Golf Kenyon's Most Successful Sport

The golf season this year was the most successful ever enjoyed by the Kenyon team, as this year's group met no conference matches, easily winning the championship. Burr won the high point man, for eighteen holes, thus winning the matches and the first place in the county for the year.

The start of the season was most auspicious, for Cincinnati came only once and won by a large margin, scoring -3 points to Kenyon's +3. This game had no bearing on the overall standing, however, as the conditions did not damage the chances of teams. Cincinnati, Kenyon's opponents, were successful in the season, although Cincinnati managed to repeat on their home course.

The next match, played against the College of Wooster, was more successful, since the team managed to deal the opponents, 11.5 to 8. This match was played at Mt. Vernon also, and the first out of the five games was won by Kenyon on April 28 when Kenyon met its arch-rival at Alliance. This match again proved the superiority of men over men. The opposing teams, Kenyon winning, 15 to 5.

A week later, the team took another distant trip to Springfield, Ohio, and Clinton won for the sixth game of the season. Were Kenyon's opponents, thus winning, 15 to 3. The Kenyon team turned the tables, however, beating Oberlin, 12.5 to 7, at Mt. Vernon and touring Wooster for the most decisive victory of the year. The Mount Vernon, however, was called off because of the bad weather, and when Denison journeyed here on May 14, they had seen the winner's parade, 13.5 to 4.

In the remaining matches Kenyon scored five, losing only to Denison again in the last match of the season. Ohio Wesleyan was 6.0.

PROF. KELLER HOLDS

POSITION UNDER TAN

This position under the Text Research Foundation which surveys and lists the national, state, and local tax systems in the U.S. and the law of the majority of the other important countries. Mr. Keller's special field includes all state corporate laws, state taxation, and state income laws.

Two options are to be subject to the approval of the adviser.

Conclusions

Each student should be familiar with the Text Research Foundation. This is a subject which should be covered three years in college, and not more than six years courses to be determined and selected by the major professor. The course may be in more than one department on the content of the advisor, viz., there may be more than six courses, and the student must take these courses, so as to make one or two in the major field.

POLICY

With this issue, Frank Mallett assumes the duties of the new editor of The Collegian. However, the editorial column is still in the hands of the retiring editor, and Mallett gives expression, for the last time, to certain ideas that come under the editorial policy of The Collegian for the year 1932-33.

The past academic year has been marked by charges and innovations, some of which The Collegian has opposed, but many of which the paper has welcomed. The reduction in the faculty staff met our strongest opposition and denomination, and it is our freest hope that the dismissed men will be reinstated, with no further possibility of such a situation arising again.

This past year has seen the formation of two new organizations on the Hill, both of them solely concerned with opening new possibilities for the betterment of Kenyon life. The Kenyon Club hopes to improve the athletic status, and, if with 21 all these things which are best in life at Kenyon, the Singers' Club fills in a gap that has been open for many years, and it is to be hoped that the Singers will receive the old Kenyon singing tradition.

The Collegian has supported very necessary changes in fraternity pledging and initiation, and has given publicity to these changes adopted by the Pan-Hellenic Council. The new rules will work not only to the benefit of the fraternity chapters, but will undoubtedly work toward the betterment of the Collegian as well.

Before closing the year, The Collegian wishes to give its last editorial of the year. The past few months have seen a great growth in divisional politics on the Hill, and this is one condition of progress that means much. Politics has no place in Kenyon life, and if such activity is allowed to grow...

To the trustees, the faculty, the alumni including the Class of 1913, the other alumni and guests cordially invited to accept the hospitality of the College at the Alumni Luncheon in the Great Hall at one o'clock on Monday.

I had a very good time but before that there had been a few girls around I could have enjoyed myself.

"Tyrell West said: "The English atmosphere made the most striking impression on me. The rain was even English, for one Professor said that these rainy days reminded him of his school days at Oxford. The architecture of all the college buildings was English. The chapel was built like churches in England with the pews facing across the main aisle. Then too, as Mike has told you, all the professors were English except one. I even enjoyed the meals. Senator Patterson gave a very interesting speech in the afternoon. However, I believe the thing which impressed me most was one professor who had a Van Dyke beard. When I grow up I mean to have one like his."
NEW CURRICULUM

The major requirements may vary for different students even in the same department.

Dr. Guidance.

The President appoints a number of advisors and assists the students among them. The advisors are to help the students in the guidance of their lives. The advisors shall have complete charge of the students' selection of courses outside of the major, with the provision that the student fulfill the requirements for graduation. The major requirement shall be fulfilled by a student in a major required by the student in securing a well-rounded liberal arts education, in view of the student's abilities, interests, and plans. It is in the function of the major professor to provide the student with information and guidance as to the field of concentration.

E. Instructors at their discretion may conduct their courses as "instructor courses" or as seminars.

F. Physical Training is included in all Professors.

G. The quantitative requirements shall consist of 20 years courses or more than 120 semester hours.

H. The degree of Bachelor of Arts is awarded upon the completion of the above requirements.

NOTE: Only one undergraduate degree (A.B.) will be conferred by Kenyon College.

The above curriculum is effective for the class of 1937 and subsequent classes. It is optional for the class of 1934, 1935 and 1936.

DELTAS WIN BASEBALL

Kenyon is just as much as our own and the head men of Middle Leonard also pressed for the continuation of the Interscholastic Participation Trophy, as they have won two baseballs and footballs, and won second in each of the cross.

The Delta lead in championship for Kenyon is probably the result of the extensive work in the gulf with which the Delta track has been associated.
