and Roman classics, and of Science, Natural, Abstract and Metaphysical. But education is not for time only, but for eternity.
Education in the highest sense,
then, is the cultivation of true Religion, without which there can be no true education. At the close of the Bishop's address, the Gamba in Rhyda was sung by the whole assembly, and the ceremony closed by the Bishop with the Benediction.

Howard B. Wright, '02, returned to witness the Wooster game.

FOOD FOR THE ANVIL CHORUS.

Although good jokes are now seldom found, Kenyon is no more sterile a spot for their birthplace than any other. Two jokes in particular have been told of Kenyon students which are worthy of mention. A learned Doctor whom we all know, was just calling the role of his class room the other day when the door suddenly burst open and a beloved student was precipitated into the room with such force that he struck and fell over the back row of chairs. Nothing daunted, he arose and took book in hand, climbed over the rows of chairs to the front of the room. The doctor turned his shoulder pertinaciously toward the boy and said in a highly insulited tone, "Well, I scarcely consider that a gentlemanly way to enter my classroom." To this the student, with cup to heart in a deep courtesy, replied, "Oh! pardon me, doctor! I did not know I was in the presence of ladies.""Do you?"

"Yes, indeed. By my plan you take one particular man place him on the sofa in the parlor, sit close to him with the light a little low, and look into his eyes. And if he doesn't pop you'll know it's time to change the man on the sofa."

The other incident occurred in the Freshman English class the other day. The professor was reading over the themes and correcting them. In the course of his corrections he came upon and read aloud to the class the following extract from one of the themes: "The dog ran around the room for a minute, and then flew out of the window."

"Now! Mr. Jones, this is your theme, what is the matter with that?"

"Nothing that I can see, Doctor."

"How could the dog fly out of the window?"

"Why, Doctor, he was a bird dog."

A college professor who was always ready for a joke was asked by a student one day if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor. "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, "you climb down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turkey."

"That may be," said the professor with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be for you to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage heads and look natural.""Nothing General Merchandise

THE 1909 FOOTBALL SEASON.

In reviewing the football season just past at Kenyon one is apt to be influenced by the score of the Thanksgiving game. Putting this aside no Kenyon man can review the team's work without a feeling of pride for the team and admiration for the coach. Of all the conference teams in Ohio, Kenyon was probably the hardest hit in the non return of veteran material. When the season opened Coach Pierce faced this proposition. He had to fill six positions out of the material offered from the last year's squad and freshman teams, the three senior men and the two halfbacks being the men left from last year's team. With an eye to next year the coach used his material and at the same time was able to manage so that Kenyon maintained her position in Ohio athletics.

The squad was greatly weakened by the non return of Ed. Southworth, the left tackle of last year and Crippen, the right half, and Daniels, the right end. Several promising freshmen failed to show up in September. Dunn, who it was confidently expected would prove an able successor to Briggman at full, suffered a broken ankle in the Wesleyan game. The work of Coach Pierce in combating these discouragements deserves the undivided praise of the student body and alumni.

Case and O. S. U. were the only teams who triumphed over us by fairly large margins. The team of 1909 living up to the traditions established when Kenyon on the gridiron battled gamely throughout the season, played teams which out weighed it and showed that the clean sportsmanship-like spirit which always characterizes Kenyon has not been lost.

Next year see Kenyon at the top again battling for state honors.

SUPPORT THE BASKET TEAM.

Last year the men decided in Assembly that basket-ball should not be dropped at Kenyon. This makes you responsible for a successful season this year as well as last year. The material is good this year there is an excellent chance to muster a good team. But this is not the question which worries us. There must be support from the student body in a financial way. The practice games are even more important in this respect.

It has been readily provided in past football seasons that organized cheering is a wonderful help. This is none the less true in the case of basketball.

Season tickets, as most of you know, will be issued. By their admission may be obtained to the Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein and Wooster games for one dollar. Any who have not taken advantage of this offer should sign up at once. Above all things support the team and management now and after the season begins.

THE EDUCATION OF A "GENTLEMAN."

Dr. Nicholas Butler, head of the Columbia University recently outlined a program of education that comes to us as a surprise from a man who has proved himself so good an American and a man of good ideals, practical as well as theoretical.

Discussing the future of the university he claimed that the sons of rich men who enter college do not receive proper attention.

"There is," he said, "a curious inability or disinclination on the part of many college reformers to see the necessity of furnishing minds and characters for the simple profession of gentlemen; this new type of student, whether he knows it or not, goes to college primarily for a social, not an intellectual purpose. His wish is to share in the attractive associations of an American college; he desires to participate in athletic sports; he hopes, in after life, to mingle freely and on equal terms of equality with college bred men. It is a good thing that boys of this type should go to college, provided the college will recognize their existence as a type and deal with them as such.

This is so in America, so regressive a policy that one wonders if Butler could fathom it. Plainly it means simply the beginning of class distinction by our colleges; the official recognition and toleration of the snobbery that is altogether too prevalent now in the collegiate life in some fashionable institutions—an evil which far exceeding college officials are trying to stamp out.

Executive Committee Meeting—Nov. 15.

The meeting was called to order in the library by Dr. Walton who was elected as temporary chairman in the absence of Dr. Reeves.

Members present were: Lybarber, Bentley, Millspaugh, Harter, and Young.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A budget of fifteen dollars was granted to the glee club manager. The property manager was voted one dollar and sixty cents to buy padlock and key and hasps.

Manager Whitely made a report of the Denison game and it was accepted.

The meeting then adjourned.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE.

The following basket-ball schedule has been announced by Manager Russell. The feature of the schedule is the number of big games in Gambier. Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein and Wooster will be met on the home floor. There will be a practice game on January eighth to start the season. East High of Columbus will probably fill the vacant date. Another feature is the game during Prom week which will be played with Otterbein.

The schedule:
Jan. 3.—Open.
Jan. 15.—O. W. U. at Gambier.
Jan. 20.—Western Reserve at Cleveland.
Jan. 21.—Buchtel at Akron.
Jan. 22.—Wooster at Wooster.
Feb. 5 (Prom night) at Gambier.
Feb. 12.—O. W. U. at Delaware.
Feb. 17.—Marriotts at Marriotts.
Feb. 18.—Parkersburg at Parkersburg.
Feb. 19.—Ohio University at Athens.
Mar. 12.—Otterbein at Woosterville.
Mar. 19.—Wooster at Gambier.

The students at Miami, encouraged by the success of their team last year, are anxious that the lamps be relit. Their school should be in the Ohio Conference. Of course no objection of weight could be raised and if student opinion is insisted upon the consumption of their wish will soon be effected.

BEXLEY NOTES

The College will be glad to receive letters or items of news from Bexley alumni for this column.

Rev. J. H. Dodd, Archdeacon of Southern Ohio was here Nov. 28.

Rev. Charles W. Baker was on the Hill the latter part of November. The Rev. Mr. Baker and family went on their way to Roseburg, Oregon, in which town Mr. Baker is to take charge of St. George's parish. The Rev. Mr. Baker was previously at St. Philip's and St. Matthew's in Cleveland.

Rev. R. B. B. Foote, Anderson, Ind., was here visiting his mother, Nov. 27.

Bishop Brooke of Oklahoma was also on the Hill Nov. 27.

Nov. 29. An interesting debate took place on the following topic: "Resolved that the Historic Episcopate should be offered to the Denominations according to Bishop Brown's plan."

The result was decided in favor of the affirmative.

We regret to announce the death of Rev. J. C. Hathaway, Marysville, Mo.

The Rev. Hathaway was a graduate of Beatty Hall, '96. While in Gambier he was lay-reader at the Quarry Chapel.

The missions round Gambier—Mr. John Haight goes to the Pleasant Valley Chapel, Mr. W. H. Kinkaid goes to the Quarry Chapel, Mr. H. G. C. Martin goes to Bedell Chapel, Mr. J. W. Wises new goes to Cambridge, and Mr. F. E. Ernst is supplying at St. Philip's, Cleveland.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in this state was held at Akron, Nov. 13th and 14th. Messrs. Leslie and Hall attended from Gambier. A full account of the convention can be seen in "Church Life" for November.

An interesting account of the work of the Rev. L. Cody Marshall, Kenyon '07, together with a picture of a noted boy's choir at Wooster, Ohio, can be seen in the November "Church Life."

The following tribute was paid to the late Richard Watson Gilder in a New York pulpit.

"Richard Watson Gilder did his work in the spirit and power of Elijah, with the same unaltering courage and the same patriotic devotion. Of him it may be said, as of Raskin *'His love of truth so pervaded with his love of beauty, and his love of beauty so pervaded with his love of truth that when he speaks we know not whether to admire more the artist or the prophet.'"

One of the daily papers in Sioux Falls, S. Dakota, where the late Bishop Hale made his home expressed the warm admiration felt for him by all persons of the state, both as a man and as a Churchman.

"His wonderful services in extending Christianity, education and civilization among the Indians in moving public and private sentiment toward higher ideals, has laid all the people of the state under profound obligations which can never be repaid, but which are keenly felt by all."

Alumni Notes

Leland A. Anglin, '94, spent Saturday and Sunday, the twentieth and twenty-first, on the Hill.

F. Whiting Avery, '06, has completely recovered from the attack of pneumonia that he suffered three weeks ago and has again taken up his work in Columbus.

John Scott, '10, spent Monday and Tuesday of this week in Gambier.

William L. Cummings, '02, spent a few days on the Hill at the time of the Wooster game. Mr. Cummings had been in New York City and found it convenient to step off the train on his return to Seattle where he is practicing law.

Joseph M. Weaver, '04, was married on Thanksgiving Day and moved to Miss Virginia Beall of Wellsburg, West Virginia, on October 14th.

The Rev. George Atwater, '96, returned to the Hill on Nov. 23, to remain a few days at the home of Mrs. Davies.

Paul D. Voorhees Michigan '06, a brother of George B. Voorhees of Kenyon '02 and Henry J. Brown of Michigan '02, visited friends at Kenyon to see the Wooster-Kenyon game.

Van Allen Coolidge, '96, is in the steel business in Detroit and is playing quarter-back on an "all-star" athletic club team.

Wayne A. Stallman, '22, visited Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees to see the last game of the season on Benson field, and to enjoy the Senior play. "Tei On Parle Francais," or "The Major's Mistake" at Rosse Hall on the evening following the Wooster game, Saturday night. The little farce proved one of the best entertainments seen in Gambier in some time, and the nature of the play itself, short and full of opportunities for excellent character work, shows the action rapid and intensely interesting.

Mr. Tunks, seen so many times in farcical plays, more than distinguished himself in his part as of Mr. Spriggins, the eccentric butler, of the housekeeper. His manner of speech and facial expressions were cleverly acted. Mr. Stallman also, who enacted the role of a French gentleman of fashion, no improvement could have been desired.

The role of Major Regulus Rattan, the rate father who had lost his daughter Angeline, was well carried out by Mr. Bland, whose size and heavy voice were exactly suitable to the part. The girl's parts were well acted by Mr. Martin, Mr. Hardy and Mr. Pulz, who had been seen before acting such roles in College plays.

Mr. Siddall, the only Junior, played the role of Angeline, Major and Mrs. Rattan's daughter, to the entire satisfaction of the audience.

The whole play was well acted. Costumes, scenery, and lighting were united so well in the production that the number of number of alumni back on the Hill proves it to be a successful act and a happy entertainment.

The complete cast is as follows:

Harcourt Notes

A large number of Harcourt girls showed their loyalty to Kenyon by being present at the Kenyon-State game on Thanksgiving day.

The wedding of Miss Sue Williams, '10, to Geo. Southworth, Kenyon '06, was held on Thanksgiving Day. The ceremony will be conducted at the home of the bride-elect by the Rev. L. Cody Marsh.

KENYON 5—WOOSTER 0

Four days before the state game Kenyon’s ciphers met Wooster in Gambler for their annual set-to. The team was in the worst condition of the season. Captain Siegfriedt, Bentley and Henry didn’t play in the game and Axtell played only about 5 minutes before he was forced to the side line with an injured knee. The team managed to win however, 5 to 0.

A strong wind blew directly down the field and it was Kenyon’s misfortune to play against it during the first half. Despite this, the play was almost entirely in Wooster’s territory but the ball could not be put across the cove.

After the half line Kenyon gained mostly through the line. On account of the patched up team, the offense was very ragged and the wind permitted of no forward passing. Wooster had one chance to score. A fumbled punt gave them the ball on the two-yard line, but after three attempts at gain the ball was three yards farther from the goal and their chance was gone.

Kenyon had the wind in the second half and on the first down after the kick-off punt far down the field and the play was thereafter in Wooster’s half of the gridiron. Kenyon, however, could not score a touchdown. Wooster fumbled a pass near its own goal line and C. Cable downed the runner back of the mark. A fumble gave Kenyon two points. This was followed shortly after by Lord’s place-kick from the 35-yard line. This brought the total up to five and there it stayed.

Reinheimer and Mason at the ends showed good defensive powers. John Southworth used his 135 pounds to great advantage and filled Captain Siegfriedt’s position very creditably.

THE YALE-HARVARD GAME.

One more or less ancient custom was revived on November 20 when "Yale" and "Harvard" battled for supremacy on Benson field. Hanna Hall wore the crimson of Harvard and after two fifteen minute halves, walked off the field a victor over Old Kenyon’s Yale team 5 to 0.

Those who held places on the varsity squad or on the freshman eleven were bared.

These conditions brought out a great array of talent with Harvard the odds on favorite on account of the reputations several of their finest had brought with them from prep school.

Yale was on the field fully an hour before Harvard put in their appearance. The latter bunch of huskies were shy a man and had to pull Harvards out of an examination to make the team complete. The patience of the capacity crowd was finally rewarded by the appearance of these "Kads from Cambridge" and after much argument over the selection of officials the whistle blew.

The first half ended 0 to 0. Harvard was strongly in command and gained some through the line with Thurston and Barley showing the honors. The former at one time cleared everybody except "Hawkshaw" Down who stumped him to Mother Earth after a 70 yard gain.

This was Yale’s one grand opportunity to tally.

In the second half Yale’s defense was even better, but the offense was correspondingly bad. The playing was all in Harvard’s territory and Hayes passed time after time. The wretched handling of these punts by Yale backs and ends lost the game. Yale should easily have had two touchdowns if the punts had been handled in good form.

Harvard scored after about 10 minutes of play. Thurston punt to Downe who eluded the whole Yale team and romped 50 yards for the only score of the game. Try at goal failed.

Yale’s offensive play was handled most successfully by Hardy and Thornton; Sackett, Kender and Givens showed stellar form on defense. Time after time this trio broke up Harvard’s punishing offense and threw the men for losses.

Yale was easily Harvard’s star. His work on offense and defense stood out strongly. Hayes, Dickinson and Cardinal also played consistently.

Case—Ohio 5-0. Case—Reserve 5-3.

The number of women registered at the Ohio State University this year is 1,000. Dyed, Distributed as follows: Arts, 257; Education, 144; Domestic Science, 157; Law, 3; Pharmacy, 3.

"The Scare Crow," written by a Harvard graduate, has been chosen by the Harvard Dramatic Club as the annual play to be produced in December.

The baseball team of the University of Wisconsin has just returned from a trip to Japan, where a series of games was played with teams representing different native schools. Not all of the scores favored the invaders and the editor of Collier's commented on the readiness of the Japs to learn the game, sees in their aggressiveness in athletics a new form of the yellow peril—he feels that the Michigan subjects, though handicapped in weight, will some day be able to outplay our best teams on the gridiron. We believe that the Japanese are better football material than the Indians, and some day we may have our proof.

Columbia University is making a strenuous effort to regain some of her lost prestige in college sports. During the coming year, $18,000 will be available for that purpose.

A new four-year course in Forestry has been added to the courses given in the College of Agriculture of the Ohio State University. This is the result of a growing demand for this line of work is evidenced by the fact that 28 students are enrolled.

At Purdue a number of loan scholarships are awarded each year to needy students. This system of lending money has been made possible by donations from the alumni, the class of 1908 and several other sources. The amount is always to be paid back in fifteen months after graduation.

The debating team from the George Washington University will journey across the country to Los Angeles, where they will meet in debate the representatives of the University of Southern California. The visitors will make the trip without expense to themselves. All this is a good example of the progressive Western spirit that inspires everything done in that part of the country. Again, a trip of so many thousand miles for just a debate is most significant in showing that interest in contests between minds is not at all an ebb as some would have us believe.

To every educator it will be of interest to learn that the University of Washington has just received over a million and a half dollars' worth of property through the holding of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition on the campus of that university. When called to choose what could be used for university purposes the regents reserved twenty-eight of the forty-two structures, which with some grounds in addition aggregate the magnificent sum of $1,655,000.00. The California building, one of the most substantially constructed buildings of the exposition, is splendidly designed for museum purposes and to this end will this building be devoted, and hereafter all the ethnological, geological, educational, commercial, anthropological and historical collections of the University will be housed there.

Over $10,000 per quarter is the sum earned by the students at the University of Chicago who feel the need of supplementing their means from some outside source. This does not include the honor scholarships awarded by the University, but covers actual work rendered by students in every imaginable capacity, such asstenographers, clerks, tutors, salesmen, chauffeurs, housework, attending to furnaces and lawns, delivering papers, and performing odd jobs generally. In fact the opportunities for taking work are even more numerous than the number of students desiring to take advantage of them. There are frequently openings for both men and women in the large retail stores or in doctor's offices, for example, in which spare time in the afternoons or on Saturday can be turned to profitable account, which go begging. Approximately 350 students of both sexes have obtained satisfactory work this quarter through the free Employment Bureau maintained by the University, there being no means of ascertaining how many more have obtained work without such help. The fact remains however, that there is ample opportunity for the energetic student to earn his way, either in whole or in part, and those opportunities usually outnumber those seeking for them.
