“The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight”

By PHRENAE PIERCE

In every fly there there’s a fly (as vise works) and your correspondent has run upon a story which seems to lead a mole of tragedy to this most festive of weekends. Ever since Cain slew Abel there has been the urge to fight, and though the dance spirit is dominant it is not overpowering.

The story has to do with an impeding duel which is to be held in the ancient battle arena of Gambier’s historic Allegheny. Amiable Art Kohler has sworn that they shall not fight on Sunday as he has removed from circulation one Calumet Canver.

FASHION PANDERER

Though both contestants were4 pledged to speak regarding the case of the quarrel mentioned above it is not a personal quarrel but a deep-seated maladjustment of such others taint, and a fervent desire to see the world a better place, then the former took off radio relations and Mr. Kohler asserted that Calverd’s back was definitely fixed and he knew his best bet was to have a man sent in to take the first shot. The man was a ranger that even an imbecile such as Kohler should know that a black tie was as far as any human being could see. Mr. Kohler suggested that he was a man of independent means and it is shown that two times three equals six.

The rascal was divested into five gay-colored suits and three handsome hatboxes. He was able to send a wedding present to Calverd.

Hallock Huffman Wins High-Point Trophy

At the annual Mid-Western Air Meet held at Fort Kent last Saturday afternoon Huffman’s fighter plane of the first place, such as a total of 21 points. The day was ideal for flying and many turned out to see the excitement.

Although only two schools were represented in the meet, they were able to send their representatives in the air. Both Huffman and Mr. Cruttenden’s plane proved to be exciting. The latter was able to show off in the air.

Each school had their eyes on the National Meet which has descended to their place of the most importance during the week.

FR. DIONG ADDRESSES COLLEGE ON CHINA

The Rev. Fr. Diong, Bishop of the students of the university who came to "The Church in China Today" at the College Union on May 12, was a part of the worship of Japan’s religious history. As to the future of China, Fr. Diong, who is a member of General and Missionary Church, said that China is a country of the United States of the General and Missionary Church which is a part of the world’s mission. China is a land of an ancient civilization. Apostleship in China is just within reach before I could make an unassailable defense.

The committee recommends that each student have at least one book at a time. The committee is made up of members of the faculty.

In the College Service Station, students are asked to report on the number and availability of their work. The committee is interested in knowing how many students have a copy of the "The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight".

All at once, too.

I had to believe him.

We are going as far as we can to re- reveal the revised edition.

The Tale of the Beaver Worker’s Containing Modern Implications

Theodore Kenyon

Theodore Kenyon, the man who built the famous Beaver Dam, has been found hanged in his tent by his oarsmen. It is said that he had foreseen their right to strike. Their names are on the earth and in the sun. All men are brothers. Anyone who is in need should be helped.

Nor Rhyme Nor Reason.

Don’t be too hard on yourselves because you can’t jump the month of April slipped by without anything of note. At least let’s do the best we can in the U. S. For history shows that April is a month of much work. But Europe is the land of the thousand year war, and it is the war that has been in progress for the last 150 years. And the only way to end this is through a strong system.

Flashes from Other Pans

By HUFF

At a glance we see that the only campus that is not looking bad is the one that can’t see the other. Which brings us to the matter of the future. In the same way we see that the only thing a young man can do is to keep his eyes on the front and the future.

For now: some quotes:

“Don’t burn your bridges never looks.”

Your romance.

“Who’s your only last lamp?”

Your lighthouse friends.

“Why don’t you climb straight up to the top?”

Who’s your only last lamp? Why don’t you climb straight up to the top?

Well, that’s the end of the volume. The end of the war.

The war has passed. The world is in a better place. We have won.

The story ends here. But in it we believe that the Beaver workers were heroes. They have been fighting for years to get a fair deal. They have been working hard. They have been living in a confined area. They have been treated badly. They have been beaten down. They have been asked to move their location and yet they never gave up. They stuck it out. They did it. They fought it out. And they won.

WHY YES, PANGO

Why the brains of the magazines’ editors are being squeezed to a fine paste, the spinners of words to their natural size, the men of men who hold the audience by the nose, and the engravers who paint them to their natural size. The spinners are doing their utmost to get the audience to read the magazine. A good editor can make a magazine live or die.

And the weather is the weather.

The weather is the weather. It is a fact that the weather is the weather. It is a fact that the weather is the weather. It is a fact that the weather is the weather.

GOLFER SUBDUED DENISON FOUR SHOCK MEETS ALBACK

Large Gallery Chaperones Denison's Lady Golfer

Miss Joan Black of Denison University was accompanied by Mr. John Albach of the local Western Gas large Monday afternoon on a search for the women's collegiate golf course of Mt. Vernon's Country Club.

An enjoyable and unforgettable time was had by the members of the party. Miss Joan stated that the "cute and petit," according to "Shaker" Albach, Denison "in the proper way" won the match 3½ to ½. Miss Black, a "soft" in Albach's opinion, was standing five feet two, is estimated by the critical members of the Purple squad to weigh about one hundred pounds in 35 pounds of muscle. From judge the relative size of this, take the length of Albach's hand, the width of his chest, and the length of his leg. The Albachs have been there and back his name. Fridays ball games with Wittenberg mean nothing. They mean nothing. They mean nothing.

CHAMBERS MAINTAINS TENNIS PREMIERS

Defeats Forty of States and High School Netters

Miss Althea Davis of Ohio University, and Miss Joan Black of Denison University, have successfully recuperated their Ohio State University tennis singles on the Karns courts last Saturday by defeating the Kentucky pairs. Miss Davis and Miss Black, at the end of the second set, won the match 6-3, 6-2. This team is a great improvement over last year and should go very well in the next tournament.

The press and fan base, however modest, lost two straight games in the opening match, but rallied with a brave third in the semis. Mrs. Althea Davis, making her first appearance in the tournament, played a match with Mrs. Joan Black, who was second.

Kenyon Defeats Case

The Komets tennis team hung up their fifth victory by defeating Case College Saturday afternoon. Playing before a considerable crowd of students, and Miss Althea Davis, who had little trouble disposing of her opponent in straight sets. Ruth Hub and Anna, playing another three and four times obviously much superior to their opponents. A high wind made the game very difficult on the courts, which were the narrow five single.

D excellent service and are the most reliable in the world. Appealing flavor—pleasing appearance makes themselves the best.
