FREE ROUND-TRIP TICKETS TO CLEVELAND FOR RESERVE GAME GIVEN TO ASSEMBLY

Mrs. J. C. Morse Provides Transportation for Every Student of Kenyon and Bexley—Unique Gift Result of Week-End Visit to Gambier—Junior Committee on Freshman Discipline Established—Abolition of Hazing Reaffirmed—Cross-Country Cup from the Coach

Free round-trip tickets to Cleveland for the Reserve game! Thanks to the generosity of Mrs. J. C. Morse of Cleveland.

A holiday on October 18, so that we can all go to the game, thanks to the faculty.

The first regular Assembly, on the evening of October 6, opened with special fireworks. Dr. Heirve mysteriously appeared in the hall and, with a broad smile announced that Mrs. Morse had been so delighted with Kenyon, with the men of Kenyon and with the Kenyon spirit which was manifested during her stay on the Hill over Sunday, October 5, that she wanted all of the men in the college to go to Cleveland on her guests on October 18, and see “Old Hika” defeat Reserve.

Loud cheers and prolonged applause greeted this announcement. The Assembly tended to Mrs. Morse; a vote of hearty thanks for her kind offer and treats that she will join the Kenyon men at the game and see the Morse and White team in the triumph over the Red and White.

Immediately following the announcement of Mrs. Morse’s kind invitation the Assembly unanimously voted that a subscription of one dollar per man be collected with which to buy new suits for the team.

Coach Matthews offers a silver cup to the winners of the Sophomore-Freshman cross-country race which will be run about December 1. To be eligible for this event, the men of the two lower classes must faithfully participate in the bi-weekly cross-country runs. These are required in order to gain credit for gym work. The division whose men total the smallest number of points in the race will receive the cup temporarily. In order to obtain permanent possession a division must return the winner for three consecutive years.

To prevent any misconception of the duties and powers of the newly-created Junior Committee on Freshman discipline, Mr. Kinder introduced a resolution confirming that of June 7, 1912, in which hiking in the form of corporeal punishment was dealt a death blow. The resolution was unanimously passed.

The constitutional amendment perpetuating the Faculty Relations Committee was taken from the table and gullionized with neatness and dispatch, and two other tabled resolutions, concerning the abolition of baseball and of the annual freshman entertainment, were permitted to rest for the present.

President Saut called the attention of the new men to the vital importance of the athletic fee, and urged that every man support the Assembly in this important way.

Elections were held as follows.

OPENS GAME OF SEASON BRINGS WELL-EARNED VICTORY OVER OTTERBEIN TEAM

Heavy Westerville Eleven Falls to Block Powerful Onslaughts of Kenyon’s Backfield—Brilliant Work Characters Entire Game—Captain Tasman Scores First Touchdown of the Season—Callin, Hallwood, Kinder Brothers and Gayer Perform in All-State Style

Otterbein’s wild hopes went glistening and Ohio Conference opponents received a rude shock when Kenyon opened the season at Benson field a week ago more auspiciously than any year since 1908, by beating the Westerville team 15 to 3. The confidence in the situation, so noticeable since college opened, was fully justified, and a spirit of quiet satisfaction and anticipation is now prevalent.

The coach has shown that he is still in the front rank of the modern football procession and the men are both able and willing to profit by his instruction. The rest of us may well feel confident. Ex consume’s façonwell attempt at a football team came to Gambier touted as the best in ten years from Otterbein. Their victory over Wesleyan had attracted the attention of the entire state and Kenyon well-wishers deplored her bad luck in having to stack up against so strong a team in the opening game. There was no room for doubt after the game was once under way. But the first Otterbein’s much-advertised fullback, who had accomplished the downfall of Wesleyan, was ineffective against the Kenyon line. Otterbein kicked off and Kenyon carried the ball well out into the field before losing possession of it. Then there followed some jockeying back and forth, neither side being able to make very material gains. But Kenyon’s backs began to work to more advantage as the game warmed up and in the latter part of the quarter the ball was gradually advanced toward the visitor’s goal. When the whistle blew the short respite it looked as if it touchdown would result early in the next period. But things went wrong for a while. Otterbein acquired custody of the ball and made excellent use of the opportunity. Punts were exchanged and the ball carried by both sides, but Otterbein gained steadily until Kenyon received punts dangerously near her own goal and was several times forced to place her hopes on Tasman’s boot and the holding power of the line. The ball was in Kenyon territory the greater part of the period but fortunately the tide turned toward the end and danger was averted.

With the opening of the third period a more open style of play was resorted to and with immediate results. In a very few minutes of play, forward passes and continued good work in every department had brought the ball within striking distance. Tasman charged through the line and across the goal and the first points of the season were scored for Kenyon. No one made a fair catch of the punt and the score stood 6 to 0.

With a queer turn fortune now favored the visitors. After the

THE SONG OF SIXTEEN

Like a castle of old, on a mountain bold, In the midst of a forest repose,
Where the ages have rolled, turned by sunbeams to gold.

The waves of the lazy flowing—
With a sprit-pouring past toward the clear blue sky,
Like a hope to heavens above.

Majestic Old Kenyon appears to the eye,
The college that all of us love.

Chorus
Old Kenyon, forever well may be,
To thy path and thy hill of green,
So first we'll offer a toast to thee,
Then a health to the class of sixteen.

If
As strangers we came at the sound of thy name
But we now feel the force of thy spell,
Forever the same shall thy sublimed name
Remain for the ages to tell.

With a pride in our class, from thy portals we'll pass
But our memories will bind us as one,
So to Kenyon alone shall we fill up our class
When our life on the campus is done.

Chorus
Old Kenyon, forever thy stately halls
And thy path with its roof of green
Shall claim the best to whom it may belong
Then a health to the class of sixteen.

kicking off they marched down the field with the ball until finally, checked near the 40-yard line. Here followed one of the spectacular features of the game when Bailey placed a beautiful drop kick, netting his team three points and their only score. After this Kenyon again gained consistently, but a touchdown was lost when Ludden let the ball slip on a forward pass across the line.

In the fourth period the ball again carried across only to be called back this time to penalize Kenyon. Shortly afterward Tassman added three points by a well executed place kick from about 18 yards distance. In the last few minutes of play Callin dodged across the goal for a fair and square touchdown and the final standing was 15 to 3.

It is a work of supererogation to pick stars when all played so hard and so effectively, but it is only fair to say that the work of Captain Tassman, Sayger, Callin, Hallwood and C. Kinder could not help but attract special notice. The line showed vast improvement over last year and its work is a testimonial to the coach and his efforts with the veterans who largely composed it. Callin is as elusive as ever, Sayger always has an option on the all-state center job and Hallwood bids fair to be a worthy successor of Pete Bowlus. What more can one say?

Kenyon-Millersburg
The final practice game of the season was played September 27, when Millersburg High School brought a bunch of lads down to put up a creditable resistance to a team of a higher class. The score of course was one-sided, 80-0, but there was much good individual work on the part of the visitors and Millersburg should show up well in High School football. A feature for Kenyon was the shifting of Wary Wonders to the halfback’s position, where he did good work. The game was a good tryout for all the men and probably aided in bringing about the happy results a week later.

Welcome Return
A pleasing feature of the football season so far has been the splendid attendance. Although two High School games were played in one week a considerable profit was realized and at the Otterbein game, in spite of the large guarantee to the visitors, an attendance of over 260 swelled the receipts to profit-yielding dimensions. The total intake was $123.00. This is rare for Kenyon and means loyal support. It is also one of the advantages immediately due to the large entering class. With the promise of a good team, it is hoped that such turnouts will continue and that the results will be such as to justify the management in scheduling more home games for future seasons.

“Bill” Freeman a Benedict
G. W. Freeman, ex ’15, stole a march on his friends on Monday, October 6, by forsaking bachelorhood and marrying Miss Olive B. Watson, formerly English instructor at Harvard. The ceremony was held at the Quarry Chapel, north of Gambier, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and the Rev. M. M. Day of Indiana Harbor, Ind. and Canon O. E. Watson of Bexley performed the marriage. “Bill” is now located at Marion, Ohio, where he is a reporter on the "Times."

The event was the culmination of what is in the strictest sense a Gambier romance, and came as a surprise to the many friends of the happy couple. Congratulations and well-wishes are in order.

To Try Rhodes Examination
John A. Wielchlik, ’13, who has been on the Hill studying for the past month, is to be a contestant in the Rhodes Scholarship examinations, held at Columbus, October 14-15. Wielchlik was third honor man last year and fills every qualification which he will encounter in the contest he has passed the test.

W. W. Sam, ’14, is also going for a trial at the exam, and while “Bill” has another year on the Hill he expects to get a line on what he may expect when he tackles the proposition in earnest next year.

The class of 1914 has chosen the following officers for the coming year:
President – W. R. Kinder;
Vice-President – E. M. Tasman;
Secretary – A. Gregg;
Treasurer – A. Dobish;
Historian – D. W. Bowman;
Toastmaster – R. A. Houston.

MATRICULATION TALK
Delivered by Bishop C. D. Williams of Michigan—Powerful Sermon
Addressed to New Class

PANAMA’S PROGRESS
Discussed by Captain A. W. Wyndham
in Opening Number of the Larwill Course of Lectures

What proved to be one of the most influential and inspiring sermons ever delivered was a matriculation talk to those young men who are entering Kenyon this year. The young man who is to receive his degree is to be congratulated. The talk was delivered especially for the freshmen, but the thought and matter and the straight-to-the-shouder words of Bishop Williams went to the hearts of all who were present.

ICELAND

The first of the series of Larwill lectures for the season 1913-1914 was delivered by Captain A. W. Wyndham on Tuesday evening, September 29, his subject being the Panama Canal. The lecture is the result of the personal experiences of a civil engineer, in the canal zone since its inception. It was illustrated with colored slides and sketches showing the location of the locks and cuts and how, step by step, the gigantic task was performed.

— R. D. Gillen, ex-’15.
— E. Sanderson, ’11.
— The Rt. Rev. C. D. Williams, ’86.
— Dr. and Mrs. Poitei entertained the new men and the Harcourt students on the evening of Saturday, September 27.
THE ATHLETIC FEE

On the term bills of each semester appears the item "Athletic Fee at Kenyon College—$6.00. These fees are put on the term bill by request of the student body. Their payment is optional." Almost every year some students of Kenyon College think that this is a useless extravagance and fail to pay it.

The only possible excuse for such a state of mind is absolute poverty, but not even then making it does not use much forethought, for it is the imperative duty of each and every Kenyon man to support each and every college activity that he can.

Those holding this idea are usually new men who do not know the results that such an action brings with it. The college is small and yet supports organizations that would be a credit to a much larger school. Its annual and periodic publications are among the best in the state and, to be kept so, need the support of everyone. Its athletic teams are perhaps its best advertisement and need not only personal but pepquots on the part of all. The lesser part of the $6.00 goes to the Collegian, the greater part to the support of athletic teams which could not be kept running without it.

Lastly, membership in the Kenyon Assembly depends principally on payment of the athletic fee. The Assembly is a body composed of everyone in college. It is the organ of student government; it is there that matters of importance to the college are discussed; and as such it is up to all to belong to it and to take a part, small though it may be, in its business; and it is a thorough disgrace to any man who will not pay this small sum for such a privilege, as well as to his friends, associates, and class.

The men who have entered college this fall possess some common sense, for they have so far shown a part fair college spirit, and with them we trust the upbuilding of Kenyon has begun. It is most sincere to be hoped that none of them will prove too stubborn or too blind to pay this small tax which will bring so much help, not only to the college, but also eventually to them.

MRS. MORSE'S GIFT

The announcement of Mrs. J. C. Morse's cheerful donation to the men of Kenyon has aroused feelings of gratitude the expression of which would tax the resources of the most gifted writer, but it is only meet and right that we strike from our feeble string a note of praise.

Mrs. Morse's visit, unburdened by elaborate preparations and free from formalities, enabled her to see the college as it really is. The victory wrested from Oberlin fresh from a triumph at Delaware, the spirited singing about the bonfire, and the harmonious, democratic friendship at the Commons, all led her to the resolution to aid and encourage a cause which she deemed worthy of her benefaction.

And now we are all going to Cleveland, to make Reservists' Army, to make Mrs. Morse's $1,500 donation to the Bixley fund available, and not a merchant handlaw. Every man on the Hill (during one dollar of the money so saved to equip the gridiron warriors with more and more presentable suits.

Perhaps it was the same generous impulse that led her brother, the late Senator M. A. Hanna, to build Kenyon the finest dormitory in the West. It is no mean sum that will carry a whole college two hundred and fifty miles, and while the ancient favorite steals stealthily across the temporary bridge at a snail's pace, the velvet glove of opportunity raps at the door with gentle touch. You can tarry till the last minute, watch the weather and tap the train at the crossroad. You can await an observation car with an unobstructed view of the scenic panoramas of Holmes county. Keep your eye on the green light on the cabooses, for it doesn't pay to let it go too far. Pick a station a mile or two behind a box, for the latter will break the wind and shield from cinders. And above all remember that a brakie is your friend, especially for a consideration.

It's a noble sacrifice for a loyal rooter of depleted means to face seven hours of cold, dirt, (for the past three years, rain), and risk of injury. This annual display of our love for our college this year is not the sole reward of virtue for no man need fear for carfare. But the old Cannonball will make the trip, a brilliant opportunity which the feelie hand of fate has thrown us at a time when we need it not.

OUR ADVERTISERS

Every paper of this day depends to a very large extent on the support given by its advertisers, and in this respect the Collegian is no exception. The daily absense of weekly advertising is a blow to the business. This support should be forthcoming from all college men and when a student gets an opportunity to patronize those who aid the college publication, he should use it. Hill fans do much good not only in helping the retailer but by inspiring that merchant with confidence in the paper as an advertising medium. Large advertising firms buy, from large retail dealers in remote places, things which could be bought more easily and more conveniently from nearby dealers at practically the same prices. This seems a small matter but in reality it is a very important one and is vitally necessary for consideration if the college publication is to be successful in a financial way.

Every reputable business man has a sign above his place of business and his display window, and an advertisement is nothing but a sign or display window in print and is intended to demand the attention of the buyer. If it fails to accomplish this end, the merchant will cease to pay for his space. The relation of student to advertiser thus becomes one of mutual support, and the Collegian depends, finally, on the students themselves.

DEAN OF CATHEDRAL

Chosen Bishop-Coadjutor of Kenyon--The Very Rev. Frank Du Moulin a Trustee of Kenyon

The special convention of the Diocese of Ohio, which met October 2, to elect a bishop-coadjutor, unanimously chose Rev. Canon Frank Du Moulin. Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio, and a Kenyon trustee.

Dean DuMoulin is a Canadian by birth, is a graduate of Trinity College and has spent practically all his life as a clergyman in the United States. As Dean of Trinity Cathedral and president of the Cleveland Federation of Churches, he has so actively identified himself with church affairs as to win the profound respect and admiration of all who are acquainted with him and his work. In addition, he has always taken a great interest in the educational work that is being carried on in Gambier, and for this reason his election will receive the hearty endorsement of Kenyon and Bexley men.

The Bishop Con ductor will reside in Toledo, but his work will take him to all parts of the Diocese of Ohio. Bishop Leonard, however, will retain Onyhus and Knox Counties under his personal supervision.

Cleveland Visitors

Mr. Jas. H. Dempsey, ’82 of Cleveland, was the guest at a week-end party on the Hill, October 3 and 4, his guests being Mrs. J. C. Morse, Miss Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Schwanfurth, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Augustus and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Motifan of Cleveland. The party was entertained by President and Mrs. W. F. Peirce, and on the evening of Saturday, October 2, the seniors enjoyed the privilege of meeting Mr. Dempsey and his guests at the Peirce residence. All of the party were present at the bonfire and rally later in the evening, and were favorably impressed with the spirit of the occasion, and on Sunday the students were honored by their presence at the Commons at dinner.

The uninvited gift of Mrs. Morse was a sizable box of the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna, is the direct outcome of her visit, and it was the Otterbein victory that led her to present every Kenyon man with a round trip ticket to the Reserve game. Here's to Dempsey! May his entertainments be frequent!

OPENING OF BEXLEY

Brings Few New Faces to the Hill--Middle Hanna Crowded to the Limit with the Theologes

The past week has witnessed the opening of Bexley Hall, the theological department of the college. The opening of Bexley has been bountifully attended. Bexley students are being housed in Middle Hanna the seminary will seem more a part of the college than it has in the past. This week, while the building is being remodeled, the classes will be held in the seminar rooms of the Alumni Library. Colburn Hall, the Bexley Library, will be open every evening for the use of theological students.

The fact that most of the Bexley men are college graduates, many of whom hold degrees from Kenyon, tends to create a very friendly relation between college and seminary men. The feeling has, until last year, been more or less one of antagonism.

The list of theologies which follows presents only one or two new names; Bishops—B. H. Reihm, Sandusky; W. A. Thomas Columbus; Phil. Foster, Columbus; V. A. Smith, Athens; J. A. G. Tappé, St. Louis; H. G. C. Martin, Ashford, Kent; England; E. F. Williams, Gedenrich, Ontario Middle; J. C. McMasters, Pittsburgh; G. F. Harkness, Norwalk, J. C. E. Carratt, Cleveland; W. F. Tunks, Toledo, H. S. Akhileos, Cleveland; Juniors—D. Won- hers, Beloit; C. G. Bass, J. F. Bass, P. F. Hoad, Fremont; P. Braddock, Cincinnati, U. (of C.); S. Yabu, Yabu, Japan; W. J. Barrett, ’29, Boston, Mass.; F. O. Keicher, Ashland, Ohio.

Bonfire and Rally

Although the victory over Otterbein scarcely deserved a bonfire, the freshmen broke away and started an old-time rally Saturday evening, October 4, by collecting enough wood to produce a creditable flame. The pile was ignited about ten o'clock, and short speeches were made by President Peirce, Fred Zinn and others. Dr. Walton reported the scores from other games about Ohio, and the prevailing sentiment appeared to be one of optimism and confidence. After a few songs the gathering adjourned with the Thrill and Hika.

Girls at Vassar are not permitted to eat butter at meals nor to sleep on hair mattresses, according to a recent decision of the college authorities.—Ex.

PRELIMINARY PLANS

Arranged for Senior Prom—Class of 1914 to be Hosts at Mid-Year Social Season’s Big Event

Backed by an able group of experienced men, Chairman F. J. Wonders of the Senior Prom Commission promises all a rousing spring; between semesters. For the first time in college annals the seniors are the hosts at Prom, the juniors taking over the Commencement Reception.

The class of 1914 already has an enviable record; backed by this and by the known ability of the commission in such affairs, we can anticipate a fine mid-year social season. Messrs. Gregg, Bowman, Houston, Retting and Jenkins are veterans in point of service on organizing committees, and with their experience and his own originality "Weary" ought to have no trouble in arranging something "keen.

Only preliminary plans are now under way, but they are expected to materialize in a few weeks, when active work will begin. We are almost certain of having our own orchestra, and if finances permit, an organiza-

Vacation in Europe

Granted to President Peirce—Three Months Leave of Absence to be Spent in Italy and Sicily

After ten years of constant work without a vacation during the school year and three years with no vacation in Gambier, or President Peirce has at last been given a leave of absence by the trustees, to begin December I and last three months. Mr. and Mrs. Peirce will sail on the "Laconia" of the Cunard line, which is to make a special Mediterranean cruise. The ship is of the type to stop at the Madeira Islands, Gibraltar, Algiers, Morocco and Naples. At the last-named place they will leave the "Laconia" and with no definite plan will while away the month of December, probably making trips to Sorrento, Arnulf, and Sicily.

At the beginning of the year Dr. and Mrs. Peirce will continue their travels northward, going either to France or to Vienna, Austria and Germany. Their stay abroad will last until the end of February, so that they will probably return to Gambier during the early part of March.

Forest Improvements

Messrs. W. J. Green and W. E. Beutinger, of Wooster, paid a visit to Gambier during the past week, for the purpose of outlining additional planting in the forest improvement work inaugurated in recent times on the spacious lands of Kenyon. Extensive groups of choice oaks, lindens and maples and smaller colonies of various other desirable species, as well as students who enroll, all of these trees, are contemplated in the planting plans for next season. As it is now three years since this first permanent groups were located, these trees are thoroughly established in the soil and from this time forward should take on quite rapidly. The purpose of the experiment, which is being carried on by authority of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, is to test the value of many species of deciduous and evergreen trees for various purposes, both aesthetic and practical, and it is believed that the forests of Kenyon College offer one of the finest opportunities for such work to be found anywhere.

At Cornell University there are 1069 students who are almost wholly self-supporting, and 124 students, who earn from $100 to $300 more than their expenses.—Ex.
EVEN freshman wants to start right. Put him next to Velvet—the college smoke.
It's the real, time-matured tobacco with a smooth, delightful flavor—a taste that never fails on you—doesn't burn hot.

Velvet is superb tobacco-aged two years—an ideal smoke. Today—tomorrow—whenever you do smoke, that day will bring you a new vision of pipes. You will become a Velvetian. Just keep it in mind. Ad all dealers.

Science Club
The Science Club, as its name indicates, is an organization for the benefit of those interested in scientific pursuits. The club meets once in two weeks, and papers are read by members, after which they are discussed. A small “fee” follows. The four professors of science are honorary members, and are a great help in making the meetings both interesting and instructive. One of the meetings of last year was a talk on “The Development of the Electron” by Dr. C. R. Fountain, given at the instigation of Dr. Allen, who failed to see the sense in the disputed subdivision of the molecule by physicists and chemists first into atoms and then into electrons.

Thus it will be seen that this idea is anything but an innovation. It contemplates a renewal of a true dramatic interest among Kenyon men—a something which has been almost completely lost in the last four years.

The objection urged against a Harcourt-Kenyon play is the difficulty in rehearsing, since the accommodations at Harcourt are limited, while Osse Hall presents a rather dismal prospect for a walk from Harcourt on a blustery winter’s night. Possibly this could be obviated by afternoon rehearsals.

At any rate, the project is an excellent one in all respects and it is only to be hoped that this winter will witness a regeneration of Kenyon dramatics, with the assistance of some of Harcourt’s ‘stars.’

A bill authorizing the expenditure of $700,000 to erect and equip buildings for the University of Minnesota passed the House of Representatives. A woman’s gymnasium may be built with $125,000 of this money.—Ex.
PAJAMA PARADE

Under the guidance of the class of 1916 the freshmen made their annual pajama parade on Friday night, September 26. The Itinerary included the Bakery, Har- court and several of the faculty residences.

Clad in nocturnal garb and carrying candles the long line of freshmen, hushed down the Middle Path, passed through the Bakery to the ancient tune of Webb. With torches of expectancy Harcourt was reached, where a number of freshmen further demonstrated that apparently there is a total lack of musical and historic talent in their class.

The procession left Harcourt reluctantly, and was directed to the adobe of "Fort" and "Gummy," where requests for speeches were made in vain. However, the slumber-clad rank was received by "Pete," who enthused over their numbers and prospects and gave excellent advice to the new men.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

The local chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew started its year's work with its regular meeting on Thursday of the last week. Under the leadership of its director, Mr. W. W. Saut, the Brotherhood expects to accomplish much work of a definite nature and scope. The primary object of the society as modified for the college is to promote Christian fellowship between college men, and this is done by the personal efforts of individual members. The plan to import several lecturers during the year, who will deliver interesting and instructive addresses on subjects of vital importance to young men in academic life. With the increased number of students the change means the chances for more work of personal service among the men on the Hill and this opportunity the members of the society will endeavor to grasp.

Cut System

Because of the agitation for a change in the cut system which was made toward the close of last year there has arisen some misunderstanding as to the rules now in force. They are the same which were passed by the faculty on January 27, 1913, and for the benefit of new students they are here reproduced:

"Students shall be responsible for the entire number of recitations in any course pursued and must be required to make up promptly any work missed on account of absences."

"Any student who fails to be present at nine-tenths of the entire number of recitations, tardiness to count as half an absence, and absence incurred on the two days immediately preceding or following Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter recesses to count double, shall thereby forfeit his class membership, and shall be permitted to remain in the course only at the discretion of the professor in charge, and on such conditions as he may prescribe."

In other words a student is allowed his usual five absences in any three-hour course, provided that he makes up the work missed on account of his cutting, and with the additional restriction that cuts taken on the two days before or after vacations count double.

On account of the lack of room and the advance of the season the football coaches at the University of California have just dropped forty men from those expecting to places on varsity. This leaves, however, sixty-seven men still competing.—Ex.

Under the Blauvelt act, which has received the Governor's signature, New York state will provide for seven hundred and fifty scholarships.—Ex.
CIVIC CLUB

The Edwin M. Stanton Civic Club of Kenyon College, thoroughly overhauled and renoted last spring, will resume its activity at the close of the football season.

For the benefit of the new man on the Hill, it may be stated that the club has as its primary purpose the encouragement of an interest in the great political and economic questions of the day. To this end, readings are held at which papers are read, pertaining to such questions, followed by a general discussion.

The membership is limited to fifteen and the qualifications for membership are rather stringent. Those who are elected to this group have expressed a serious desire of submitting a paper which should begin at once to collect material and be ready before Thanksgiving.

Field Notes

Hereafter all cards for attendance at church services or college activities must be handed to the Monitor, instead of to President Peirce. These must be turned in before the end of the week.

Any student desiring to submit a report for the 1914 Revellie should send the editor at once.

The seniors have elected W. W. Siant as chairman of the Junior Committee on Freshman Discipline.

An unusually large number of Bealey men have signified their intention of paying the athletic fee this semester. Starting off well.

Term bills must be paid by October 15 or the delinquents will be suspended until the payment is made.

Swedish Students Like Iowa

The King of Sweden recognizes the University of Iowa as being one of the six best in the country in the claim of the Daily Iowan. Six students are sent each year from the Swedish land to study in America. These are eminent scholars and only the best universities are chosen for them.

One of the six has been sent by the king to Iowa to study Psychology, a science in which he has shown considerable efficiency in Sweden.

Dr. W. P. Reeves was in Columbus last evening attending a meeting of the Ohio Athletic Conference, of which he is chairman. The question of the financial dispute of the unplayed Re-serve baseball game of June 26 was one of the problems up for discussion.

MAY ENTER CONFERENCE

Mount Union-Seco College has applied for admission to the Ohio Conference. The teams made a good showing in athletics last year and Coach Dawson claims that the intercollegiate contestants were played according to Conference rules. The matter will be taken up at the meeting to be held this month.—Oberlin Review.

She went down to the round house.

And interviewed an officer.

"What is that thing?" "Why," he replied.

"That is the engine hoist." "And why do they build engines?

"They do it," said the honest man.

"To make the engine tender."—Ex.

Statistics show that college women marry a year or two later than non-college women, usually get better husbands, averaging a fraction more children per upper-class woman—freshmen ineligible, desirous of submitting a paper should begin at once to collect material and be ready before Thanksgiving.

Campus Notes

The final card in the "starch" distribution is at the Spear Company, 233 Broadway, New York.

Clark D. Pease, ex-'15, is now at Yale.

Kenneth E. Luthy, ex-'08, is on the advertising end of the American Magazine, with headquarters at New York.

Special Assembly

At the request of the sophomores a special Assembly was called for Friday, October 3, to discuss the inauguration of a more stringent method of disciplinary action. The assembly was informed that the new men were more or less unsavory hosts. The Assembly Council was empowered to inflict upon the promotor of such a movement the customary penalties prescribed by the rules of the Dormitory Committee. This was tabled until the regular meeting of Monday, October 6.

Sophomore Song

In another column we print the 1916 class song, the joint work of the committee in charge, T. E. Davey, R. A. Bowman and B. H. Steinfield. The tune is a snappy march, "Heritage," which has a subordinator to Kenyon and show the possibility of a class song living after the departure of the members.
