McKinley Book

Soon Off Of Press

Kenyonian, Charles McKinley, Jr., of the class of 1910, has written the publication of his first book, which is entitled "A Mighty Fortress." The book contains ten essays, each relating to the life of Charles Swoboda, a student at Kenyon College, who was killed in World War II.

The book is modeled somewhat after his second book, "The Castle," which he published in 1937. The book contains ten essays, each relating to the life of Charles Swoboda, a student at Kenyon College, who was killed in World War II.

Add New Gift Sets to Library

One of the most important acquisitions made by the library recent years has been several hundred volumes of fiction and non-fiction. The library, located in the Engstrom Memorial Building, houses a variety of books on a wide range of topics.

The library includes a vast collection of fiction, non-fiction, and academic works. It also offers a variety of resources for research and study.

Play Schedule

Heaviest Yet

About forty recitals turned out for Friday night's program at the Kenyon College Playhouse. The recital was entitled "The Heaviest Yet," and featured a variety of musical performances.

The fall plays are comedies, and the cast will consist of twenty-four actors. The cast is still being selected, and more details will be announced later.

New Interest In Music

This year more and more interest is being taken in musical matters on the campus. The Kenyon College chapel choir, the weekly record concert, and the annual concert all serve to add to the musical activities of the campus.

The Kenyon choir, under the direction of Mr. Weis, has rehearsed for a week during the summer to prepare for the fall term. The Kenyon College chapel choir, the weekly record concert, and the annual concert all serve to add to the musical activities of the campus.

Gepson, Gorin In Toledo

Gepson and Gorin, now in their early thirties, are leaders in the field of architecture. They have been responsible for the design of many important buildings throughout the United States.

New Road To Encircled Dorm

Plans are underway to extend Old Kenyon Road, the main thoroughfare on the campus, to create a new road that will connect the encircled dormitories to the rest of the campus.

The road will be a continuation of Old Kenyon Road, and will allow for easier access to the encircled dormitories. The road will be completed in time for the start of the fall semester.

Delta Phi

Delta Phi is a new sorority that will be formed this fall. The sorority will be formed by the merger of three existing sororities: Delta Delta, Alpha Kappa, and Phi Sigma.

New Planes at Kenyon

There are two new planes at Kenyon College, one of which is a new model built by Grumman Aircraft, and the other is a small two-person plane built by the students.

Powell Makes New Finds

Dr. Powell has made some exciting new finds in the area of physics, and is currently working on a new experiment that could lead to significant breakthroughs.

Delta Phi New Lounge

The new lounge for Delta Phi is located in the newly constructed dormitory, and features comfortable seating and ample space for socializing.

Geopolitical Changes in China

The recent changes in China have had a significant impact on the political landscape of the region.

Wrestling Team

The wrestling team is scheduled to begin its season in January, and will be led by Coach John Smith.

Adamic Speaks Thursday

Dr. Adamic will be delivering a lecture on Thursday afternoon, discussing the latest developments in his field of study.

Kenyon Score Again

Kenyon College scored a victory against the University of Michigan in their recent football game.

KOHENO COLLEGE

Gentlemen:

Ever since my first day as a student at Johnstown College many years ago, I have enjoyed reading The Collegian. From the first day of its publication up to this one this newspaper has been a matter of great interest to me. It has been a daily recreation for me and I am very glad to see that it is still being published.

Johnstown, Pa.

The Collegian

Gentlemen:

Along the front of the Johnstown area we have been looking out of the windows of the small rooms and the large rooms of our city for the past several years. We have been looking for a mind that understands speech and understands the meaning of the words that are spoken.

The best of wishes for another successful year. If you feel that you can do a job of work you can do it better than anyone else. If you feel that you can do it in a better way you can do it in a better way.

KOHENO COLLEGE
Hill Improved During Summer

During the summer, few students have occupied the hill. Although, of these some were extensive. What new residence to Bishop's House has been completed. The residence of Bishop's House, to Bishop Leonard, and final-ly, to Bishop Rogers, this house has stood empty for two years. Completely remodeled, it is now the residence of the Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Eau, and the presi-dent's secretary.

Extensive work also is to be found in the basement of Middle Hanna, where the completely new parlor of the Hanna Hall was built. Let indirectly by the hall behind the window pan-ning the whole atmosphere becomes that of a large room with borders, sliding doors, carefully hid-den and, it is furnished with tables and chairs matching the old paneling. Flag lamps with a change in the room, and an English hunt-scene painted on the wall complete that arrange-ment. While the old parlors and green over-stuffed chairs are here are entirely well arranged about a cut-stone fireplace.

Yale Adds New Music Course

In response to increasing interest in music and a de-mand from undergraduates, Yale college has added seven courses on various musical subjects. The new depart-ment, which is under the di-rection of Professor Robert Hinckley, has a separate from the School of Music for the benefit of the undergraduate students. One of the courses covers the his-tory and development of music and the theory and compo-sition, and the theory and composition. Studies are in the choral music, organ, har-py, piano, and modern music, and music, and music and music and music and music.

racy was developed by men of whose leaders believed fervently in God. The conception itself is closely related to Christianity. I don’t think democracy will lose long either among irreligious men or among men who take their religion ready-made from somebody else; as the servant a man can do to present himself as well as do in his community’s freedom is more likely to come out for himself if he can possibly what beliefs he can be sure of for himself.

The central issues of your editorial last week are port and I am sorry that they have been raised. They are extremely important; if we are to treat of the needs and conventions; and I hope, however, that we shall be at hands Thursday evening; the third, and I shall be especially pleased if men interested to talk about their ideas will come to Cromwell house. If that date is not convenient for any who would like to come I hope they will tell me so that we can arrange another time as well.

Yours sincerely,

John G. Chalmers.

Appointment

President Chalmers announced on Friday that Mr. Charles McKinney, Kany, 1949, has been appointed as administrative assistant. His special duties will be threefold: to assist Dean Hoag in matters relating to the placement of undergraduates and graduates; to assist Dean Eastman in admissions work and in handling alumni correspondence. Mr. McKinney will have his office in the North End of Ascencion Hall.

New Interest

At a meeting at Cooper Memorial Library in page twenty of your issue of Thursday, Mr. Allen Tate will begin about the middle of October. Each Friday night a selected series of poems is played in the Proctor Hall music room. Of the nature of the matter, and the familiar and popular character of the Program last year, including the works of An Accomplished musician appears on the program Thursday night. The Mt. Vernon Civic Music Association presents several of its current and past favorites.
