Oldest Ohio Grid Rivalry Renewed at Denison Friday

Records Show 13 Victories for Denison, 12 for Kenyon During Last 48 Years. Purple To Use Aerial Attack

The oldest grudge rivalry in the state, a forty-eight-year battle, will be renewed Friday night after a four-year lull, when Kenyon moves to Granville for a new with Denison’s Big Red, eleventh game of Double’s deck.

Nearly half a century ago, back in 1901, Granville’s Kenyon moved into the big city and was victorious over the Granville team. The game was played in the season only to lose in a meet with the better team the same year.

This time around, neither team is a novelty. But the future is sure to come, and the Kenyon-Syracuse football future is perhaps no surprise in the starting line.

Spurred on by news from Coach Wilbert Hazeltine that many, if not several, Frank, has recovered from an early season injury and is in shape for the opening game, the Kenyon back field has developed rapidly and is expected to be a big asset the team. Hazeltine is much pleased with the results so far and is confident of a victory.

The Collegetown will open its schedule Saturday with a match against the Kenyon. This week’s game is expected to be a strong one and the team is expected to make a good showing.

Hedges Land's Disqualified at 3:00

While Charley Hedges was flying to Washington, D. C., Monday, September 17, motor trouble forced him down at the Willington, Delaware, Bakery. Hedges had left New York, and was enroute to his home in Washington, when Kenyon’s Fleet’s Kinney motor swelled and burst as much power that Hedges could hardly maintain altitude. He flew the critical ship for 10 minutes in this condition, until he could make a safe landing at the Willington airport.

Barograph Installed

A new barograph was installed recently in the Kenyon hangar by the Agricultural Department. This piece of equipment was valued at two hundred and fifty dollars, in addition to the barograph itself that is installed by the government last spring. A barograph records barometric pressure in a column of mercury on a cylindrical chart.

Parade Postponed

The Freshman pajama parade, previously planned for tonight, has been postponed until the early part of next week. The parade was to be postponed until the Sophomore class, announced today.

Kenyon Enrollment Reaches Peak of 300

Scholarship Grants Total $25,520, Distributed Among 78 Men

This year Kenyon boasts a full enrollment of 300 students. This number tops the enrollment of several previous years. There are 105 students, of which are Freshmen. Ten Students.

Three Juniors have transferred from such schools as O. Arizona, Denison, Chicago, U. Grand Rapids Jr. College and Harvard.

Chicago leads the list with eleven students. Mr. Stewart McGowan, registrar of the college, reports that the class is varied and made the poorest showing of any class in the history of the college for the number of students is concerned. 25 seniors are enrolled at the college, with 24 sophomores, and 22 freshmen, and the college is well on its way to a full enrollment of 300.

There are 14 freshmen entering to graduate as the Class of ’39. The class of ’49 has enrolled, while the Sophomore class has not yet enrolled.

This total of 360 is realized by adding the seniors of the various classes.

Forty percent of the entire college enrollment is in the Sophomore class.

Henderson Lands Disqualified

On Friday of last week, the class of ’39 is not yet complete, and many sophomores are expected to graduate.

The senior class is expected to graduate by the fall of the senior class.

The class of ’49 is expected to graduate by the fall of the senior class.

The class of ’50 is expected to graduate by the fall of the senior class.

The class of ’51 is expected to graduate by the fall of the senior class.

The class of ’52 is expected to graduate by the fall of the senior class.

Remodeled Douglas House Becomes Dorm For Kenyon Students

The David Bates Douglas House is the building leased by the students of the University to house the veterans of the war.

The building is now being used as a dormitory for the veterans.

Small Staff Edits College Year Book

“A year in the university will be edited by a small staff," said the annual magazine committee. "It will be edited by the students of the university."" The staff is to be made up of a group of students who will be selected by the faculty. The work will be divided among the members of the staff so that each may have a specific task.

The work will include writing, editing, and the production of the book. The staff will be responsible for the content and quality of the book.

Five Plays Scheduled For College Dramatists.

First Tryouts Given

"All Your Houses" By Maxwell Anderson To Be Presented.

At the Dramatic Club on Thursday, September 24, in the Phelps Gym at Kenyon, the first tryouts for the play "All Your Houses" by Maxwell Anderson will be held.

The play is a drama about a family in a small town, and the rehearsals will be held under the direction of Miss A. L. Smith, the Dramatic Club’s new director.

The rehearsals will be open to the public, and anyone interested in participating in the play is welcome to attend.

The play will be presented in the college’s annual fall play, and the production will be directed by Miss Smith.

Small Staff Edits College Year Book

This year’s college yearbook will be edited by a small staff, as the annual magazine committee has decided. The staff will be made up of students who will be responsible for the content and quality of the book.
KENYON COLLEGE SPIRIT

Have Kenyon students as a whole any college spirit? If so, what exactly form does it take? How does it analyze? These questions and others like them ran riot in column-lengths and editorial inches last year. These columns and inches were thumb-marked and finger-pressed by practically every journalist in the city, in an attempt to ascertain the number of individuals contributing. Some concluded that Kenyon spirit in its truest existence lives unexposed—an obscure and beautiful thing too fair for common display. Others claimed indignantly that the rah-rah, racy football was prevalent—a hangover from high school days. From these, the following conclusion was derived: that a thing so imaginative and intangible was advanced until the word spirit itself entered the language. Should Kenyon spirit be neither rah-rah nor rah-rah, intangible is it, real and vital. When Kenyon meets Denison this coming Friday, it is more than probable that over two-thirds of the body of the school will be in attendance. There will be cheer- ing, singing and other displays of spirit, but the spirit itself is deeply felt. Functionally, it is the deep feeling and pride in Kenyon that every Kenyon man holds because of his intimate association with the school. It represents his and his family's history as a part of the Kenya education. To keep Kenyon middle position of superiority. Actually every Kenyon man, due to his own efforts and the efforts of those before him, has an unchangeable right to be proud of his school—his spirit is the acknowledgment of this.

NO PARKING

The completion of the new stone walk, running the full length of Peirce Hall, has added much to the beauty of the setting of Kenyon's largest building. In construction of the walk it was necessary to have a sharp curving line one side of the road running in front of the campus. Where formerly it was easy to park, it is now impossible to do so, as the drive is in front of the building, now rather close driving is necessary, and students walking are endangered if cars are parked next to the walk. An effort is being made to end this practice and to eliminate as much as possible, the breaking-up of a stately line of evergreens to Peirce Hall. It is hoped that cars will not be parked in front of the Great Hall.

KENYON'S NEW DIETITIANS IMPRESSED BY BEAUTY AND SYSTEM OF PEIRCE HALL

"Although we have seen little Kenyon outside of Peirce Hall, what we have seen of the school has impressed us greatly," remarked Misses Millicent Kishel and Lilly C. Chang, dietetic students, who are in charge of the college's commissary this year.

"Of course the boys here have more freedom than the girls at Rockford; they want to go, but Kenyon men were given good judgment in using their liberties."

"The kitchens are well equipped and systematically arranged but there are a few minor complications which will be taken care of as time goes by."

Miss Kishel remarked, "I don't think there is a college in the United States that has a Dining Hall which even compares with Peirce Hall. It is truly beautiful; I especially like the stained glass windows." The formal dinners we have had with Kenyon from some standpoint is its isolation from the large markets of the cities. This makes it difficult to keep a supply of vegetables and other necessities on hand," both dietitians agreed.

"For the Kenyon man the system of parking is the only one they preferred boys or girls they answered trenchantly that they had been associated with girls for 15 years and with boys for 15 days so could give an unbiased answer to the question."

They did add, however, that it was agreed to arrange at meals as are Kenyon boys, girls would over the privileges to such an extent that one would find it difficult to see in the hall.

"The system of parking and the washing system here; this is our first experience with such a system but so far it has worked splendidly."
