why yes pango!

the labor strikes for recognition of one union as the sole bargaining agent for all of labor, says Pango. Take the arbitrary control of business through the S. E. C., and the control of everything and everybody else through government subsidies. I say...

And, concludes Pango, after you consider all these things, it is no wonder that the highest station in the world is ranked sixteenth of all the nations in extent of recovery from the last depression. And don't forget, I add, the figures of the National Resources Bureau which show a loss of 200 billion dollars worth of goods and services because of waste and disorganization due to these greedies.

But Pango adds, a change must come. We will either return to the Constitution in government and real Americanism in business, or we will regress to some kind of Fascism. I wonder which it will be, I say. Ask the voters, says Pango, they are the one who know.

.... around the town....

the Bremen to escape notice, was the voyage from Port Cornwall's to the Port of Londonderry this week as reported by Captain Tannor of the Boat Fleet. Running the blockade of State Troopers on the heels of expired auto tag bearers, Capt. Tannor told a thrilling story of fiction like drams. Unfortunately, however, was the skip of Capt. Morganah whose blockade running was not quite as successful.

BIGGAME HUNTING: To light this week came reports of one of the largest game hunts in a decade of Gambier hunting history. Armed with weapons of all descriptions, a posse of six set out one afternoon last week to waylay the members of the feline race at home beneath the wings of one Mr. Tony Rustman. Stimulated by the Resources of Mrs. Tony Rustman, the posse surrounded. Well, says the Rustman, some hunters daring to come within a few feet of the feline. As the hunt began, two members of the group ventured to the house hunting on raters, and several other uncomfortable sounds which soon drove the "Burr Hill" followers into the open. As they emerged, a bale of groceries, a two-wheeled cart, now arrived, however, for the rusted axle, was not happy. Various reasons were given for the hunt: (1) Mr. Tony Rustman doesn't like cats; (2) they eat the wheat; (3) they eat the chicken, there have been kittens, thereby increasing their number — logically enough.

Amateur Golf

at meager but for Better Boys. It looked as if the sun would still shine on the amateurs, but not too long and too many others turned professional. There has been very little amateur golf in the Three理事. It is rumored that as few as two or three private citizens plan to change it back. The great newspapers and magazines have been so close to this fair sport to bring the professional forward and make it again trust out of the limelight.

The law of averages has worked again, for it has of necessity cut off only three or four amateurs. But we still have the opportunity to regain the crowds. The frequent broadcasts. They must follow it in a more simple way and name it will most likely be with the thought of money-making.

The eclipse is over in spite of Back-Ward's great showing at Phila-delphia last year; the victory was completed by the feeling that it is again the province of the amateurs. Accordingly, when the college is to go the eclipse, it is a small case.

The hopes of the amateurs lie with the college president and their administration be a credit to the number other very rare. They do not want to make what they have done, and the publicity is the more and the news papers should encourage them to do so.
