Made Splendid Showing in Big Six -- Ties with Reserve for 5th Place.

Kenyon came back in a start-ling manner in this Big Six -- "the Six" -- and if she had been repre-sented by a complete track team instead of a few picked men, there is no question but what she would have come out ahead of both Wesleyan and Reserve and thus occupied fourth place.

With only five men entered and three of these entered merely for the sake of experience, Kenyon beat Denison, Wooster, Case, Wittenberg, O. N. U. and O. U. At the same time she tied Reserve, who entered about fifteen men and was only 2 2:5 points be-hind Wesleyan, who came away with a sixteen men, a coach, trainer and three hundred rooters.

The big race of the day was be-tween Baker of Oberlin and Wilkoff of State in the two mile. Baker, after winning the mile was defeated by his rival who had been kept up for this event. The two miles was run in 9 min-utes and 45 seconds, thus break-ing the state record.

Shelton of Ohio State also broke the pole vault record, clearing the bar at 11 ft. 3 in. Cooke of State broke the broad jump record by clearing 22 ft. 11¼ in. A few of the surprises of the meet were furnished by the defeat of McCoy by Cooke of State, and the winning of the half and quarter by Clark of Miami.

Axel of Kenyon seemed Ken-yon's only first in years by hurl-ing the discus 134 ft. 4½ in.

Captain Mason won Kenyon's other points by broad jumping 22 ft. 3½ in. and thus resulting second place.

Weaver, Kenyon's only entry in the dashes, was eliminated in the semi-finals. Kenyon ran a pretty half but was in no condition for a graceful finish, and fell back towards the end. Little, entered in the low hurdles, fell and lost his chance to come home with a medal. Summary:

Pole vault -- Shelton (O. S. U.) won; Drieschock (W. R.) second; Sullers (Miami) third; Bone (State); Vawter (W. O. U.) and

SOPHOMORE

Class Prove Excellent Hosts

-- Undoubtedly Best Hop in Recent Years.

On the evening of May 19th, in Rose Hall occurred one of the most beautifully appointed events in the history of Kenyon col-lege, namely, the Sophomore Hop of the class of nineteen thirteen. It was an extremely hot night, but nearly an hundred and fifty enthusiastic showed their dare-gard of weather conditions and their esteem for the everlasting Kenyon spirit by their attendance. The old hall was handsomely ar ranged, fresh and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Yards of mauve and white bunting, the college colors, interspersed with dog-wood blossoms, adorned the walls. Wires were stretched in opposite directions about ten feet from the floor and these supported great numbers of dogwood branches which were wavered in desultory fashion numerous electric lamps of varying colors, thus giving the extremely pleasing effect of a lawn party. The colors were those of the sororities which was fastened with dog-wood boughs, there was hung a placard bearing the numerals 1913 in mauve and white electric lights. The orchestra, which was Jack son's, must not be dismissed with a summary mention, for it occupied a most prominent position on the stage. Little cozy corners, provided with several sets and arm chairs were arranged by the draping of bunting and dogwood boughs, and filled the spaces on each side of the stage.

The dancing began at nine o'clock and continued until nearly four-thirty Saturday morning, dancer being served during the thirteenth through the sixteenth dances, in the balcony, which was uniquely draped in orange and black bunting, the class colors. The orchestra proved to be very efficient in its rendition of the twenty-eight specially selected pieces and it received numerous encore's from the dancers.

The Hop committee composing Messrs. Allen, Koebling, Skiles, Nusbaum, Snider, Wheaton and

Glass, deserve much credit and praise for their earnest work in making the event such a success.

Iolanthe

Cecil Krieg insisted upon holding his golden colored wand in the same position as a baseball bat. Fred Clark said that he couldn’t sleep nights because of awful dreams. Bill Allen had a hard time making people understand that he was only a fairy down to the waist. Homer Jewitt danced around like a fish out of water while Pick Glass kept saying, “I am pardoned!” as he came out of a well.

All of these quite remarkable proceedings on the part of persons quite law abiding and sane at other times of their lives took place at Ross Hall on Saturday evening, May twentieth when the Sophomore class presented “Iolanthe.” As far as possible the cast was composed of second year men and under the leadership of Walter McCowatt, aided by Fred Hardness at the piano, the boys worked hard and long to make its success a reality.

The principal features of the production were the singing and dancing of the fairies in real Arcadian costume and the light, striking, yard steps of some of the boys will long be remembered with a smile. Fred Clark as the Lord Chancellor and Bill Allen as Strephon handled their parts in excellent style while Jack Harris made a beautiful and loving Phyllis. In a bright red soldier suit ‘Babe’ Cook acted the part of Private Willis, while Celia, Fiji, and Leila gave an exhibition of graceful arm swinging and dancing. Cecil Krieg was the Queen of the Fairies.

The music of “Iolanthe,” like the Mikado, has many catchy songs and dances and the duet in the first act which was sung by Phyllis and Strephon was the song hit of the show. The Southern Theatre orchestra of Columbus greatly added to the quality of the songs and dances. For a class production the opera was a huge success. The cast follows:

The Lord Chancellor, Fred Clark
Earl of Mountararat, Glenn Skyles
Earl Tolloller, . . . . , Tess Clements
Private Willis, . . . . , Babe Cook
Strephon, (An Arcadian Sheperd) . . . . , Bill Allen
Queen of the Fairies, Cecil Krieg
Iolanthe, (A Fairy, Strephon’s Mother) Pick Glass
Phyllis, (An Arcadian Shepherdess, and in love with Strephon) . . . . Cuttie Harris

The Stires Debate

Various causes have rendered it necessary to change the subject of the Stires prize debate. Instead of forest conservation, the question which is now being discussed in the preliminary debates is “Open or Closed Shop.” This subject has also been debated in Dr. Reeves’ English II, the question being as to whether or not the union shop violates the constitutional liberty of the United States citizen.

It is greatly to be deplored that our men are showing so little interest in this debate. Either of the prizes offered is large enough to justify any one in making at least an earnest effort. The Sophomores and Freshmen will do well to participate in the preliminaries, and thereby prepare themselves for the time when they will be eligible to enter the Stires contest.

THE PLAY

"The Fighting Chance"—Caused Great Amusement
To Hop Visitors.

On the Thursday night of Hop Week, the theatre-going public of Gambier and many visitors were allowed to witness the "Fighting Chance," an original farce, written, staged and enacted by Kenyon men.

The scene of the "Fighting Chance" is at Cannabis Island in the southern Atlantic; time, the present. The curtain rises and discloses a varied crowd of shipwrecked people slumbering on the beach. Mrs. Gotrox, a rich and charming widow; Lord Dedbroke, of England; and Isidore Goldstein of New York, both of whom are dazzled by Mrs. Gotrox's beauty, are for diamonds. Murphy, Lord Dedbroke's valet, and Willis Holm, a "coon walkin' to work." The party are discovered by Clarence, a corpulent and hungry cannibal chief, while Holm saves himself and his companion from being devoured, by discovering that Clarence is a brother Mason; and Clarence agrees to forego the pleasure of a banquet in return for Mrs. Gotrox's diamond necklace. Isidore Goldstein, however, believes that he has won Mrs. Gotrox's heart and also her necklace. The sacrifice is too much for him; he astounds the party by grabbing the diamonds from the chief's hands and escaping into the jungle. At the critical moment a sail appears far out at sea, and the party are rescued.

The farce itself was a credit to the authors, Moses, Siddall, Clark, Clements and Anderson. With the exception of one or two places, it was humorous and entertaining from beginning to end. The acting of the whole cast was good, Mr. Siddall as Mrs. Gotrox and Mr. Clark as Willis Holm doing particularly well.

The following was the cast:

Lord Dedbroke, J. W. Clements
Isidore Goldstein, E. M. Anderson
Willis C. Holm, F. G. Clark
Mrs. Goldie Gotrox, K. T. Siddall
Murphy, K. B. O'Ferrall
Clarence, P. M. Lewis

An estimate recently made and conservative in the extreme, based upon statistics gathered by the Utah Bureau of Statistics for 1919-1921, places the yearly earning power of the Utah Agricultural college at about six million dollars.

INTERCLASS MEET

On Saturday, May 13, the class track teams met on Bison field in the annual inter-class track meet. The Sophomores came off with the laurels of victory, defeating the Freshmen thereby "upsetting the deck" and violating tradition. Two college records were broken. Lewis breaking the hammer record and Carr the high hurdle. Mason was the big point winner for the Seniors; Axteill for the Juniors; Kroeg, Siddall, Marty for the Sophomores; and Carr, Carey and Lewis for the Freshmen. The track was in poor condition, and the time was not exceptionally fast in any race except the high hurdles.

The final score: Sophomores, 57; Freshmen, 44; Juniors, 19; and Seniors, 11.

Intercollegiate Examinations.

The results from the Intercollegiate Press examinations which were held the week of May 15-21, were received recently and show that John C. Crawford won first prize of $100 in the Sophomore Pressman Latin examination. This is a very great honor, and "John" is to be congratulated on obtaining it.

The Reveille for 1911

The college year book for 1911 appears today. It is a little later than usual, because it was the desire of the Reveille board this year to get in as much of the spring athletics as the time would permit. The Junior class is endeavoring to close its year with a clean financial sheet, and it is respectfully urged that the college students as well as the alumni who have subscribed for the year's Reveille will aid in this effort. The bank situation in Gambier this spring has embarrassed the Junior class somewhat, but prompt settlement for the Reveille copies received will assist materially. Remittances should be addressed to Mr. R. A. Weaver, Gambier, O.

Ohio Intercollegiate Press Association

At a meeting of the editors and business managers of nine of the leading college papers of the state held in Delaware on May 12, the Ohio Intercollegiate Press association was organized. Its purpose is to make closer and more intimate relations between the college papers in the state. Its next meeting will be at Columbus during the fall. Kenyon was represented at this meeting by R. A. Weaver and Phil Porter.

help. Send in accounts of Kenyon meetings, or at least call our attention to them.

We realize that there will be shortcomings in the paper during the coming year. The reader must bear these. But improvements will be more prompt, if all criticisms and corrections are sent duly to the editor. Don’t let them rooth him in a round about way.

With the earnest hope that the coming year might see increased interest in the Collegian on the part of both alumni and students, the editor sends this his first isto press.

RECENT FACULTY RULING

At a recent meeting of the Faculty, rules were adopted which will be of interest to the undergraduates. Under the new ruling, men receiving "I" in any three hour course will be given two and one-half hours credit in the course. Men receiving "F" in any three hour course will be given but two hours credit.

It was the purpose of the faculty in adopting such rules, to discourage students from making superior scholarship, and at the same time, to pass rules which would disourage poor work. As a result of this, the students will be induced to exert a greater effort in the work they are carrying.

Looking at the rules from the standpoint of the student body, we cannot but commend the faculty in the stand which they have taken. Such rules will eliminate the conditional examinations, and for the most part, conditional examinations. With the new ruling, there will be more than two or three weeks’
of "dreading," with no educational value to the student and much unnecessary labor for the professor.

More than this, superior scholarship will be encouraged by the system of extra credits.

Taken as a whole, the rules
have met with general approval among the men on the "hill" and we predict that there will be less "I"s" given in the future.

THE END

The end of all things must come but thought does not make it easier for any of us to realize this. But it is true that we have become interested. Just a year ago the Collegian made the annual change and the editor at that time started out with much hope and many fears on his long journey, as the pilot who was to take the paper through the troubled editorial seas. Some of his hopes have been realized and many of his fears have come true;
but the end is here; the last copy
has been sent in and the last proof been read.

No one can say that the year has been a success or a failure.
Some Editor, which received their initial impetus this year, may some time work to the good of the paper and the school. In that way we will feel that we have not failed entirely. The illustrated numbers, while infrequent, should lead to more interest in that line and the new credit system for editors should put the paper on a more substantial basis. If, as I said before, these things develop as they seem to promise, then we will be able to forget the troubles which beset us so often throughout the year.

It is with the hope that the Collegian will always prosper and will ever reflect the glory and spirit of Kenyon, that we extend our pen and once more seek the obscenity that an ex-editor always finds welcome.

Bank Fails, May 16-Great Excitement is Caused Thereby.

The general interest of Kenyon men in economics and finance, as well as their appreciation of telegraph lines as public utilities, increased a number of points on May 16, when the only savings and deposit bank in Gambier was closed by state officials, three days prior to the Sophomore Hop.

Without a moment’s hesitation
from Columbus locked the door, and posted thereon a sinister looking document, which mentioned “Liquidation of Capital” and “Thirty” days as terms of closing.

After the first shock had passed,
and the luckless depositors realized the serious condition of affairs, a wild rush to the telegraph office began. Some, more desperate than others, kept the telephone lines active. A few, whose sources of revenue is near Gambier, hurried home to consult Peter.

For a time it appeared as though the Hop would die. The entire wealth of the committee was, alas! too safely stored away with such in which we are not concerned. Wealth, then, to the Revelle was considered by some as a dead issue. The Collegian was reported in the same condition, and the various class banquet were dropped like hot potatoes. But the “fifty-words-for-the-price-of-a-night letter” solved the problem,
and a few days later everybody was ready for Hop Week. With plenty of the radix malorum.

A consulting feature has been found in Inspector Holmes. He has made a number of friends among Kenyon men, and is looked to as a saviour to redeem the many cheques and deposit slips now pigpened. Despite the momery financial stringency, the bank failure caused many a jest,
and is now only a fleeting memory.

The NEW YEAR

With this issue of the Collegian
a new editor, board and management assume their respective responsibilities. We trust that under our guidance the Collegian
may thrive to the glory of Kenyon.

Perhaps an explanation is due
from the board for the long interval which has elapsed since the last issue. Work was all assignment, and plans were made to publish a Collegian on May 19, but the closing of Gambier’s only bank, in which the Collegian
was a heavy loser, compelled the board to give up the idea of publishing two issues in May. The readers must must, excuse the tardiness of the issue, on account of financial matters which could not be avoided.

During the coming year, it will be the earnest endeavor of the editor and board to publish the paper on time, and to put good reading matter in the columns.
With the exception of the annual Revelle, the Collegian is Ken-yon’s only publication. Its contents shall be good and we hope will be interesting to alumni as well as students.

The paper is not put out excessively by the board. It is the organ of students and alumni.
Let us know that we have your

Kenyon Defeats Denison—Defeated in the Other Three Games.

Wesleyan 9—Kenyon 5
At Delaware

Until the eighth inning Kenyon had O. W. U. in hand but our regular blow-up occurred at that time and when the fire-works were over, Weskeyan had scored four runs and won. Young was a puzzle to the Methodists during the game and it was only after he retired from the box that they exhibited any batting ability.

Kenyon 3—Denison 2
On May 12, Kenyon redeemed her former defeats by defeating Denison. The game was interesting from start to finish. The first inning seemed to indicate an easy victory for the visitors but Kenyon managed to score enough runs to defeat her opponents. The game was the best seen on Benson field this season. Wooster 14—Kenyon 10
On May 20 Kenyon again met defeat at the hands of the Wooster team on Benson field. Though tired out by the gay festivities of Hop Week, the team put up a plucky fight until the ninth inning. The first man up for Wooster was passed, the next one made a hit, and then occurred the usual ascension. Four runs were scored that inning, and seven more in the ninth. Kenyon succeeded in making two runs in the last inning, but the lead of the visitors was too great to surmount.

The Oberlin Game

The baseball game at Oberlin on Saturday, June 16, differed but little from the preceding games of the season. Kenyon as usual started off like a winner only to take a couple of airship flights for the benefit of the opposing team. Young pitched fine ball and with support he deserved would have beaten Oberlin. Nobols also deserves a great deal of credit for his consistent pitching.

The runs were scored as follows:
In the second inning Axtell hit to right field and through the fielder's error got to third; Marty hit a single through the infield scoring Axtell, but was caught off second a moment later. Another error put Mc Master on second and a hit by Wickham scored him. In the eighth nice headwork by Harris scored the other run. Oberlin's two runs in the third inning and three of the five scored in that awful seventh were due entirely to errors when two were out. Their two earned runs were the result of good consistent base ball.

TENNIS TEAM

Proves Kenyon’s Only Consistent Winner – Wins Doubles at O. W. U.

Minnesota vs. Kenyon

Kenyon's tennis enthusiasts were given an unusual treat when the erack team from the University of Minnesota came to Gannon May 15th to play our own experts. Kenyon was beaten, but put up a fight that was very creditable against what is probably one of the two best college tennis teams in this country. Since playing here, Minnesota had won a match from the University of Pennsylvania, beaten Princeton in doubles and Yale in singles. Everything in the West was easy for them and probably on their own courts they would be more of a match for any of the Eastern teams.

As Conference rules did not apply to these games, Manchester of the class of 1914, was eligible to play and was pitted against Adams, winner of the Minnesota State Championship in last year's tournament. Manchester played a cool, steady game but his more experienced opponent took two sets in succession, 6-1, 6-0.

Marty played against Armstrong, who though Only a Sophomore at Minnesota, held the State Championship before Adams and is picked to win it again this year. Marty made him work hard for every point, and, had he been in normal form, would have given on the Northern the match of his life. Armstrong took both sets by the same score, 6-3, 6-3.

In the doubles by a superb display of team work as well as clever individual play, the Minnesota men again won in straight sets from Marty and Manchester, who had not had sufficient practice together. Scores: 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Wooster vs. Kenyon

On Friday afternoon of Hop Week, May 19th, Kenyon strengthened her claim to the State Championship by defeating the Wooster tennis team in both singles and doubles. The Wooster team was composed of Avison and Fulton, both of whom are experienced players and who gave our men a very interesting contest. However, Marty and Beatty improved as the season grows older, especially in their team play and the result of a two singles match was really never in doubt.

Beatty played Avison, who is a hard worker and plays a very steady game. In the first set every game was closely fought, with honors very nearly even, but the Wooster man seemed to weaken in the later games. The afternoon sun was so hot as to make the play really hard work. Beatty took these sets: 6-4, 6-1.

The visitors had saved Fulton to try his hand in the Marty but as the latter was in his best form the Wooster man was no match for him at all. Although he had everything his own way, Marty's own spectacular play made the game a very interesting one to the spectators. The scores were 6-1, 6-1.

Both Kenyon players took a slump in the first game of the doubles but came back strong and took the last two easily. The feature of the three sets was the team play of Marty and Beatty. Scores: 5-7, 6-3, 6-0.

Oberlin vs. Kenyon

On Saturday, June 3, the Kenyon tennis team comprising Marty and Beatty went to Oberlin and showed their superiority by defeating the Oberlin team. Represented by Marty and Beatty, the score on the one set as follows: 6-0, 6-4, 6-4.

Marty won his sets.

Intercollegiate Tennis

In the intercollegiate state championship tournament held at Delaware, May 25th, Kenyon, represented by Marty and Beatty, made a very good showing. Marty, however, opposed a very skillful player in Antony of Miami, and was defeated in the singles. The Kenyon team, however, won the intercollegiate state championship in doubles.

At the last meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Director—Frederick G. Hartness; Vice Director—Don C. Wollard; Secretary—W. C. McMaster; Treasurer—P. G. Russell.

The Brotherhood has been very prosperous this past year under the guidance of William A. Thomas. He has worked hard and diligently and has built up the membership considerably.
The Prize Examinations

The Intercollegiate Prize Examinations were held on Tuesday, May 16. The following Kenyon men took the examinations in the subjects mentioned: Adams in Junior-Senior Mathematics; Harkness and Watson in Senior-Junior Latin; Crawford in Freshman-Sophomore Latin; McMast and Weida in Freshman-Sophomore Mathematics. As yet nothing has been heard as to the result, but we have great hopes in these men who represent some of the best talent that Kenyon possesses.

Resolutions Adopted by Assembly

In as much as a report has been recently circulated in college, that Prof. E. H. Downey, of the Department of Economics, has not as yet been announced as retaining that position for the coming college year, the Kenyon College Assembly adopts the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the Department of Economics has been conducted in the past year, in a manner that merits the hearty endorsement of the student body.

2. Resolved, That Prof. Downey has at all times shown himself in full accord with the spirit of Kenyon and Kenyon men.

3. Resolved, That it is to the best interest of the college, as represented by the faculty and student body, that Prof. Downey be retained in the chair of Economics.

4. Resolved, That the Kenyon College Assembly wish to see everything done that may serve to accomplish this end.

5. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Prof. Downey, that a copy be printed in the next issue of the Collegian and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Kenyon Assembly.

To Kenyon Assembly:

I wish to express to your committee, and through your committee to the Kenyon Assembly, my very warm appreciation of the high compliment paid me by the Assembly. Nothing gives a teacher so much satisfaction as the good will of his pupils, as nothing causes him so great misery as their antagonism.

In six years of teaching I have never received so cordial treatment as at the hands of Kenyon students, nor ever passed so pleasant a year. I shall, therefore, gladly avail myself of the opportunity to remain at Kenyon.

Sincerely yours,

E. H. DOWNEY.

Nathaniel Pendleton Dandridge

On Sunday, November ninth, Nathaniel Pendleton Dandridge left us. Doctor Dandridge, loved of his neighbors because he was a great man among them; loved of his profession because of his unswerving loyalty to it; loved of his patients, best of all, because of his self sacrifice and devotion to their welfare, and loved of all men of Kenyon college because he was a son of Kenyon, who ever bore in mind the old college on the Hill, its best aims, its needs, its dignity and its welfare.

The men of Kenyon college of Cincinnati, through their Alumni Association express their great sorrow in the loss of one who was always among them in their gatherings—one who will be missed—and those men of Kenyon college cherish the honor and privilege of having been the friends of Nathaniel Pendleton Dandridge.

After a study of the records of the students after admission to college, Dean Jones, of Yale, reaches the conclusion that "public high school candidates are not so well prepared when they enter college, but, as a class, make better students after admittance than boys prepared in private schools."

The colored students at the University of Indiana have organized a colored national fraternity which is called Kappa Alpha Nu.

GLEE CLUB

Of Harcourt Place School
Delightfully Entertains

A Large Audience.

On the evening of May 4th, 1911, a large audience assembled in Rossie Hall to hear the Annual Concert of the Glee Club of Harcourt Place School. The great success of the "Japanese Girl" rendered last spring by the girls of Harcourt has not ceased to be remembered and equally great accomplishment was expected of this year's club. No one was disappointed. The work of the soloists backed by good steady support of the chorus was excellent and showed large and patient training. The program, some what larger than that usually undertaken by the average Glee Club, included only the most acceptable works, all of a high character.

There were many stars, but some of the work deserves special recognition. Miss Kenen made the opening number successful by her strong solo work and in Saint Saens "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voices" she handled a very difficult and correspondingly effective solo well.

Miss Gladys Hill delighted everybody in her "Still wie der Nacht." So successful was Miss Tschumy in singing Huntington Woodman's "Morning" that encore were demanded. Miss Rhoades and Miss Hofman had a great part in making the evening a success and their discharge their responsibility at the piano in a most praiseworthy manner.

COLLEGE NEWS

Professor Downey will spend the summer months in doing research work for the Iowa State Historical Society. He will be located at Iowa City.

J. Toward Russell was in Gambier during the week of May 8th, at which time he addressed the classes at Bethany.

Almost any time during the week one may see groups of students comfortably located in some shady spot on the campus. No, they are not class meetings but French and Economic classes holding their daily lectures. As yet these out-of-door classes are confined to two departments.

"Oy!" Axtell has accepted a position as lifeguard at Beach, Long Island for the summer months.

The University of Missouri is to have a new stadium. The work may be laid out by the students of the Engineering college.

There are 126 seniors who will graduate at Ohio Wesleyan.

A Swedish society, known as the Tegna, has been formed at the University of Nebraska.

Miami University has lately by produced the system of electing all officers of the many college activities upon one day. The success of the plan has not been astounding.

In 1909 the attendance at the football games on Franklin Field amounted to 10,138, in comparison with 8,996 during the season of 1910 at Pennsylvania.

Lecture—Eminent Scientist

Honor Kenyon with a Visit.

On Saturday, May 15, Kenyon was honored by a visit from Doctor Svante Arrhenius, of Stockholm, Sweden, who delivered a lecture on the Lawl Foundation. Those who attended the lecture may congratulate themselves on having seen and heard the greatest physical chemist in the world. In addition to being Director of the Noble Institute and a prominent instructor in the University of Stockholm, Doctor Arrhenius is the originator of the "Democracy Theory," which is familiar to all chemists. The subject of his lecture as first announced was "The Modern Idea of the Molecule," but in view of the fact that he was to address a general audience Doctor Arrhenius decided to speak, instead, of the planet Mars. He stated that there is every reason to believe that the planet is uninhabited, because the average temperature is too low to allow the existence of any form of animal life. He also spoke of the so-called "canals," which are visible on the surface, asserting that, according to his belief, they are great fissures, such as are often caused by earthquakes.

After the lecture a number of men were enabled, through the kindness of Doctor Weida, to meet Doctor Arrhenius at the home of the former. Here he spoke in a more technical manner of various matters of scientific interest, interspersing his remarks with anecdotes from the lives of a number of prominent scientists, several of whom were formerly his pupils.

ONLY 10,000 YEARS MORE

Swedish Professor Shortens Life on This Earth

That the earth will become uninhabited, like the planet Mars, was the prophecy made by Doctor Svante Arrhenius of Stockholm in a lecture at Augusta college, Maine, last year. Doctor Arrhenius, who won the Nobel prize in chemistry in 1908, declared two causes are operating to bring about extinction of life on earth—loss in heat generated by the sun and diminution of carbonic acid in the atmosphere.

However, Doctor Arrhenius explained, the earth will continue to give out the same amount of heat for at least a billion years. Dr. Arrhenius figured that no change would exist in the atmosphere in sufficient quantities to sustain vegetable life in 10,000 years.

Civic Club—Last Meeting of

Year

At the regular meeting of the Edwin M. Stanton Civic Club, May 15, the following officers were elected for next year, President, Don C. Wheaton; Vice President, J. J. Kohlhepp; Secretary-Treasurer, W. Bowman.

In the absence of Mr. Harper, Mr. Siddall read for him a paper on "Road Improvement in Knox County," and Mr. Bowman spoke on the recent disasters of corruption in the Ohio legislature.

Note was made of the fact that only four members will return next year, and plans were discussed for securing an additional number to cast a majority, so that the club may enjoy during the coming year a successful and useful existence.

Last Chapel for Seniors

At a quarter before eight o'clock on the morning of June third, the chimes in the Church of the Holy Spirit, ringing with seemingly and uplifted tones, called the members of the class of nineteen eleven to morning worship for the last time.

Killed in the customary academic gowns, the senior class numbering thirteen, escorted by the two college marshals, marched through the north entrance and down the nave to therer respective seats. The service began with the singing of the college hymn, "Oh God of Kenyon," followed by the Morning Prayer and Benediction.

The scene was as a whole an extremely and one; but, on the other hand, it exemplified the possibil- ity which awaits each one of us, namely, that of possessing the opportunity of holding the high est honors which this college offers.

Just prior to the dismissal President Peirce spoke very impressively of the real meaning of the college education, and of the great but yet unthought of benef- it, derived from faithful attendance at morning chapel.
