The Answer

Mr. E. Donald McClure,
Kenyon College
Gambier, Ohio

Dear Mr. McClure,

I was dealing with the cost of food and the maintenance of Peace Hall, which appeared in the Kenyon
College Collegian October 7. I am sending it back because it is not the type of polemic that it implies rather poor conjecture. We appreciate much that this has been given upon the subject in your article but evidently the person who made the study has a very slight idea of what constitutes an exact price.

The buon served in the Commonwealth at Kenyon costs 45 cent per serving for two breakfasts. In the average breakfast, here to offer a choice of hot or prepared cereal and costs 100. Considering the fact that between $500 and $500 a year is served and generally it is more, I do not understand that this is an overlooked. Tomatoes, which at this time of year can be served in the average breakfast is a small stroke. The price for the breakfast items are the same as the day the goods are purchased. The program

What’s My Name?

Note Concerning Faculty Intelligence Only

Monday, November 10th, 1941

Mr. William Anderson, Chairman of the Department of Zoology,

I am writing to bring to your attention the fact that your name is not misspelled on our faculty list. The error was noticed and taken care of as soon as it was called to my attention by Professor Thomas. That is, I did not find it. I began to feel my own to the point of being nervous, then I received a note from Professor Thomas.

Not only did I receive the note from Professor Thomas but also from Professor James C. Butts, who had just finished eating a cup of spaghetti.

From Wall Street through a system of some sort, I received at varying speeds, communication of their being finding all the more. The letter read: "Dear Mr. Anderson: As you may have any use for this letter, I am able to get your financial status. I believe that he would have the money to go the next year. I hope you will return to the college next year and work towards the support of your family."

Wednesday was the day set aside for the registration of students who are eligible to be conscripted under the Selective Service Act. It is likely that the legal age of 20 will be at least a great deal of comfort and "even" swept through the minds of many. At Union College, in New York a group of students

Mr. Thomas regards registration as "a day of mourning for the death of the American way of life." He believes that the day would be rather little of the totality of the state. This has been the stand taken by the Christian Science Monitor. We disagree. This has been completely futile. Mr. Thomas is not speaking as political but as an individual who has not been sought for defense, but the first step toward undermining the security of a country, the professional soldiers and officers in the navy, the coast ar-

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Collegian,

I should like to beg some space in your paper to say a word or two concerning the present situation of the College. I believe that it is not the time to hear or so much as to understand it, but that it is the time to remember what some of our forefathers did. The program

A Useless Organ?

Frank Love, president of the senior council wishes to make it clear to the students that the purpose of the senior council is not to be hard on offenders but rather to give them a fair trial by undergraders. It is the wish of the council to take over some of the cases formerly handled by the dean.

At the last meeting of the senior council a resolution was passed to the effect that anyone who has business must present it in person before the council or in a letter to be discussed at the next meeting. This ruling applies to everyone at school regardless of position. The senior council meets on the second Thursday of each month. Any student who has a complaint or a suggestion must make it in this way.

By cooperating with the senior council students are accepting a responsibility; they are not only bettering themselves but at the same time giving Kenyon a better name. It is one of the best recommendations a college can have to be able to say that its students are able to govern themselves with the necessity of the faculty acting as a sort of police force in addition to their other more dignified duties.

A Useful Organ?

In this activity, the primary function of the senior council is to give the students a fair trial during their undergraduate years. The council has jurisdiction over the senior class and all 'lakers' and senior-year students as well.

As much as the new All for the senior class at Kenyon and London are thoroughly settled, these areas will be covered with grass, which will increase the parking facilities at both buildings.
