CHANGES HELD LEGAL

And Constitutional Amendments Ratified in Convention of Southern Diocese

Long Controversy Ended by Report of Referee to Whom Briefs Were Submitted

On Monday, May 20, the long awaited decision of the Hon. Lawrence Maxwell, on the validity of the proposed amendments to the constitution of Kenyon College, was given to the Diocese of Souther Ohio at Cincinnati, at the Convention. The opinion was favorable to the proposed changes, and the Convention officially ratified the decision. The constitution as amended will be effective after Commencement this June.

The history of the six years struggle to bring about these changes and the nature of the amendments is substantially as follovs:

On May 12, 1909, the proposed constitution was submitted to the Convention of the Diocese of Ohio, meeting in St. John's Church, Youngstown. After an animated debate this convention ratified the document by a considerable majority. Then on May 27, 1909, the constitution was presented to the Diocese of Southern Ohio, meeting at Springfield. But the convention decided not to listen to its debate on the main question but to refer the constitution to a commission to report to the Convention of 1910; at which time the Convention decided to ratify. In 1911 it was again voted upon by the amendments failed to pass.

Now, however, the constitution as amended has been ratified by both the Dioceses of Ohio and of Southern Ohio, and it will be effective at Commencement time this year.

Mr. Maxwell said in part:
"Gentlemen—You have submitted for our review whether certain proposed amendments to the constitution of Kenyon College are legal. They have been approved by the Trustees of the College and by the Convention of the Diocese of Ohio. To become effective

BEST HOP IN YEARS

Unanimous Verdict of Critics-- Minstrel Makes a Hit With Large Audience

The class of 1914 is certainly to be heartily congratulated upon the fine Sophomore Hop which was given on Friday evening, May 17. The fact that it was not quite as elaborate in decoration as some have been in the last two years does not in the least detract from the final verdict on the dance; on the other hand it redounds to the praise of the men who had the preparations in charge. It is simcerely to be hoped that coming classes will profit by the fine example set by the class of 1914.

The hall was simply and tastefully decorated with bunting in the class colors, maroon and white.
Alternating strips of color were fastened lengthwise about the walls of the hall, while above by the use of several wires running lengthwise across the hall at appropriate intervals alternate strips were carried across the hall.
The two cozy corners were fash-tioned with the same color scheme, as was also the balcony where the refreshments were served. The lighting was accomplished by the four large lights in the hall being lowered to the level of the bunting and an additional light being dropped in the center; each light was covered with either maroon or white bunting. The effect was very pleasant and refreshing.

Just a word about the music will be sufficient. Eight pieces from Johnson's Orchestra fur-ished the music; it is needless to say that it was fine. A program of 26 dances was specified, but owing to the great number of en-cores, only about two-thirds of the program was concluded when four o'clock rolled around.

The refreshments were served in the usual place—the balcony.
They were not elaborate but were decidedly good.

The dance was scheduled to begin at half past eight but it was nearer nine before the first dance was played. The party finally broke up about four o'clock the next morning. The music was ex-

To Participate in Athletics—Ohio Conference Grants Kenyon
Special Dispensation

"Kenyon may play her Freshmen until she reaches the enrollment she had when she entered the Ohio Conference in 1906." This was the good news brought back from Columbus by the Assembly committee of the morning af-er it had appeared before the members of the Ohio Conference in the behalf of Kenyon. A more fair adjustment of the Freshmen situation could not have been made and the manner in which the Conference considered our appeal and acted thereto is deserving of much appreciation. Especially are we indebted to the Wittenberg representative, for it was his suggestion that led to the final solution of the problem.

The Conference met at the Chitenden Hotel in Columbus on Friday evening, May 24, and it was nearly ten o'clock before the committee composed of Messrs.
Crawford, Bowlus and Wheaton was invited into the sanctum santorum for its hearing. Briefly but forcibly Mr. Crawford stated to the Conference the conditions existing here on the Hill and the necessity of our using Freshmen men. He also gave a short history of Kenyon's relationship to the Conference and showed how we have at all times striven for dean athletics and the abolition of the 'ringer.' It was pointed out by the committee that Kenyon made no threat to drop out of the Conference nor to abolish athletes but made the appeal to the ConfERENCE for permission to play Freshmen simply that she might gain upon her feet once more and able to compete with the Conference teams upon a somewhat equal footing. At the conclusion of Mr. Crawford's address many questions were asked by the various representatives as to the present and past enrollment of the college, its coaching system and other points bearing upon the subject. Dr. Reeves also spoke in favor of the playing of Freshmen and said that since Kenyon

Minnesota and Chicago Capture the Final Honors in Contests on the College Courts

With an unbroken string of victories in the state and a fair record against the great Universities of the West, Kenyon is again demonstrating her superiority at tennis. In spite of the loss of Frank Marty, former State champion, our team has met with greater success than ever before. Captain Beatty is playing even better tennis than last year, while Manchester is putting up a game that bids well to bring him into line for the Inter-Collegiate championship of Ohio. These two as a team should have little difficulty in taking the doubles championship.

Among the best exhibitions on the home grounds so far have been the matches with Minnesota and Michigan. The Minnesota experts once more succeeded in winning, but only against strong resistance. Manchester defeated our opponent easily in the first set and although Stellwagen became much stronger, he had no easy time in taking the next two sets and saving himself from defeat. The doubles were hard fought but finally went to Minnesota. Against Michigan Manchester succeeded in winning his match in straight sets and together with Beatty came off victorious in a fast doubles contest. Manchester and Beatty play together exceptionally well, making rather easy work of most of their opponents in this branch of the game.

Against Ohio Wesleyan Beatty and Manchester each won in singles and so the match goes to Kenyon, even though they did fail to carry off the doubles. Jenkins was substituted for Beatty in this match and although he played well the combination was not so effective.

On a recent trip Ohio State and Miami Universities were defeated.

Beatty took all three events, but only by hard playing. Beatty, by use of a deceptive service, obtained a lead of 5-3 in the first set and brought the score to 40-15 in the ninth game when Manchester rallied and by a splendid exhibition succeeded in winning the set and later the match. Beatty made a similar rally the same afternoon, taking his first set after the score was 3-2 against him. In the matches with Miami, Jenkins was entered in both singles and doubles, in place of Capt. Beatty and made a good showing. Kenyon winning the day by taking one of the singles and the doubles. The men spoke highly of the treatment they received at Oxford, where they played before a large crowd, but reported little interest in tennis at the State University.

On Monday, May 27, the fast University of Chicago team came to Gambier and met Beatty and Manchester on the College courts. Beatty was rather exhausted after Senior exams and a long automobile trip and hardly showed his usual form. Manchester put up a good fight but the superior endurance of the visitors finally brought them the victory.

The scores of the various matches follow:

May 15—Kenyon vs. Minnesota. Armstrong defeated Beatty 6-2, 6-1. Stellwagen defeated Manchester 6-2, 6-4, 6-3. Armstrong and Stellwagen defeated Beatty and Manchester 7-5, 6-1.

May 18—Kenyon vs. Ohio Wesleyan. Manchester defeated Caldwell 8-6, 6-2. Beatty defeated Bradley 6-3, 6-2. Caldwell and Bradley defeated Manchester and Jenkins 9-7, 6-4.

May 25—Kenyon vs. Ohio State. Manchester defeated Hattock 8-6, 6-1. Beatty defeated Zuck 8-6, 6-4. Beatty and Manchester defeated Hattock and Zuck 6-3, 6-5.

May 27—Kenyon vs. Chicago. Squires defeated Beatty 6-0, 6-3. Green defeated Manchester 6-4, 6-4. Squires and Green defeated Beatty and Manchester 7-5, 6-1.

State Wins Big Six

Ohio State won the Big Six meet held at Columbus on Friday, May 24 coming out of the fight with 58 points to her credit. Ohio Wesleyan was second with 34 points. Oberlin slid in third, with 26 points. Cincinnati Red 11, Miami 8, Denison 6, Case 2, Wooster 2 and Ohio Northern 1.

The following is taken from the Columbus Citizen of May 17:

"Bill" Thompson, former Cleveland prep school football star and present trainer of the Kenyon track team, had a lot of fun introducing his team to rivals at the Chittenden hotel.

"Meet my team," Thompson said, "Mr. Weaver, Mr. . . . . , Mr. Weaver, who entered in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes, was the only representative to arrive up to now. He had with him two managers and a trainer. Carey and Little, both carrying Kenyon colors, were expected to arrive in time for the meet."

The following were the out-of-town visitors during the Hop festivities:

John Grossman and Carl Jones of Columbus, Messes Winifred Platt, Ruth Balsom, Helen Shimmow and Jennings; Mr. Ray Morehouse of Mt. Vernon, Miss Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Gilger, Messrs. THE COBURN TROUPE

Present Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night"--Weather Forces Production Indoors

An event of great interest and one that was entirely out of the ordinary course of affairs at Kenyon took place on the evening of Wednesday, May 20, when the Coburn Players presented Shakespeare's comedy, "Twelfth Night." The production was focused towards to get a wide deal of enthusiasm and witnessed by a large and appreciative audience.

It is not our purpose to criticize the work of the Coburn Players from an artistic point of view. But it does them only small justice to say that there was not a dull moment during the entire evening. Shakespeare's sparkling wit and brilliant play on words were given clever expression and were coupled with very appropriate actions on the part of the players. The parts of Malvolio and Sir Andrew Aguecheck were especially well rendered. The former, with his mad infatuation for the Lady Olivia, and the latter with his effeminate attempts at valor, were a constant source of amusement. The charmingly simple stage setting of green leaves was also highly pleasing. It is a safe to say that there was scarcely a person who did not enjoy and appreciate "Twelfth Night," and no doubt there were many in whom a greater enthusiasm for the Elizabethan drama was aroused.

Dr. Peirce's Trip

Between the dates May 16 and May 29 Dr. Peirce visited and made addresses at the high schools in each of the following places: Xeniua, Springfield, Sidney, Piqua, and also at the Miami Military Institute at Germantown, O. During this sojourn away from Gambier, he also attended the Diocesan Convention of Northern Ohio, held in Cleveland, and the Diocesan Convention of Southern Ohio, which was held in Cincinnati.

UP-TO-DATE SURGERY

Topic of Master of the Knife--Dr. Baldwin, of Columbus, Discusses Methods

On Friday evening, May 10, Dr. Baldwin, chief surgeon of Grant Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, and one of the leading men in operative surgery in Ohio, delivered a most interesting and instructive address to the student body of Kenyon.

The title of his address was "Modern Surgery and Medicine," and he dealt with his subject in such an informal and pleasing manner that every one present, regardless of those contemplating the study of medicine, was intensely interested in all that he had to say. As Dr. Baldwin, eliminated from his address as many of the technical terms as possible, his subject matter was clearly understood by everyone. He began by telling of the awful suffering existing prior to the discovery of anesthesia, and for surgical purposes and then he treated in detail the various stages in the gradual development of operative surgery up to the present time. He expressed his sincere gratitude for having had the opportunity to live just at this time, while many and frequent progressions are being made in surgery.

One interesting statement made by Dr. Baldwin is to be noted. After assuming that everyone present had heard of the so-called "hall of fame" he informed the audience that in this "hall of fame" there were represented many eminent statesmen, numerous authors and countless clergyman, but not a single doctor of medicine.

An informal reception and smoker was held immediately after the lecture in the parlor of South Mansa where the student body had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Baldwin personally and listening to some of the interesting experiences he has had.

Thirty-eight per cent of the students at North Dakota University earn all the money necessary to put themselves through school.

The Cornell wrestling team in recently defeating Lehigh has a record of being undefeated this season.

At Miami the grades of all students are made public at the end of each semester.

We have received a letter from a man who is not a Kenyon Alumnus, but who is greatly interested in Kenyon. He has asked us to look after a prospective Freshman, whom he is going to send here for Commencement Week. This is only an example of what is happening. Every year two or three of the men who enter college owe their presence here to him. The circumstances are such that he can have no other motive in bringing men here than to work for Kenyon.

If every Kenyon man should bring as many Freshmen to the Hill as he does, we would have an existing class of more than two thousand next fall. That would be about twenty or thirty times too large, to be sure, but this does seem to us that if one man, not a Kenyon Alumnus, having no special interests on the Hill, and with no special opportunities, can bring two or three men per year to Kenyon, the rest of us, about five hundred endowed alumni and undergraduate students, ought to manage to get a respectable number of Freshmen here next year.

It is not a difficult matter to bring a man to college. The most effective method is to get him up here and let him see the Hill. This is almost sure to win over a man who hasn't set his heart on going to any other college. If it is not possible to have him visit the Hill, tell him all about it. Make him aware of Kenyon and saturate him with Gambler. Show him just what kind of a college it is. Talk to his parents and get them on your side. This is one of the important things which is usually forgotten. Show them the Pictures of Kenyon, and the recent book on Kenyon Life, which the college has published. Show the prospective Kenyon man and his parents what Kenyon is and how a general thing will bind you man. The only prerequisites are enthusiasm and a knowledge of Kenyon.

This summer look up some fellow who has the 'ninking' of a good Kenyon man, and bring him back to the Hill with you next fall. Don't be far out-done by the men whose work for Kenyon we mentioned above.

Commencement

The last issue was really the Commencement number since it contained the complete program of the farewell week. However, lest you forget, we once more give a brief account of what awaits your coming on the Hill from June 14-18.

The arrangements for Commencement week have been practically settled and the committees can now promise the College and Alumni that something worth while will be going on all the time. The Promenade Concert after the Senior Play on Saturday night should be the most successful of the evening. The President of Kenyon College will probably be there that evening, whereas in other years a great number of the men have left for home.

The costumes used by the Taile-students will probably be rented by the Seniors for their play and this will assure absolute regularity and unusual elaboration of the performance.

An effort is being made to bring the Mount Vernon band over here for Monday and Tuesday afternoon and have them play in front of Old Kenyon. Kenyon will have more money for its college band than ever before and because the entire College will be there that evening, whereas in other years a great number of the men have left for home.

The costumes used by the Tail-drama club will probably be rented by the Seniors for their play and this will assure absolute regularity and unusual elaboration of the performance.

factive—they must be approved by the two Bishops in Ohio, neither of whom has yet acted, and also by the Convention of the Diocese of Southern Ohio. In submitting the question to you we are acting under a resolution adopted at the Convention of the Diocese of Southern Ohio, held in May, 1881, which recites that differences of opinion exist among learned and able lawyers as to the legality of the proposed amendments, and provides for your appointment with authority to submit 'the legal and equitable aspect of the said proposed amendments' to a counsel to be selected by you. The resolution instructs you to report to the next Convention the opinion of counsel and if the opinion of said counsel sustains the legality of said proposed amendments by the next Convention. If, on the other hand, the opinion of said counsel shall be adverse to the legality of said proposed amendments upon any substantial point, the resolution is further instructed to report against the adoption of said amendments by the next Convention, but may make such recommendations or suggestions upon the subject as they may feel advised to make.

In view of the effect thus provided to be given to my opinions in a matter of so much importance, it is hardly necessary for me to say that I have examined the question with care, and with due attention to the oral arguments and briefs submitted to me by Judge U. L. Marvin and Mr. Talfourd P. Lynn in support of the proposed amendments and by Mr. Mortimer Matthews and Mr. Gibson C. Wilson, Chancellor of the Diocese, in opposition thereto.

The amendments now proposed provide for a board consisting of the Bishops of Ohio and the President of the College, being the three ex-officio members, six alumni Trustees; the same as at present, and from twelve to eighteen members to be elected for terms of six years by the Board of Trustees. No Trustees are to be elected hereafter by diocesan Conventions.

The integrity of the Bexley Theological School seems to be carefully protected in the amendments, which provide for the appointment of a standing committee, consisting of the Bishops of Ohio, the President of the College and two communicants of the Episcopal Church, appointed annually by the Board of Trustees. This committee is vested with the management and control of the internal affairs of the Theological School, reporting to the board at its annual meeting.

"In conclusion, I am constrained to advise you that the amendments as proposed are legal."

Where Our Seniors Are Going

The Seniors, having taken their last examinations, attended their "Last Chapel" service and their vacation is well under way. Naturally each begins to wonder "what next?" and all have already mapped out in a more or less definite way careers of usefulness which will reflect credit on themselves and old Kenyon. It is indeed a gratifying thing to note that over half of the class is going to take up post-graduate work at the larger universities. Walter Coolidge, Benton Batty and Lawrence McCafferty are going to Johns Hopkins, the former two to specialize in chemical engineering, while "Douglas" is grinding away at medicine. Philip Porter, Fred Harness and Will Thomas all are going to study for the ministry at Bentley, while Harry Kellam will receive his B.D. from the General Theological Seminary in New York. Paul West is going to take his M.A. at Oberlin before going to Johns Hopkins to study medicine, and Milner Little will try to uphold Kenyon's oratorical and debating reputation by joining hands with "Art" Sackett, "10," and "Cub" Siddall, '11, at Harvard Law School. Of the remaining members of the class, Ralph Watson, Harlow Gaines, Warner D. Cook, J. D. Cook and Richard Parry are going into business in their home cities and towns; R. A. Weaver has accepted the chair of English in DeVaux College, Nigger Falls, N. Y., and Russell Copeland will ply the same occupation in Mankato. Kenneth Adams will be located farther from Gambier than any of his classmates. "Kay" has accepted a position with his uncle in the Philippines to work in the United States Geodetic Survey corps.

Some say that "Doc" Boylan is coming down from Reserve and graduate with his old class. If so, he will return to Reserve next fall and complete his work in medicine.

A camp in the Ozarks has been established for Missouri students of forestry. The University owns fifty thousand acres of timber land.

THE MINSTREL

On Saturday evening, May 18, the night after the Hop, the Sophomore Class, under the direction of Mr. E. M. Anderson, presented the first Sophomore Minstrel ever staged on the Hill. Rose Hall was almost filled by 8:00 and at a quarter of nine a shade of gloom was cast over the audience by the announcement that Mr. Anderson had suddenly taken ill and would be unable to appear in his part. The curtain then arose, displaying a stage decorated in maroon and white. The chorus, dressed in evening gowns, was arranged in a circle in the center of which sat the interlocutor dressed entirely in white. During the opening chorus the end men dressed in various combinations entered, each making his way to the interlocutor and dancing to his place. A commotion in the rear of the hall soon disclosed the fact that Mr. Anderson had partially recovered from his illness and had returned to take part in the evening's entertainment. Then followed the usual round of jokes in which the faculty and Harcourt figured quite prominently. Solos were sung by Messrs. Anderson, Clark, Freeman, Russell, Thompson, Wonders and Roe, the first six mentioned taking the part of end men. Mr. Wheaton acted as interlocutor and helped to make clear many of the jokes which might have been lost in the cultivated dialect of the jokesters.

The hour and a half of entertainment passed all too quickly and high was the praise of the audience of the evening's performance.

Immediately following the minstrel, an informal dance was given. Jackson's Orchestra of Columbus, who furnished the music for the Minstrel also played for the dance. The program follows:

Opening Chorus—Entire Company.

I'm Gwine to Join De Minstrel Band—"Al Jaslyn's" Wonders
I Want to be in Dixie—"Neil O'Brien" Russell I'll Dream of You if You'll Dream of Me—Mr. Perkins Roe

Dat's Harmony—"Bert Williams" Clark Banjo Tunes—"Honey Boy Evans" Thompson Smile, Just Simple Smile—"Al G." Anderson
Moonlight Bay—Quartette
Annie Leav'er Stay—Mr. Clark and Mr. Anderson Closing Medley—Entire Company.

Science Club Re-organizes

Tuesday evening, May 14, the Kenyon Science Club met in the Sterling Room, and as this was the last meeting of the year, elected officers as follows:

President—Louis B. Dobie '13
Vice President—John H. Baird '13 Secretary-Treasurer—Carlton B. Retting '14

This organization has been, under the retiring President, Walter H. Coolidge, '12, the liveliest and most active on the Hill. The meetings, followed by smokers, have been well attended, as well as interesting and instructive. The new President is a worthy successor to Mr. Coolidge, and the Club will no doubt flourish during the ensuing year.

BROTHEDOM OF ST. ANDREW

On May 23 the Brotherhood of St. Andrew re-organized, electing the following officers for next year:

Vice Director—Louis B. Dobie '13
General Secretary—Edgar L. Tiffany '15 Secretary-Treasurer—Richard C. Marsh '15

Death of Lyle Fox Emerine

Lyle Fox Emerine, a member of the class of nineteen ten, died on the evening of May 9, at the home of his parents in Zostoria, Ohio. When he completed his high school course his health was such that he was compelled to spend a year in a milder climate. Apparently restored by an outdoor life in the west, he entered Kenyon in the fall of 1906. After graduation he became a member of the faculty of the Todd Institute, a preparatory school for boys, near Chicago. He had hardly begun his first year's work, however, before he was again forced to go west in search of health. From this time on, his life was one brave battle with disease. Until within a few weeks of the end his cheerful letters to his friends aroused the hope that the reports of the seriousness of his condition had been exaggerated.

While in college, Lyle's physical weakness prevented him from occupying that position of active leadership in undergraduate affairs for which he was so well equipped in mind and character. Yet what he undertook he did with a thoroughness that was characteristic. In the affairs of the college as a whole, of his class and of his friends, he took a deep interest and every worthy student activity had his enthusiastic support.

But it was what he was rather than what he did that won for him the place he held in the hearts of his associates. To the usual acquittance, gentleness and consideration for others were the dominant traits of his personality, but a more intimate knowledge of the man revealed that firmness and fortitude which were so splendidly exemplified in his last fearful struggle. To the troubles of others he gave a sympathetic ear. His advice was sound; his assistance ready. His own afflictions were borne with that serene courage that marks the highest type of Christian manhood.

Inter-Class Meet

After an unsuccessful attempt on the afternoon of Ascension Day, the Annual Inter-Class Field Meet was finally concluded, May 22, and resulted in a victory for the Sophomore Class. All of the events were interesting and in some of them really good marks were made. The feature of the afternoon was the individual work of a few men, notably Thompson, '14, Rockwell, '13, and Weaver, '12. Thompson's time in the 100-yd. dash, 10 2-5 sec., was remarkable for such a track.

The comedy feature of the day was the 440-yd. dash which was thrown open to everybody, so that there were more stiff collars among the fifteen entries than there were track suits and spiked shoes. But the race turned out to be an exciting one and was won by Matthews in fairly good time. Tasman and Bart getting the other places.

The summary of events follows: Pole Vault—Rockwell, '15, 1st; Houston, '14, 2nd, height 9 ft. 100-yd. Dash—Thompson, '14, 1st; Weaver, '12, 2nd; Rockwell, '15, 3rd. Time 10 2-5 sec.

At Nebraska University the expense of formal dances is estimated to be $6,000 a year. Of this $2,000 comes from the forms presented annually by the sororities. These estimates do not include expensive gowns, flowers, etc., nor for the All-University forms, which further increase the estimate to $15,000.

The football squad of the University of Minnesota has started regular practice for next year. The entire schedule has been completed, with the possible exception of an eastern game.

What We Should Know

Owen Johnson declares that the college men of today have no general knowledge, let alone real culture. Most of the colleges, he asserts, have become mere social clearing houses, whose students know only a few facts hastily cram- med for examinations and promptly forgotten.

In his new novel, “Stover at Yale,” which takes up the whole subject of American colleges, Johnson makes a character propose a list of forty general questions to a bunch of classmates. But as the story is laid in 1900, the test is not hard enough for today, says Johnson, though most of his readers admit that they cannot answer the questions in “Stover.” Johnson has just prepared a new list, which, he says, every college student or graduate ought to be able to answer. Any man in a French or German university could pass a creditable examination on them.

In the original list of forty questions in “Stover at Yale,” Johnson has several other queries, such as “Who were Leoncavallo, Verdi, Dostoevski, Bastien Le Page, Henan? What do you know about the spread of socialism in Germany, France and England?" The character in “Stover at Yale” who propounds the questions comments on his classmates: "You have no general knowledge—not even opinions, but at the end of four years of education you will march up and be handed a degree—Bachelor of Arts! And we Americans have a sense of humor! Why, our colleges are splendidly organized institutions for the prevention of learning. Business colleges. The colleges have surrendered a great deal of their power to the influence of social organization, which is more and more going to turn the colleges into social clearing houses.”
