JUNIOR CLASS PROVE THEMSELVES CAPITAL HOSTS

"Prom" in Years -- Many Visitors Present--Decorations Unique.

The class of 1912 gave one of the finest promenades since the ruling of the Trustees prohibiting batting above seven feet went into effect. This is the same class which last year inaugurated the idea of decorating with small trees and boughs, and this is also the first "Prom" which has been decorated in this manner. White batting to the height of seven feet with a dark blue border formed a background for small evergreen trees and boughs which lined the north and south sides of Rose Hall and the west end below the stage. The east end under the balcony was covered with batting but left free from greens. Three corners were enclosed with batting for cozy corners and furnished with morris chairs, divans, and pillows. A serving table for punch was in the fourth corner.

The lighting was very pretty but a little too dim to properly display the beautiful gowns and their gems. For this reason all the gentlemen had difficulty finding their dance partners as it was too dark to recognize people from the room. Twelve ropes of electric lights were draped from the fixture in the center of the room to the four corners and walls. Each bulb was covered with a Japanese lantern which gave a very soft light.

The music, the most important feature of the dance, was furnished by Johnston's orchestra, which makes criticism unnecessary.

Disappointment was felt because Mr. Johnston could not be present but Mr. Fisher was an excellent leader and was repeatedly credited. He was not quite as graceful as Mr. Johnston in giving encores but perhaps the length of the program made this neces-

Varsity 95 Scrubs 51

In a game lasting over an hour the regular team defeated a picked team on Saturday, Feb. 18. The game was played after a member of the varsity had boasted that the regular team could defeat the scrubs thirty points. The game was extremely funny and abounded in sensational playing. Capt. Cable of the reserves fairly out did himself for when the notes ended he had eleven baskets to his credit. Both teams constantly changed their line-ups and the score keepers had considerable difficulty in deciding the final results.

Allegheny 35—Kenyon 17

Allegheny defeated Kenyon in one of the best games of the year on Thursday, Feb. 24. In the first half the Kenyon team was out-played but in the second half Kenyon played their other opponents. A more extensive account will appear in the next Collegian.

sary. The orchestra left the stage after giving nine encores to the "Court House in the Sky" but the crowd as usual was not satisfied so Fred Clark rose to the occasion by playing several more encores on the piano to the huge delight of those dancing.

Supper was served in the balcony after the tenth dance. The new caterer was favorably criticized by everyone both for the service and the supper. The tables were very attractively set with candlesticks covered with red shades carrying out the subdued lighting scheme of the rest of the hall.

The dancers enjoyed themselves so much that the orchestra was kept playing until six o'clock, an hour after the scheduled time for stopping. Many dance bonuses were served at the Bakery to refresh the guests and fellows before going to bed.

The Junior Class is to be congratulated or rather the committee which did practically all of the work of arranging the plans and the actual decorating of the hall for the "Prom."

The following people were the guests of the students:

The Misses Marchell, Sandusky, Higgins, Cincinnati; Miss E. Lindley, Wilson, Pittsburgh; Arndt, Mt. Vernon; Rohe, Canton; Watson, Pith Misch; Wright, Mt. Vernon; McGinty, Courtney and Leonard of Indianapolis; Miss and Mrs. Plants of Springfield, Mrs. C. A. Leighton of Indianapolis; Mrs. Williams, Oberlin; Mrs. Wheaton of Cleveland; Mrs. Weaver, Misses Emery, Flannagan and Snodgrass of Kanton; Miss Sykes of Zanesville, Miss Green of Philadelphia, Miss McClure of Glendale; Miss Robbins of Middletown; Miss Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. Hayward of Columbus; Miss McNabb of Mt. Vernon; Misses Grimes and Mardell of Marietta; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Steere, jr. of Massillon; the Messrs. Hadley Rood of Chicago; Harry Lyubarger of Columbus; Arthur Farquhar of Sand Springs, Mo.; Gordon Rosenhall of Kenton; Thomas Goddard of New York; Wayne Stallman, Columbus; Blake White of Parkersburg; Don Hardy of Columbus; Max Long of Cincinnati.

Mr. Siddall played the "gay old boy" to perfection and kept the audience in a roar of laughter over his troubles and perplexities. Mr. Clark in his inimitable way personified the "nigger king," and raised the roof. Mr. Wheaton as the Rev. Ambrose Moxham made the hit of the evening, and his "act evening, young people," well long ring in the ears of his Kenyon hearers. Jane plainly showed her Irish blood. Mr. Anderson as Stanley, the college boy, and Messrs. McEvoy and Johnson as the two young maidens were howling successes, and Mr. Hanek, as Jerusha Graham made the funniest old maid ever seen on the Kenyon stage. Some of the audience regretted the fact that Mr. Harris was not a girl, for he made one of the prettiest burlesque queens imaginable.

The fact that men had to play girls parts made the play all the funnier and good preparations made it easier and agreeable to follow. The Puff and Powder Club is to be congratulated on the performance, especially as it was so well worked out as to be almost letter perfect.

Graduate Manager's Report

Football at Kenyon will be hereafter self-supporting according to the predictions of the Graduate Manager, Dr. L. R. Walton, in the regular February meeting of the Assembly. In his report of the financial situation he showed that although the season of 1910 was begun under a deficit of $230.00, the profit showed when all bills were paid totaled over $290.00.

Briefly summarizing, the statement is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Total receipts</td>
<td>$1,021.60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total expenditures</td>
<td>$730.92</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Balance | $290.68

Dr. Walton also quoted a letter from Remia Pierce, coach for the past three seasons, in which the latter wished all success for the 1911 team and Kenyon men in general.

The Assembly by a viva-voce rejected the resignation from the Dormitory Committee of John D. Southworth, the thunderous voice of "Nays" far more audible than the scattering "Ayes.""Basket ball Captain Weaver was in behalf of the team, urging better support from the student body, and was followed by Dr. Walton and President Wood.

Thus far Kenyon had shown warm fights to two strong teams, was their contention; inasmuch as Allegheny is a powerful factor the moral support of every Kenyon man was necessary to insure the success of the home team.

Dr. Walton also suggested that the President of the Assembly be made an ex-officio member of the Executive Committee, with or without a vote.

Upon adjournment, the time-honored "Thrill" and "Hika" closed the session.

Kenyon has been invited to participate in the Sixth Annual Championship Field and Track games of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, for Colleges and Preparatory Schools, to be held at Schenley Oval, Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday May 20, 1911, under the auspices of the University of Pittsburgh.

Ohio Wesleyan is considering playing Illinois in football next fall.

The KENYON COLLEGIAN

THE "FROM"

As a rule, we undergraduates go along without thinking very much about our action or appreciating our blessing but an affair like the recent "Prom" brings to our minds the advantage of Kenyon. At what other college in the west would you find a dance, given with such regard for details and with such great spirit. It is not alone the beauty of the scene or the charm of the music which make our social functions so distinctive but it is this aspect which finally culminates in the "Thrill" and which brings all to their feet. Other "Proms" have been good ones and this year's junior class certainly did not bring down the standard and we owe thanks to them for allowing us the privilege of attending such a splendid function. At the same time we feel immensely proud of the fact that we belong to the college which entertain her visitors in such a worthy fashion.

THE ASSEMBLY

At the Assembly held last Monday night there was more life than has been shown for a number of years; for that matter the Assembly throughout the year have been interesting and well worth while. The writer can remember when an Assembly meeting was merely a roll call, a few motions, never challenged, and an adjournment. This year no one can be sure a motion will go through before the final vote is taken. This point was well brought out when a man was not allowed to resign from a certain committee.

And this is as it should be, for the Assembly is the back bone of Kenyon life and Kenyon spirit. When our Assembly dies, then we can get ready to attend the obsequies of our beloved and well known spirit.

THE COLLEGE FENCE

If the question be asked, what is the one great distinguishing feature of our Alma Mater, we should unhesitatingly answer, that it is her richness in traditions and unswerving fidelity to the standard set before us by Kenyon students in the old days—old days when such a luxury as steam heat and hard wood furnishing were unknown. The very crudity of living, perhaps, was the greatest factor in keeping alive the traditions of Old Kenyon to their fullest. We of today are prone to let these traditions handed down to us expire. Our interest is not stimulated by our present manner of living; our traditions last they cannot keep pace with the times.

If we cannot keep alive those traditions the alternative is to create new ones. Let modern ideas come in. They will seem old to the Kenyon man 25 years from now.

An idea which occurs to me would be to create some common meeting place for the men of the college. This could be done by having what is called a "College Fence." Place it some way along the road by the tennis court. It would serve a double purpose—afford a good loafing place for the follows in the spring time and tend to eradicate this tendency toward "divisionalism." Of course the Freshmen should be kept off, that is where tradition should play its part and hand the custom down to future generations.

Let's have a College Fence.

COLLEGE POLITICS

In Answer to an Editorial in Last Collegian

In response to an editorial published in the last issue of the Collegian we wish to remark that some of its statements were ungraceful and that the methods of reform proposed by the writer are absolutely impossible. The remedies which he intends to introduce could not be brought about at Kenyon, and we doubt whether they could be arranged for any other college or university.

The editorial states that college politics are rotten, because certain groups of men try to corner the various important offices and, as it says, make the effort to "run things." It mentions as examples, the foot ball team and the weekly newspaper. Such political deals are true, sometimes perpetuated at Kenyon and not only in the departments mentioned, but also in the Reveille and class elections. These must be remedied, that we sincerely doubt the efficiency of the methods chosen by the writer.

In the first place he advocates that the names of the persons holding college honors be published, and that each college group be prohibited from holding a certain office two years in succession. The writer forgets, apparently, that two men in succeeding classes, who are both capable in a certain branch of college activity, perhaps the most capable in college, may belong to the same "group," as he puts it. The second man although he is the man for the place is eliminated. This would only work to the deterioration of the college, as oftentimes the best men in a certain line could not hold office. Then, although this plan might prevent a certain group from keeping an office in its possession for too long a period of time, it would only encourage the trading of offices between the groups. An office might be thrown back and forth between two groups of men for an unlimited length of time. The plan would also cause a line of separation between each group in college, and the bitterness between them would be intensely felt. This would cause a downfall of Kenyon spirit and that is one thing in our college that must be preserved at all expense.

Then he advocates the plan of electing important officers of the college, such as the football captain and the editor-in-chief of the college paper by public election, every student being permitted to vote. The impracticability of such a plan may be seen from the start, such positions as those above mentioned require a great deal of experience, and a large amount of judgment must be shown in their selection. The only fair test of a man's ability along a certain line are those who with him participate in the same branch of college activity, for they know the work, the standard set for the position, and each man's capacity in this certain specialized direction. Imagine all men in college deciding on the captain of the football team, who among his playing, his ability as a leader, his general-ship! Or think of the college body electing the Editor-in-Chief of the college paper, not knowing what the quality of his work is, not knowing his capacity as an organizer. The idea strikes us as nothing short of ridiculous.

The work in the editorial is a question shows an apparent lack of knowledge which is astounding. It will be perfectly evident to every thinking man in Kenyon College, and by this time perhaps, to the author himself that the methods thus far proposed are impossible, and that some other method of reform must be introduced.

Interesting Letter

Greene, Feb. 20, 1911

Dear Friend,

I was much pleased reading the last number of the Collegian, especially the article on "Borrowing." It seems to be an incurable epidemic. During my days at Kenyon we burned coal in the lamps, some of the students were forever borrowing oil. Mn roommate and I each had a can. The empty we kept under the bed and the full we kept under the bed out of sight.

Another class of beggars would "borrow" postage stamps, stationery, etc.

Now Uncle Sam required cash for postage stamps, and cash was not very plentiful with us. In fact I had sometimes to borrow a dime to buy two copies of the Reveille.

As regards Prea Peirce's sermon on behavior in church I fully endorse. Students should conform to the customs of the Episcopal church, and we Episcopalians should conform to the customs of the Presbyterian church—Christian courtesy teaches us to.

I enjoyed so thoroughly my visit to Old Kenyon last October that I hope to be present next Commencement.

Yours sincerely,

ALLAN NAPIER, Class '87
THE GLEE

And Mandolin Clubs Give Their Annual Home Concert—Success.

On the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 14, the Glee and Mandolin Clubs gave their annual "Prom" concert in Rossie Hall. A large audience was present in spite of the fact that the management had raised the price of seats. Taken as a whole, the concert was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The clubs have not taken a trip this year. For that reason they had but a few rehearsals before the first concert.

The horses worthy of special mention were the "Barcarolle" by Offenbach, and "A Dapper Hussar" by Shelley. The Glee club rendered both of these songs extremely well by the concert which showed careful drill and training. The most noticeable defects in the club were their lack of attack and their awkwardness on the stage. These things do not easily go as easily go as rapidly as do the good voices and the splendid songs, it seems true that if given a trip, a club, after a little more practice, would be a credit to Kenyon.

The Mandolin club played several selections. Mr. Clark, the leader, is to be congratulated on the club he has formed. The material at hand, at the beginning of the year was very scanty, and it was the general belief that we would have no mandolin club this year. We are glad to see this department still in existence.

The solo work for the evening was rendered by Messrs. Cable, McCoawutt and Bood. Mr. J. H. Cable sang "Good Bye" by Tosti, while Mr. McCoawutt, the leader of the club, sang four very charming Indian love songs. Both numbers were rendered to satisfactorily and the audience showed its appreciation by the long applause.

The whistling solo of Mr. Hud- ley Bood, who has been absent from Gambier for the past year, was immensely enjoyed by every one. Mr. Bood is a very enter- taining as well as skillful whis- tler, and Kenyon audiences are al- ways eager to welcome him.

The program of the evening was as follows:

Part I.

1. Sonora—Glee and Mandolin Clubs.
2. Good Bye—Tosti.
3. A Dapper Hussar—Shelly.
5. The Rosary—Novin Glee Club.
7. O Lovey Night—(Barcelona)—Offenbach Glee Club.

Intemission.

Part II.

8. Four Indian Love Songs—(a) "Oodnam"—From the Hand of the Sky.
10. Selection—Quartette.
11. Mandolin Songs—(a) "Old Kentucky in the Days to Be."—Mr. Dool.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The Kenyon chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew is in a very flourishing condition. Through the last quarter regular meeting and meetings were held every Wednesday evening. For various reasons the meetings during the coming semester will be held on Thursday instead of Wednesday evening. Plans are being arranged to form a basketball team which will compete with the Y. M. C. A. teams of Mount Vernon. The primary reason for this is to encourage closer connections between these two organizations. During the remainder of the year the Brotherhood will hold meetings every Sunday evening in the Sterling room. At these meetings the students are addressed by some member of the faculty. Such meetings should be of invaluable help to students.

The membership of the Brotherhood is as follows:

Reinheimer
McCafferty

COLLEGE NEWS

Odds and Ends In and Around the College Campus.

The manager of the Reveille has thus far received about 125 or- ders for Reveilles from the Alumni. Orders were carded with the above result, which seems very good, as some, possibly, have not answered as yet.

The advertising spaces are being well filled up and the 1911 Reveille promises, so far, to be a good one financially.

A great many new cuts will appear in this Reveille, besides the new classes. Cuts always add to the attractiveness of a paper and the book will surely be deficient in the number of its cuts.

The Freshmen sweaters have arrived and linen collars are hard to find on any 1914 man just now. The jersey is maroon with white chest and arm bands and makes a mighty fine showing.

Beginning with this semester it will be necessary for men presenting chapel attendance slips from other churches to have them signed on certain cards printed by the college. These cards may be obtained from the Monitor at any time. In case you leave the Hill and find that you haven't the necessary blanks, drop a line and have a couple sent you.

At a meeting of the "Collegian" board, held in the Sterling Room on Feb. 17th, Mr. Dempsey, '12 was elected to membership on the editorial staff. Mr. Dempsey had been doing very efficient work as a reporter and will be a valuable acquisition to the board.

Mr. Kinder, '11, was also added to the staff. He was a member of the board last year but did not return to college until this semester, having taken up law work at Ohio State the first semester.

Professor Downey's class in Political Science is one of the largest ever taught in Kenyon, outside of the required courses. Already thirty-eight have enrolled in the course. A football rally or an Assembly can be held almost any time this class is in session.

New Men on the Hill.

The following new men have entered Kenyon for the second semester:

Karl E. Hower '13

(Michigan), of Marion, O.; Claude E. Carr, '14 (Reserve), of Cleveland; Ralph D. Morgan, of Detroit; Richard B. Hart, '14, of Sandusky; Warren W. Hop- wood, '14, and Benjamin S. Paris, '14, of St. Paul, Minn.; and Matthew B. Taylor, '14, (Case), of War- ren, O.

W. T. Kinder, '11 has resumed his work here as a seminar in the Law School at O. S. I. Clarence J. Black, '12, has re-entered Kenyon as a Sophomore.

Marquis C. Hockin, '13, has entered the University of Pittsburgh, and Alfred L. Stuckenberg, '14, has returned to his home in Chi- cago.

Sophomores Hop

Altoh we think of the Sopho- more Hop as an attraction of the future it will be upon us before we know it. This fact is fully re- flected in the committee, which is composed of the following men: Messrs. Allen, Glass, J. I. Kehne- lino, McMasters, Naumbaum, Skiles and Snyder. These men are doing their utmost to make the Hop a success and even at this early date have many of the arrange- ments made.

The class play and informal start the festivities on Thursday, May 12. For Friday afternoon a base ball game with Wooster has been arranged. This is to be followed in the evening by the Hop itself.

Saturday is to be devoted entirely to athletics. A tennis and track meet are scheduled with Wooster for the morning and af- ternoon respectively.

Nothing is being left undone and from the present outlook this will be one of the best Hops in years.

Cost of Census.

Director E. Dana Durand has submitted to Secretary Nagel, of the Dept. of Commerce and Labor, his annual report concerning the operations of the Bureau of Cen- sus during the year 1910. In 1900 the cost was $4,267,394. In 1910 it increased 37% 5%, but the director now believes this too low an estimate and he thinks, in view of the additional work required by Congress and for other reasons, that the cost will reach fully $14, 500,000.

Alumni Association of Philadelphia
The annual meeting and dinner of the Kenyon College Alumni Association of Philadelphia and vicinity was held on Monday evening, February 29th, 1911, at 7:30 p.m. at the University Club, 1510 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

The Association had as guests President Peirce, the Rev. J. Clayton Mitchell of Calvary Church, Germantown, Philadelphia and Rev. Cha. Fisher, a former instructor at Wesley Hall.

The dinner was most successful in every way, and the men were very enthusiastic over the progress the College had made during the past year as outlined to us by the President.

After the regular speeches of the evening there was a short business session at which Mr. Karl A. Williams of ’93 acted as Chairman. It was agreed by unanimous consent of those present that the present officers of the Philadelphia Association be continued in office for one year, and that the Committee on the Library appointed at the last previous annual meeting of the Association be continued also. There being no other business, the meeting resolved itself into a more or less informal discussion of the affairs at Gambier. The end of the discussion as Chairman of the Committee on the Library Fund for the Association of Philadelphia, I have to report that $750 was pledged by various members present at the dinner. This is in addition to the amount that the Philadelphia Alumni have already subscribed and paid in, which was $495, making a total amount of $1,245, that the Philadelphia Alumni Association has so far given toward the work.

Trusting that you will find space for this letter in your columns and that our meeting will be productive of bringing a great many of our members of the Association back to the Hill at Commencement time, I am

Yours very truly,
M. F. MAURY,
Secretary of Kenyon Alumni Association of Philadelphia.

one of Kenyon's most famous

"President Douglass, our relations with you have been so peculiar and interesting that we cannot depart without some faint expression of our thankfulness for the friendly manner in which you have uniformly treated us, and a public avowal of our high esteem for your character, and attachment to your person. During the eighteen months you have presided over the destinies of this institution, we have daily met you in terms of familiarity and confidence not often accorded to the pupil by his instructor. We are willing that it has been your ear-est desire to render our intercourse with you, not merely interesting, but pleasant and immeans of enjoyment by improving the natural advantages and beau-

"But I need not enumerate the obvious nor speak of those virtues of character which have won our affections' regard. It is enough to say that we have never doubted
the goodness of your intentions, but have at all times been confilies to defend your reputation and secure your happiness. Farewell!"

ALUMNI NOTES

Frederick Hess Hamm, '06, was married Dec. 29th, to Miss Katherine Snyder of Chillicothe, O., and is residing now in Columbus.

Silas Blake Axtell, '06, is managing director of Gordon House, which, said several years ago, when it was forced to close on account of certain legal action taken by the estate having a controlling interest in it, was one of the best known and most active of the numerous settlement houses in New York. Mr. Axtell took up the case and won it Jan. 12th, and is now striving to revive the work of the House. The building, which is but a few blocks from the General Theological Seminary, is large and well equipped, having a library and reading room, a weekly room, class rooms for the teaching of manual training, an excellent gymnasium, bowling alleys, and billiard and pool tables. Its purpose is to afford to the young men and boys of the neighborhood the advantages of a club house at practically no expense to them. Mr. Axtell and his wife make Gordon House their home. On Dec. 1st Mr. Axtell was appointed attorney in charge of the Seaman's Branch of the Legal Aid Society, a philanthropic organization with which he has been connected for the past four years. He was also appointed, on Jan. 1st, a member of the Local School Board in the district in which he lives, by Borough President McDougal, for a term of five years.

P. S. Cooper, ex-'08, is taking his Junior year at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, and is doing very excellent work.

C. F. Roberts, '06, is with the legal department of the Employers Liability Assurance Co., 29 Liberty St., New York, in a very satisfactory capacity.

The demand for the work of Coles Phillips, ex-'05, on the part of the public, through publishers and advertisers, has been so great during the last six months that he has been forced to turn down some very flattering offers. He has to do this, he says, because he must sleep and eat a little now and then. "Life" has signed him up for the covers of their special issues, which come out once a month, and he is now completing a series of six cover designs for the Ladies Home Journal, one of which recently appeared. "Vogue" and others are also paying top prices for his work, not to mention several big national advertisers. However, this does not prevent his holding down the barrows of the "Four-Quarters Quartet," which perpetuates musical monstrosities once or twice a week. A K. Taylor, '06, pipes second tenor, and rehearsals are usually held far out in the suburbs of New York.

The dinner of the New York Alumni Association, which is generally held during February of every year will be postponed this year until the latter part of April, as it was found impracticable to arrange it at the usual time.

The Hon. Worcester Marsh, Jr., of the class of 1808, and for forty years a member of the Cincinnati bar, died at his residence, 92 Chagrin Ave., Cincinnati, O., Monday evening, February 13, 1911, following an attack of bronchitis, the immediate cause. Death relieved sufferings from another internal disease which Mr. Morse had had for the last few years, and succeeded only after complications set in. Evidence of his strong determination not to "give in" is seen from the fact that just two weeks before his death he insisted on trying a case in the circuit court although so weak that he had to be practically carried to the court room by two sons. Incidentally he won the case. At his death his devoted wife and children were with him.

Mr. Morse was born in 1847 in Cincinnati, O. He was the son of Dr. Thomas V. Morse, founder and first president of the Eclectic Medical College and the leader of that school of medicine in the West. Mr. Morse was well acquainted with Bishop Philander Chase, founder of Kenyon College, and when Kenyon College was removed to Gambier from Worthington, the quarters at Worthington were for a time used by Dr. Morse for the dissemination of Eclectic teachings, but later the college was removed to Gambier where it is located today.

His father, dying while young, left the family of Dr. Morse moved to Gambier in 1842. Mr. Morse attended Millin Hall afterwards the Kenyon Military Academy. While at the academy Mr. Morse was under the command of Edwin Stanton, son of the great war secretary, when it was ordered to Cincinnati to guard the city against threatened invasion by General Morgan and again some time later by General Kirby-Smith.

He graduated from the college in 1868, being an honor man, a member of Psi Beta Kappa and Nu Psi Kappa. Two years later he took the master of arts degree and at the same time graduated and received the degree of LL.B. from the Cincinnati Law school.

Entering the practice of law in 1872 Mr. Morse continued active almost to his last day. He took an active interest in public affairs as well as in religious matters.

In 1884 Mr. Morse was united in marriage to Caroline Cam. Of the union five children were born, four of whom with the widow survive. They are: Thomas H. Morse, Winfield V., Morie, Albert C. Morse and Isabella G. Morse. His two sisters, Mrs. Estelle Kennedy and Mrs. Belle Davis who were educated in Gambier also survive. As a real American and true Kenyon man Mr. Morse lived a life singularly devoted to his country, his family, his church and his college.

An Interesting Letter

Norwalk, Ohio, Feb. 14, 1911.

Editor of The Kenyon Collegian, Gambier, O.

My Dear Sirs and Protectors:

Your note of Feb. 6th has reached me, and I have perused its columns from Alpha to Omega and enjoyed it very greatly.

I was however, quite surprised at the errors in the interesting note from Bro. Geo. B. Pratt of '92.

His statement as to the date of the first publication of The Collegian is correct and I must claim to have been Vol. I, No. 1, but surely he did not have it before him when he wrote his article, or he would not have erred in the initials of the editors. You find the correct names of the editors of Vol. I, to be as follows:

David DeForest Benedict...
Norwalk, O.
George T. Chapman, Cleveland, O.
James T. Nettles...
Cleveland, O.
Frederick Devoe Tunnard...
Louisiana.

All indeed have passed away, but not one of them has passed from the memory of any Kenyon boy who was in the dear old college from '94 to '98.

Hoping that Bro. Pratt will not take my corrections too seriously, and that you will excuse me for troubling you in the matter, I am with love for old Kenyon and her sons, Very truly yours,

HENRY S. MITCHELL

Childs graduated from Yale law school in June and is a member of the class of '99 of Kenyon. He is well known among Ohio football men against whom he competed for several years.

Kenneth Luthby

Kenneth Luthby of class of '98 was one of the few victimes to the horrible explosion which took place in New York for a few weeks ago. He was crossing the Hudson on a ferry at the time of the accident and was thrown clear across the deck of the ferry-boat but was not seriously injured. He was however somewhat stunned by the awful concussion.

Infantile paralysis has claimed, for its victims two Fresmonds of Princeton.
