COAL SHORTAGE NOW RELIEVED BY ONE TRUCK LOAD
C.I.O. Coal Miners Suffer As A.F. of L. Secures Aid

G. W. Weir, mining engineer of the Bruceton Coal Company, said that the coal shortage was caused by a strike in the C.I.O. coal mines. The miners had been on strike for three weeks, and the company had not been able to obtain coal from any other source. The strike had been called by the miners, who were demanding a raise in wages.

The miners in Laurel under A. F. of L. leadership were on strike, and the company had closed their mines. The situation was critical, and the company was having difficulty obtaining coal.

The coal shortage had been made worse by the Pennsylvania Railroad strike, which had prevented the shipment of coal.

The company was hoping to obtain coal from other sources, but the situation was uncertain. The miners were demanding a raise in wages, and the company was trying to hold the line on wages.

Singing Shows Improvement

Editorial:

The last chance for newspaper writers being what they are, is seldom that editorial writers have the opportunity to see their words having any effect. But last Sunday that singing in the common, which has been the subject of some rather severe criticism of late, was tremendously improved, and has been better for the last three or four weeks. Here indeed was the recognition of the efforts of the others when the members of the senior class added a sincere honor to one of them by asking him to lead the common in a song. We hereby extend our sincerest congratulations for the honor, and for the recent superior quality of the singing.

Concerning Spring House Cleaning

This week we turn our attention to the house cleaning of the residence halls and other dormitories. This week is known as the week of beautification of the whole world around it represented the time best suited for the accomplishment of this task. Many other similar projects, as the cleaning of the dormitories, the halls and other rooms, have been performed in an impeccable household in the past. However, it is important to note that even though feminine is not to be excluded, male students have also been very active in this great undertaking. In fact, many males have stepped up to the plate and volunteered their services in an unstinting expenditure of hours.

Kenyon is cleaning. And in one house it is cleaning with a vengeance. In state of this College the cleaning is approaching the status of a cleaning colossus. In the last few days the janitorial force has been feeling the full pressure of the considerable amount of work that has been assigned to them. One janitor’s job was being considered more difficult as it involved the removal of many stickers and advertisements from the building.

General cleaning of the campus has begun in maintenance departments offices, and it has been observed that no area is being overlooked. In many cases the janitorial force is being supplemented by students who are willing to help in the task of cleaning.

First of all, all students are required to contribute to the cleaning efforts. This is particularly true of those who have been assigned to a specific cleaning task. It would be unfair to those who have been given this task to expect that they would be able to do their job alone.

The College has passed its notice that fliers are not allowed to post them in any part of the building. All of which is to say that if you smoke it is what you can smoke. If you smoke it, ask the janitor.”

There is nothing said about what you can do in the common room. Love, Kenyon College.

MADAM THEO’S GLASS TRAVELS TO COLUMBUS

The members of the first class of the summer session, under the direction of Mr. S. B. Brace, have traveled to Columbus to visit a glass company that is associated with the Kenyon College organization. The trip was arranged by Mr. S. B. Brace and the company has agreed to host the students at their headquarters.”

To the Editor

Our College is facing a difficult situation. The student body of Kenyon is facing a crisis due to the current state of the world. It is our responsibility to address this issue and work towards finding solutions.

First, it is important to acknowledge the challenges that students are facing. The current situation has caused disruptions to their academic progress, leading to a loss of opportunities and experiences.

Second, the college administration must take immediate action to support students. This includes providing flexible academic policies, mental health services, and financial assistance.

Finally, it is crucial to foster a supportive community. Students should be encouraged to reach out to their peers, faculty, and staff for guidance and resources.

In conclusion, we must work together to ensure the well-being of our students and the future of our college.

Yours sincerely,

CAPITOL CINDERMEN WIN OVER KENYON

Easy Victory, Sweep Five Of Six Running Events

Due to superior strength in the distance and distances the Kenyon duals fell before the Capitol breakers in a dual meet last Friday, Oct. 1.

Capital managed to make a fine sweep of the duals taking all places in the 18-yard dash and pulling up first and seconds in most of the other dashes and middle distances. Thus Capital swept eight feet led by their first and distance man Lonzefeldt, winner.

The weather was fair and suitable to the running events last Friday, Oct. 1.

Mid West Meet (Continued from Page 1) third, two and fourth, one point and the ball. The final 50 points in each game to be played and the last 10 points in each game to be played. The first game will be played on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Donald Greaves of the Kenyon Department of American Studies, to officiate during the meet. Judge have not yet been announced.

The contestants will be housed at the President's House and the Union, and the matches will be played in the Kenyon gymnasium. Although a few may expect the women's matches, it is expected that the majority will remain for the evening festivities, and leave Sunday.

Although filled with excitement and promise, it has been a slow process. She has traveled extensively in France, Russia, and many other countries. Toscanini once told her, "A voice like yours is heard only once in a hundred years." Miss Anderson was not originally scheduled to appear here. The first of this season's recitals was to be in the Metropolitan Opera, but illness prevented her appearance. Then in mid-December the club announced that Miss Anderson had been booked for the 4th of May, near the close of her fourth American tour.

Golf Team Wins

Kenyon has had outstanding golfers, but none in its history has had such a well-balanced team, strong in all four positions. Only one man of last year's team has moved on, and a second nicher has resigned his post. John Clements stands in at number one again. The end of the squad in comparative strength is on the other two positions, John Atlba at three, and Jack Levine at four.

One of the toughest matches will be played this afternoon. The other two which cause a bit of trouble are the "Champion" Division team on their own course and Marietta having the consolation match. After polishing off the conference trophy at Hildreth, the Kenyon men will take on the Allegheny College at Columbia.
