PHI BETA KAPPA HOLDS INITIATION

Dr. Carl Witte Speaks On German Universities.

Five Men Initiated into Honorary Fraternity

On Wednesday, April 30th, five Kenyon undergraduates were initiated into the Kenyon chapter of Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. The Kenyon chapter is the Beta Chapter of Ohio.

Among the men who were elected to the fraternity and initiated were: Dr. S. Ashford Wood, junior; Mr. Jack M. Boyd, junior; Mr. John M. K. Brown, junior; Mr. R. C. Wood, junior; and Mr. W. C. Goldsborough, junior.

The initiation ceremony was held in the President's office, a banquet in Petre Hall was served to about 50 members of the university, and an address was given by Dr. R. D. Chipper, junior, who had come from Indiana, New Jersey, for the initiation of his son.

Dr. Witte Speaks

The lecturer chosen for the occasion was Dr. Carl Witte from Ohio State University.

Dr. Witte delivered his address in Petre Hall. Many students and faculty members were present. Dr. Witte, who holds his degree from the University of Chicago, is now chairman of the History department at Ohio State University, and Dean of the College.

The subject of the lecture, "German University Administration," was one in which Dr. Witte is thoroughly interested, and about which he is well qualified to talk. He has been in Germany three times in the last four years, the last time as the man chosen to deliver lectures in German Universities commemorating the bicentennial of Washington's birth.

Dr. Witte opened his lecture with an account of the German Universities as they were in the days before the war. He especially emphasized the principles of education, friendship, and liberalism which, as far as possible, are present in the development of German universities and scholarship. He pointed out the necessity of freedom and friendship in preserving German education in spite of German education. He said that the students were governed very carefully and zealously.

With the coming of the war, the German educational system and the social and financial troubles after the suppression of peace, these two all-importance principles of freedom and friendship were received a blow, and they have been practically ignored, although not without a great deal of protest from the students and faculty members.

In the last eight years since the war, Dr. Witte has been affiliated with several universities in the United States, and he is well aware of the conditions prevailing there.

In the past, the program presented by the Cleveland String Quartette has included the best of its kind. (Continued on Page 6, Column 3)

STRING QUARTETTE TO PLAY AT KENYON

Mr. Frank Glenn Arranges Gambler Ball Game

It was with the greatest appreciation that Kenyon should receive and announce the generosity of Mr. Frank Glenn, of Zanesville, in arranging a spring revival by the Cleveland String Quartette of Kenyon College.

The event is scheduled for 5:00 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, May 14, in the Great Hall of the College Commons.

The third annual revival by the Cleveland String Quartette of Kenyon through the generous gift of Mr. Glenn is in keeping with his former generosity. To Kenyon's benefit, the event is expected with great anticipation. Due to Kenyon's location as far as distance, the professors and students are enthusiastic about the prospects of hearing a revival by this quartette of such great talent.

Singers' Club Gives Second Broadcast

On Saturday, April 18th, the Singers' Club presented its second concert of the year on station WTAM, Cleveland, Ohio. Under the direction of Dr. Burr and P. O. Keller, the club was able to improve sufficiently to present a much better program over the Cleveland station than was given in Columbus last week.

The program included the following numbers: The Turd, Shall I Wash in Daphni; Drink to Me Only With Thine Wine, Away to Be, Swing Along, Hymn to Night, Erotes, Yes, Witches (Zinc, Zinc), Aro Siv, Alum, Alum, and Lord Kenyon Comes and Farewell.

ASTRONOMER GIVES LECTURE AT KENYON

Dr. J. J. McCann, Professor of Astronomy, Case School of Applied Science, and Director of the University's observatory, has been invited to deliver a lecture on "Solar Eclipse," in Petre Hall on Friday, April 29th. This talk concerns the eclipse in general and the recent eclipse in particular. With the aid of slides, Dr. McCann will hold forth his first lecture at 4:00 p.m., announcing the event.

GIVES LECTURE AT KENYON

Dr. A. A. Rockwell, One of the Younger Physicians and the scientist credited with developing the present system of electro-therapy, died April 19th after a brief illness. He was ninety-two years old. Dr. Rockwell was educated at Kenyon, a member of the class of 96, and at Bellevue Hospital Medical College. His interest in electro-therapeutics began soon after his return from the Civil War, in which he was said to have been the youngest surgeon, and took up general practice in New York.

A ranking authority on the sciences of electro-therapeutics, Dr. Rockwell never ceased to argue that he was created by the state to aid in the development of the extraneous.

He was literally opposed to capital punishment, declaring a year ago, "The worse use you can put a man to is to kill him." Dr. Rockwell preferred to recall his days as surgeon in the Civil War.

KENYON PLANS "H: S" WEEK-END

Week-End Of May 13th Is Set Aside For Guests

The week-end of May 13th, and 14th has been set aside by Kenyon for the use of foreign students in the School of Languages and Preparatory Schools.

A committee of students comprises of the students in the School of Languages and Preparatory Schools.

The big job of the alumna is to provide transportation and board for the guests, and the students will provide entertainment for the guests during their stay on the Hill.

2:00-4:00—Filter-Dormitory Baseball game.

4:00-9:00—A tour of the grounds and history of the College.

9:00-9:00—A reception by Dr. Pierce, to be attended by all the faculty and prospective students.

6:30-7:00—Dinner, by the dining hall, and a special reception by President Dodge of Ohio State University.

7:00-9:00—Fraternity singing in the dormitory.

Saturday, May 13th, 11, as a prize to the winning division.

9:00-11:00—Fraternity Brokers, Prospective students and Alumni.

Sunday, May 14th

Chapel with some prominent preacher invited to deliver the sermon, Dinner.

The High School Day of last spring was a success, and there is no reason why a similar venture this year cannot meet with even more satisfactory results. The success is largely due to the enthusiasm shown by the students, and the enthusiasm of the staff in the formation of the project.

In the light of Mr. Weaver's effort of a bill on this subject to divide the country, it is obvious that every division must make an effort to make the results worth of the effort expended.

Mr. Weaver is taking it in State, and has been very explicit in his views on this subject, and the same division on his High School Week-end.

The tradition of singing and social life on the Hill has been generally good, and the Hill is looking forward to the next few years, and such a contest as this might prove the desired-for purpose of bringing Kenyon's singing men more back to the one high level.
KENYON CLAN

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we have learned of the formation of the Kenyon Clan — the organization of which you approved last year's recommendation. For the first time—at least in recent years—has the athletic team been organized into one unified group, and the good which the Clan can do, both on and off the playing field, has been increased, into the college, as a whole, is practically unlimited.

The purpose of the Clan, as purely to promote, to "encourage interest and participation in sports, support, and uphold student activities and Kenyon traditions; take an active interest in the student government of the College," and to "elect managers of the various athletic teams." Thus it does not limit itself to those activities directly related with sports, but reaches into the field of activities of the student body as a whole, and allies itself with those agencies raising the betterment of Kenyon.

Due to the type of college which Kenyon is, it is possible for the Kenyon Clan to be an active interest in the College athletics —not by active participation, but, at least by throwing his support to all athletic endeavors. As the situation now stands, the interest of many students is entirely too passive, which attitude constitutes a rather unhealthy state of student opinion which could be decidedly bettered. While the Kenyon Clan will not limit itself too definitely to support of intercollegiate athletic activities, but will throw its support to the development of interdivisional contests, which have been steadily increasing in the last few years, it is an improvement in the life of the Kenyon man.

The Clan's avowed intention of supporting and upholding athletic activities to include the realm of sport, and Kenyon traditions also merits commendation. If the support of the Clan members is given to the Drama Club, the Singers' Club, and the literary societies, the nation of interest in these groups will undoubtedly revolve around the organizations to renewed interest on the part of the many students, and in the same numbers as in the past.

Apart from its work in support of student activities which will abolish a need for outside entertainment. If the Clan makes a proper improvement in this regard, it will indeed be doing a great service to the College and its students. Just as the Pan-Hellenic council has a proper interest in the welfare of the College affairs, so have many other very desirable traditions been preserved in Kenyon's scheme of things. Kenyon's singing has been boarded, day night, and has reached to out of the back door of the campus; in the Pan-Hellenic council— an organization which has the power and authority to make constructive work toward the betterment of conditions in the student body. As for the third item, "to take an active interest in the student government of the College," we fervently hope that student government will once again take the influential role it once held in Kenyon life. The raising of student influence in College affairs has not been gradual, but has taken place in the last few years. It has been, and this is in the interest of these traditions which are truly worth preserving.

DANCES

Once again the problem of holding a May dance is confronting us. The dancing days are the basis for one of Kenyon's best known traditions —a tradition for which, up to this year, the possibility of dying out has not been considered. Kenyon is, without exception, a widely-known and popular band, and the basis for their reputation is due to the fact that they provide some of the best entertainment the country has to offer. Old Kenyon men remember those weeks-end with the greatest pleasure.

It is with the utmost determination of these dances confronts us. Naturally, a dull and uninteresting performance this year to be expected, but let us not be too quick in the consideration of other possibilities. Our dances form one of the best parts of student life at Kenyon.

Kenyon Comments
By ROSSIE HALL

Now that birds sing, grass becomes green, and Sol is above the equator, once more things which (so the story book says) stir the young man's fancy are here. I'm at a loss. I've grown disgustingly lax. The Corina squats before me, pleading action, my mind tries to act, wildly, but gets me no farther than a "vision of loveliness" in picture-hat and flowered chiffon. Hearts and violins! I dream confusedly of shady lawns, cool water, dark verandas with Dunny's mashed, garlic legs. He hums! In other words, spring's here.

Kenyon saluted the new and welcome brew with his-tea at Columbus' Deshler-Wallace. But were we played for fish, were we played for fish? The stuff was greener than Ireland, weaker than the Commons coffee.

Romance, what things are committed in thy name. All doing the three night stand of "Of This I Sing." "Dean Was Garfield waited fervidly by the stage entrance, his face worn, a Lucky butt shaking between his fingers. Such patience was rewarded, however.

The track team has stripped rail to date, a pool on one perhaps athletic revival on the hill. Still they may not go far. There is something psychologically effective about running in tattered, out-moded suits, being laughed at, in consequence. I'm for new equipment all around.

If we don't have a May dance it will be for the first time since the days of Salmon P. and Rutherford B.; so try hard boys. It's always been the hot spot of the year.

Since Carl and Stew have their respective Pierce-Arrows and motorcycle the campus is a better place to live in.

Thank heaven, the season for screaming at one another, ragging the weather, is gone. I never liked it. And so until then.

Kenyon College Given Unique Memorial by Alumnus

Unique among memorials recently presented Ohio colleges in the large wood carving sent to Kenyon College by Rev. Rolla Dyer, of Tyrone, North Carolina, member of the class of '94, and graduate in divinity from Bentley Hall, Kenyon, in '96. The carving is now hung in the Coffee Shop in Petrel Hall.

The Rev. Mr. Dyer, retired minister, gave it recently as a special and truck pleasure. The carving, presented Kenyon, is three feet in length and two inches in thickness. Its central figure is the Chase Cabin, original building of Kenyon. It was erected by Bishop Philander Chase, founder of the college, in 1852.

Alumni Publishes Letter on Recent Legislation

An article by George Clarke Cox, '96, which was published in a New York paper of April 17, has lately come to our attention. Mr. Cox is a frequent contributor to current newspapers and periodicals and is an excellent writer in this field. Although this article may at first seem removed from the interests of Kenyon and its students, yet some reflection will show that Mr. Cox's remarks are pertinent to the situation of each of us, and careful consideration of his remarks may prove enlightening.

The following are excerpts from "No Mandate for a New City," by Mr. Cox. He opens his remarks by drawing our attention to the special safeguards which the president proposes to be thrown around his ownership as a guaranty of social and economic stability. "If this explanation is correct, then, while the homeowner will be given immense relief—namely, a reduction of 20 per cent of the face value of his mortgage and of 1 per cent in interest—Mr. the man, or institution lending the money will lose 20 per cent in principal value and 2 per cent interest, or 63 per cent of his total income thereof. In other words, Peter would be robbed to pay Paul."

Kenyon Takes Baseball Defeat From Wooster

Baseball Revival Goes Off To Bad Start.

Kenyon again turns out a baseball team, after missing a year, but with a mediocre lack of success. The game, held with Wooster at Wooster, was 3 to 1. This was the first game of the season, and the team had had one day of practice previous to it. Wooster was greatly aided by the expert pitching of Motto, and Kenyon was outmatched by the bat as well as the glove up to a certain point. Then the game started the game by keeping our team silent as they hit hit and scored five runs in the next frame. Not satisfied with this, they continued with two more in each of the second and third innings. Kenyon made no determined rallies at any time, and the only score was made in the sixth, when Swanson scored and Judge was hit by a pitched ball. Dohman made the first Kenyon hit, scoring Swanson, but the dam was rapidly retched after this brief bid. Then appeared only two hits in the entire game, one by Dohman, and another by March, both bad for good. For the whole season, Dohman reached second on his due to this. But from the Woon-er right fielder, crashed a batted in deep center with the bases loaded in the first inning, and was served to lower the Kenyon morose.

Singers' Club gives Second Broadcast

(Continued from Page 1, Column 2) The number of Kenyon singers was limited. Songs in English, German, and Latin, the program gave an excellent opportunity to the Kenyoningers to show their fullest capabilities.

It is now being planned for theingers to give at least one full program on the Hill, and they will probably be called on to sing numerous religious occasions, of which they were during the High school week-end. Naturally they have reached their fullest development for the organization is so new and the Kenyoningers' training cannot be expected to the present time. However, it is hoped that at least some of the Kenyoningers will understand increase in the coming year.
