VARiETY DROPS SIX GAMES

Wittenberg, Miami, Heidelberg, Oberlin And Akron Put Skids Under Kenyon Quintet

The traditional Kenyon Jinx is still with us: the local five has experienced a depressing series of six basketball reverses. A flying trip through southern Ohio, home of basketball coaches, resulted in defeat at the hands of Wittenberg and Miami aggregations, in one-sided contests. The Libertas trounced the Kenyon outfit to the tune of 54-27.

The Miami-Kenyon game was followed by the annual Miami basketball banquet, at which the Kenyon five were privileged to attend as guests of the Miami college unit. All members of the team report a very delightful evening, and have expressed their desire to make the trip again next season. The Miami-Kenyon game itself was marked by considerable individual starring. House and Molders doing the field work for the Oxford outfit, and Small of Kenyon. The final score was 49-32.

Likewise, a trip the following weekend through southern Ohio settled Kenyon two more defeats; Heidelberg and Oberlin cleaned up on the delegation from the Hill by scores of 38-30 and 34-24 respectively. The game with the Reformers consisted chiefly in louse defensive work, and rugged shooting.

Kenyon led at the end of the first half of the Oberlin tussle by a score of 15-13; however, our opponents came back like a tornado in the second period, and through the clever work of Stalling, their star forward, the up-state outfit carried away the blue ribbons.

ADDRESSES SCIENCE CLUB

Dr. J. H. Upham of Ohio State Traces Development Of His Profession; Raps Several Cults

"Medical Common Sense" was the subject of an informal talk delivered here January 27, before members of the Science Club and guests, when J. H. Upham, M. D., professor of medicine at Ohio State University, and prominent Columbus practitioners, appeared here under the auspices of the local organization of Remem.

Dr. Upham traced the development of the science of medicine, and from this digressed long enough to demonstrate the utterly hollow structure of some of the medical reasoning peculiar to mercenary "culti of the medical profession; these cults he frankly denounced as parasitical, and intimated that as college men we should not seek to further them.

He pointed out the way in which various remedies came into use—one method, and the earliest one, was the "trial and error" method. He stated that formerly many remedies tested by this practice were slated as authentic, and of value; however, he added that in 100 cases using medicines so derived, 85% of the patients would have recovered without any medical attention whatever. That the "cult" disregarded this established principle he proved by stating that one element of so-called "doctors" ignore the germ theory in its entirety, and "cure" tonsils, diphtheria, tuberculosis, etc., all of which are recognized germ diseases, by referring all treatment to a main trunk line of vertebren. That the "imploded nerve" theory was a yarn he proved by stating that in the most serious of all spinal derangements, a case of a hunchback, there is rarely any "nerve impingement," and that these cripples are in almost every case perfectly normal so far as other organs of the body, supplied by the portions of the spinal column passing through the distoated area of the spine, are concerned.

Dr. Upham’s talk was well-received; the men regretted that he was unable to remain longer at the smoker in

DEATH

OVERTAKES AGED ALUMNI

The Rev. Walter Scott, '59, Helped Erect First Greek Letter Lodge; Bishop White Conducts Funeral

One of Kenyon’s oldest alumni, the Rev. Walter Scott, ’59, aged 85, died at his home in Elkhart, Indiana, on January twenty-seventh; death resulted from a complication of diseases. Mr. Scott was born in 1836 at Mansfield, where he later attended that city’s free school, an institution at that time conducted by the late Lorin Andrews, ex-president of Kenyon College.

While at Kenyon Mr. Scott identified himself with the local chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon, and in this connection aided in the erection of the first Greek letter fraternity lodge in America; midst of the maual work he did himself. His initiation into that organization took place shortly after the completion of the lodge.

Mr. Scott practiced law in Warsaw, Indiana, for a number of years; during the Civil War he was an active recruiting officer for the Federal forces. In 1868 he was ordained a minister, and this profession he followed until his retirement in 1911.

The Rev. Mr. Scott was sceptic of the parish at Oberlin, Ohio, for twelve years; since 1915 he has been a resident of the city in which his died. Mr. Scott was prominent in Masonic circles and was a member of the order of Odd Fellows. A grandson, Mr. Elwood, 24, is now attending Kenyon. The Rev. Mr. Scott visited Gambier during the 1918 commencement season, the guest of Bishop William Leonard.

Bishop White, of northern Indiana, conducted funeral services; six clergymen served as pall-bearers.

West Wing, which followed the address.

The speaker was at a disadvantage, having to speak in non-technical language, and to an audience unfamiliar with medical terminology. Dr. Upham is accustomed to addressing more than medical societies, and conducting his classes and clinics. The Science Club is indeed grateful to Dr. Upham for his kindness in coming to Gambier; it is hoped that the Club will bring more men like him to the Hill.

"MECHANICS OF CREATION" IS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

The third lecture given this year under the auspices of the Science Club was delivered by Mr. J. B. McGrew, of Springfield, Ohio. "The Mechanics of Creation" was the subject of this informal talk, which was very well attended, and which seemed to meet with the hearty approval of the men.

Mr. McGrew stated that he wished it understood that he spoke from the standpoint of a layman, and asked that his remarks might be interpreted as such. He first accounted for the origin of the earth in a very complete manner; beginning with the electron, and the manner in which the several planets had arisen, and then outlined the method whereby they had separated from each other until one little chip, the Earth, was formed.

Then Mr. McGrew described the very beginnings of life, the factors vital to life, and traced the sources of factors attendant upon its maintenance. He interpolated his remarks with evidences of evolution.

The speaker pointed out palaeologica1 evidences of evolution, and mentioned a few of the fossil forms that have contributed to repairing the missing link in the chain of evolution. In this connection, he spoke briefly of a scientific expedition now en route to Asia, to seek further proof of our relationship to ape-like ancestors.

Mr. McGrew emphasized the divine element in the process of evolution, and being a very active churchman, took pains to correct misunderstandings that have thrown the church and undergraduate scientists into conflict.

The gathering took place in the East Wing Bull's Eye, Columbus; Esther Carter, Conshicton, Clevbland; Lenna Cuts, Mt. Vernon; Dorothy Jackson, Wooster; Jeanette Vesey, Cleveland; Ida Keg, Mansfield; Helen Tracy, Columbus; Florence Charles, Harcourt; Rose Hearty, Akron; Sally Field, Oxford; N. C.; Dorothy Merkle, Cleveland.

SELF-GOVERNMENT

Time was when student self-government was unheard of. With possible exceptions, such machines are practically innovations; only at Kyoto is there a thoroughly organized body of this nature—an organization that functions in its entirety. Briefly, college self-governing arrangements are prototypes of metropolitan or city administrative schemes. Our Assembly, President is comparable to a mayor, selected to carry out the desires of those he represents. His several committees, like unto the various committees of aldermen supervise some specialized phase of the administrative department.

Were we to merge the functions of the mayor's committee on public service and safety with his municipal board of health, we would synchronize a directorate favorably comparing with what Kyoto men know as a Dormitory Committee.

Primarily, the purpose of the Dormitory Committee is to fix, and report for assessment, damage to property by individuals, by social and by fraternal units. For instance, if Johnnie Jones, '23, persist in driving golf balls through the stained glass windows of the library, the dormitory committee-men see to it that no one but Johnnie Jones, '23, foots the bill for replacements.

On the other hand, when a dozen individuals of the class of '24 stack perfectly good sound chairs in the doorway of the gym, ruin a considerable amount of fire-prevention accessories, and flood the floor of said gymnasium, your committee men definitely fix the damage upon the individual members responsible for the destruction of the particular property involved. This is done in fairness to the other 150 men of the college who did not contribute to the damage.

When a livery at the fourth floor of North Wing Dull's Eye develops an acute case of the roaches, rings and similar vermin, the committee promptly reports it to authorities who will take desired remedial measures.

Now as to the function that compares with the committee of public safety—otherwise known as the police force. The members of the dormitory committee are humane, and like their weep drip perhaps as well as the next one. Your committee man is more willing to meet you half way—be it that you so conduct yourself that you do not annoy other men who came to college to learn something other than the art of drawing crooks and four aces to a king. These individuals few and far between, but nevertheless, it is in their inalienable right to go their own way undisturbed, and unannoyed by bars from "We are, we are," etc., no matter how harmonious said bars may be. Repeated annoyance of a college citizen—and college men are citizens of the college as well as are their fathers citizens of Sugar Creek or Cleveland—brings down the wrath of persons preferring peace and quiet; they protest to their committee-man, who registers the complaint with the Assembly. But not until individuals complain to him will your committee man register his kick—your city policemen do not arrest until there are complaints lodged against individuals.

What does one censure mean? It expresses the disapproval of your conduct by your neighbors.

What do two censures mean? It means that you are denied the privilege of associating with red-blooded men for two weeks, and that your parent's attention is called to your misbehavior.

What do three censures mean? That your transgression of the rights of others in individuals with whom you live is so pronounced that the faculty is asked to throw you out of college. The censure is to the distinction of the college—your college is involved in the disgrace.

Your committee men do not want to be coppers; they want you to meet them half way—that is all they ask.

PRECEDENT

Much comment has been occasioned by the announcement that Kyoto will bid forth as football opponents of De Pauw University, of Greencastle, Indiana, next fall. Whether or not precedence justifies this move, it is unquestionable our chance to take a risks at a college that is more or less familiar nationally.

Result of the 1921 football season is gratifying to the men now in college, and it is not doubted that with the proper training, and the loyal support of the Kenyon student body, De Pauw will come forth from the farsest ladder and water. That a college should not be judged by the size of its roster is not to be questioned. Center and Kenyon have proved this to be true.

The college men anticipate putting the blocks to the De Pauw eleven with much gusto, and all that remains for us to do is come out for spring foot-ball, and for the fall season, and put our best men on the field. Here's our chance to pull an Ohio-State stunt and we should make the best of it.

The regular February Assembly was confined to reading of reports of the several committees; very little business other than routine matters, was transacted. The minutes and appendages of the previous meeting were approved: likewise the chronic of the special Assembly was accepted.

Mr. Goodell, secretary to the Executive Committee reported on the recent football season; the report also showed the finances of the basketball department to be in excellent shape. No appreciable deficit has been experienced as a result of the frequent trips of this team.

No old or unfinished business demanded the attention of the assembled student body.

Mr. Bowman nominated Mr. Robert Williams as Honor Committee-man from the four constitutional division, South Hanna Hall; motion seconded and carried.

Absence of a Dormitory Committee man from Bexley Dormitory was discussed at length; it was finally decided to refer the matter to Dr. Peirce, who should appoint a man of his own choice.

Mr. Gorsuch commented upon the inconvenience that the decessors show and lockers in Rose Hall cause visiting athletic teams; he ended by moving that the Assembly sanction improvement and repair of these articles. The motion was referred to Mr. Stegeman, chairman of the Dormitory Committee. He was instructed to bring the matter to the attention of Dr. Allen.

Mr. Brain was delegated to write to the Kenyon family and thank them, on behalf of the men, for the beautiful media-silver cup presented to them through Dr. Peirce, and which is to be awarded each semester to that division or social unit attracting the greatest number of scholarships.

Mr. Mall addressed the support of the men at the home games, calling attention to the particularly friendly relations existing between Kenyon and Miami, and urging them to turn out for the coming Miami-Kenyon basketball game. Mr. Wiseman backed up the basketball manager in this request, and stated that it is highly desirable that we should continue to maintain our prestige as hospitable collegians.

Necessity for prompt payment of the Revelle assessment revealed a request by the Assembly marked a short talk by Mr. Bowman. He reported on the progress of the book, and stated that it has been the policy of those concerned with the publication to benefit by all the discounts possible, he stated that the date the Board had made a saving of nearly $200 in discounts, and that these savings would promptly be re-invested in the Revelle, thus making it a better specimen of journalism. The Revelle Board, he said, personally guarantees the best book in the history of the college, from a journalistic and from an artistic standpoint.

SHOULD TIGHTEN IMMIGRATION LAWS, SAY STUDENTS

Ohio must have had an overwhelming influx of Italians within the last few months—at least so it appears on the campus. It has been very amusing to see no less than a score of supposedly intelligent men menacing and threatening Professor Baker until he at last cowed down to teach the Italian. Other courses have been dropped, curricula rearranged, and in short, a considerable row has been raised by this unique, urgent demand for Italians. Perhaps those wishing to become at some distant time eminent Cook's tourists and feel already in this early stage of life a foreboding of the dire necessity for Italians should such a position be attained. At any rate, whatever may be the motive, they have brought sufficient pressure to bear that beginning Italian is being offered by Professor Baker this semester—the first time in several years.

HONOR GUESTS AT SMOKER

South Hauna Parlor Scene Of Gala Affect; Mijlers Of Miami And Show Characters Entertain

Members of the Miami basketball squad were honor guests at a smoker held in the South Hauna parlor on the evening of February 18, immediately after the Kenyon-Miami game. Sandwiches and coffee, along with good cigarettes, were an added attraction at this delightful gathering.

Mr. Mijlers, of Miami, sang a number of late song hits which were well received; Kenyon always looks forward to the Miami smoker with much pleasure, for Mr. Mijlers is always much sought on those occasions.

Various characters from the Kenyon Puff and Powder Club show of the year entertained the guests with a number of skits from "Marrying Marilyn:" these were greatly enjoyed by all those present. Dick Gage "premier danseuse" of the show did his little sketch, while the inimitable Bill Croftt likewise came across with some of his impromptu footwork. One of the best numbers of the evening was the stunt put on by Judd and Cannon of the men's chorus from "Marrying Marilyn," when they repeated their song and dance, much to the enjoyment of the Miami men present.

Coach Little of Miami was called upon for a speech; he replied that it has always been his pleasure to know Kenyon favorably, and that he hopes he would much prefer to lose to a Kenyon team than to any other. Little claims that Kenyon is the second best college in the United States; that's all right, George, if the girls were to be taken away from Miami, your college would be second best.

Coach Smith of Kenyon stated that for his part he much preferred to lose to Miami than to any other Ohio college. The Oxford teams, he added, are famous for their good sportsmanship, and are always welcome at Campbell. Among other things, the Coach complimented the Miami men on their good showing, and admitted that the best men won.

Coach Ditmer of Otterbein likewise made a short talk; he said that in the program we had included everything from soup to nuts, and that evidently he was prototype of the nuts. Mr. Ditmer pointed out that if all teams fought as bravely, and were supported as loyally as are Kenyon teams, there would be no need for Conference rules. He added that someday he will have a youngster playing with Otterbein, and that if the rest of his teams do likewise, they will have no trouble bumping us off at a future date. Bring 'er up, Coach, bring 'em up!

"Boos" Walton, famous patron saint of Kenyon athletics, wound up the series of talks; he complimented Coach Little and his men on their showing and sportsmanship, and expressed his regret that Miami-Kenyon scraps were not more frequent.

The Miami team left for the South on the early morning train, after a few hours' sleep; incidentally, there are those of us who slept in the same bedroom with Coach Little than can vouch for the fact that when it comes to snoring, said Mr. Little is ready to meet all comers. But then, ain't Nature grand?

FEI UPSILON TEA GALA

INITIATION WEEK EVENT

The Fire U Tea Dance at prom times are commencing to be looked forward to as a very pleasant institution on the Hill. The fourth one to be given during the eighteen months since "The Owl's Nest" was formally opened, took place Wednesday, February eighth, the afternoon preceding the Informal of the Senior Prom, when eighty guests enjoyed the time passed in the hospitable rooms of the restored gambling old house, decorated with vases of roses and colored candles.

Mrs. Raymond Cahall and Mrs. Geo. F. Weed assisted in the receiving, and poured at the tea table. The dance music was that of the Keystone Six, the same splendid orchestra which graced Rose Hall for the Senior Formal and Informal dances.

Affairs of this kind turn what is likely to be a dull afternoon into a gay one, and are bound to contribute an intimate touch to the prom season.

Mt. Vernon, Ohio
For this generation at least, the world is a different place.
In this great struggle for right against might the sons of our founders found themselves fighting for life, but ever gallantly, and by deeds that again and again brought fire as host met host and as steel struck upon steel. "Contempitiles" once they were called but the stone that was neglected by the builders became the corner stone of the Temple of Liberty and Justice, as the retreat from More and subsequent history alone can testify.

Ever, as the struggle surged backwards and forwards between the nations and the beast, weary eyes and longing hearts were turned westward to America, the land of plenty and freedom—our land; and the cry went up—"how long?"
At last the answer came: our floodgates or money, men, munitions and ships were opened, and then on that glorious autumn day which this and other nations have lately so fittingly honored, the mouths of the guns became stopped, and all nations rejoiced, and there was gladness everywhere for Peace was abroad in the land.

And Kenyon, as many a war mother did, held out her arms to her sons; all but eight came back. We had paid our debt to our English brothers, our Kenyon debt of almost one hundred years ago. For fighting for the right with them to preserve their institutions that ours might live with others, we have strengthened that tie that first gave this grand old college its birth, and will continue to give it for all time, and to many future generations of loyal sons. The continuous and unbroken border of English ivy around the outside of the Memorial symbolizes that tie.

The total of the amount needed to complete the fund is not large, and should each of Kenyon's thirteen hundred odd sons do their share, the task is easy of accomplishment. So far about twenty alumni have responded for the amount raised—a number proportionately small to the whole. Can not alumni and undergraduates alike do something?

Subscriptions may be sent to the Collegian at Gambier and marked "For the Memorial Tablet," as this paper has kindly consented to act as custodian of the fund; or subscriptions may be forwarded to the writer. A list of the contributors and statement of amount raised will be published from time to time in these columns. By speaking your earnest cooperation in this matter, and trusting that my appeal will not be in vain, I am,

Yours sincerely,

M. F. MAURY, '04, Appeals For Funds To Complete Payment On War Memorial Tablet

To the Alumni and Undergraduates of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio,

Gentlemen:

On Baccalaureate Sunday, June 19, 1921, at the close of the service in the chapel of our beloved College, there was dedicated a Bronze Tablet to those Kenyon men who had paid the great price for us all in the late war.

It was fitting that such a recognition of their deeds and services should have been taken by the living at that time and place, though doubtless they were glad to pay it in that high feeling of a sense of duty and honor and devotion to truth and justice, the common equipment and heritage of all loyal Kenyon men.

The fact remains, however, that we undergraduates and alumni alike have in that tablet of imperishable bronze not only a fitting memorial to the sacrifice paid, but a symbol for all time which should help us to cherish in our hearts forever, and act them also, the ideals for which Kenyon stands and will always stand, so please God.

It therefore becomes the pleasure and duty of each Kenyon man to contribute towards the cost of this beautiful Memorial any sum, however small, even fifty cents, that each one of us may have done his part towards the repayment for the great sacrifice so freely given by those sons we honor in this manner.

Many years ago, now almost a hundred, that sturdy and beloved character—Bishop Chase, whose spirit and indomitable will is the Kenyon Spirit that is the keynote of every action past and present on this Hill, went to England and there obtained the funds that made the foundation of Kenyon College an assured fact.

From then on has seen many generations of men of other days and wars also come and go from this Hill, proud and glad in the knowledge that they were sons of Kenyon.

Then in August 1914 a startled world saw a terrible thing happen. Nation rose against nation, the foundations of society were shaken to their depths, and scars have been left on the earth, healed perhaps, but never to be erased as long as man shall endure.

MATH IS SECOND SEMESTER REPEATER

Another new item in the curriculum is a course in Mathematics 1 during the second semester. This is being done primarily to enable the men who failed to pass the course the first semester to retake it while it is still more or less fresh in their minds. Also many men who entered between semester desire it. The demand for this course has been no less urgent than that for Italian.

History 1 and Economics 1 are also repeaters this semester. These courses are being taken largely by men who desire extra credits.

DINES AT HOTEL CURTIS

The Rev. Donald Wonders, '14, Principal Speaker at Annual Non-Fraternity Gathering

West Division men were treated to a splendid annual dinner Saturday evening, February eleventh, at the Hotel Curtis in Mt. Vernon, when thirty-nine members of the division gathered to sit in on a five-course affair.

Mr. Alfred Ulrey, head of the division, presided at the get-together, and first introduced Mr. George "Zolly" Zollinger, '21, whose brief talk was pregnant with very clever remarks. Mr. Carl Feeny, Mt. Vernon electrical contractor, and who installed the lighting system at the college, likewise spoke a few words to those assembled; his remarks were very well received.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Donald Wonders, '14, now rector of the Episcopal parish in Mt. Vernon. He urged the men of his division to concentrate their energies in and to work for and love their Alma Mater. He stressed his appreciation of the fact that West Division gatherings were becoming more and more frequent, and insisted that such informal parties be continued.

The tables were attractively arranged, and were decorated in Kenyon colors. Absolute informality marked the dinner, at which Kenyon songs were featured; the affair ended with the singing of "The Thrill."

NEXT TO GODLINESS

I used to go
To the movies every day
And I liked it.
I liked Connie's hair
And Gloria's eyes
And Norma's profile
And Bebe's shoulders
And Phyllis Haver...
Well, I liked her a lot.
But a Senior told me
That the movies were low
And they were ruining the minds
Of college men.
I was so complimented to think
My mind could be ruined
That I really shot about it—
And they did seem a little off color.
And then one day I met a prof
And I surprised him
And he talked almost
As tho he knew me
And he said,
"Shadows of shadows:
The movies are bad,
They stunt your mind
And dirty it until it's Like a sponge full of dirty water."
And he said
"You aren't a shop-girl

From A Faint Blue Glow To Modern Miracles

EDISON as wit first—a mere shadow of blue light streaking across the terminals inside an imperfect electric lamp. This "leak" of electric current, an obstacle to lamp perfection, was soon banished by removing more air from the bulbs.

But the ghostly light, and its mysterious disappearance in a high vacuum, remained unexplained for years.

Then J. J. Thomson established the electron theory on the transmission of electricity in a partial vacuum—and the blue light was understood. In a very high vacuum, however, the light and apparently the currents that caused it disappeared.

One day, however, a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company proved that a current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum, and could be varied according to fixed laws. But the phantom light had vanished.

Here was a new and definite phenomenon—a basis for further research.

Immediately, scientists began a series of developments with far reaching practical results. A new type of X-ray tube, known as the Coolidge tube, soon gave a great impetus to the art of surgery. The Kenotron and Pliotron, followed in quick succession by the Dynatron and Magnetron, made possible long distance radio telephony and revolutionized radio telegraphy. And the usefulness of the "iron" family has only begun.

The troublesome little blue glow was banished nearly forty years ago. But for scientific research, it would have been forgotten. Yet there is hardly a man, woman or child in the country today whose life has not been benefited, directly or indirectly, by the results of the scientific investigations that followed.

Thus it is that persistent organized research gives man new tools, makes available forces that otherwise might remain unknown for centuries.
FRATERNITIES

INITIATE LARGE CLASSES

Delta Tau Delta With List Of Ten;
Many Men Pledged With Advent
Of Second Semester Of Year

Generally speaking, Kenyon chapters of national college fraternities initiated large classes during the recent February week-end. Perhaps the social unit with the most success was the local organization of Delta Tau Delta, which succeeded in initiating their ten pledges of September.

The fact that the college has raised its scholastic standards no doubt accounts for the numerous depressing failures, noticeably among the new men. Those who have been in college longer were much more accurate in anticipating what would be the list of examination questions.

The initiates are:

Delta Kappa Epsilon: H. E. Handy,
J. H. Boyd, Jr., E. C. Dudley, J. C.
Broder, and Gilbert Plain.

Alpha Delta Phi: E. D. Bailey,
Clyde Crane, W. D. Cannon, T. C.
Diller, and R. F. Milas.

Phi Upsilon: Douglas Downie, Wil-im Burchenal, D. V. Carey, and W. E.
Findeisen.

Beta Theta Pi: L. R. Price, L. M.
Bolemer, S. O. Hirstian, T. A. Fitzpatrick, W. H. Rusk, and L. B. Layne.

Delta Tau Delta: R. B. Harris, F. A.
Wade, R. D. Wells, W. L. Stegenman, Robert Havorka, J. R. Pattie, E. G.
Evans, W. M. Keiper, S. T. Rybak, and Geo. E. Hamilton, Jr.

Sigma Pi: James Kesselman, Walter
Raney, H. G. Evans.

The pledging of a number of second semester entrants marked the opening of the present school term. Rushing conditions at Kenyon are decidedly complicated, owing to the congested condition of both dormitories. Middle Kenyon and West Division are es-specially crowded. Hanna Hall men are sleeping six in a bed room, and even Bexley Hall reports a capacity rooming roster. The list of newly pledged men includes:

Delta Kappa Epsilon: G. H. Meredith and N. S. Graham.

Alpha Delta Phi: Sheldon Men-
ro, L. S. Russell, R. P. Kline, and T.
L. Kestina.

Phi Upsilon: T. B. Thurston and
Chas. W. Toland.

Beta Theta Pi: No new pledges.

Delta Tau Delta: J. E. Brown, Robert Robinson and Sutton Critchfield.

Sigma Pi: William Reid and R. L.
Theobald.
