Snappy Band For Saturday A. M. Red Norvo Brings Swingy,

(Effective to the Collegian) Following its semicentennial custom of dropping exclusive news in the minds of the students like bomb-a-bellas, the Collegian announces that Red Norvo, "the world's greatest 'kyplophonist' and his band will play the eleven o'clock dance to be held November 16. The usually reliable source, Mr. Tommy Van Vlissingen, Kegan Eppan House, who is chairman of the dance committee, further stated that Van Vlissingen's band will play the eleven o'clock dance for the Saturday night dance on November 16.

Norvo is one of the older players in swing and will be best remembered as the guy who used to furnish the background for Mildred Bailey's vocals. Norvo was a feature soloist on the woodwinds with Paul Whiteman before he organized his own group. When Norvo visited New York in 1933, he was billed as Red Norvo and his Woodpiece and was among the first to use the word "swing" in a title for a band.

The whole band is built around Norvo's xylophone. He relies upon the xylophone's rhythm and it features solos of Norvo's xylophone with the rest of the band providing the sound of the percussion and background. Norvo can do anything he wants on the xylophone. In fact, he is said to have invented some special art of using xylophone.

Featuring with Norvo is Linda Keene who sings the most beautiful song ever and the other ones which Red doesn't choose to handle.

The music for the Saturday night dance will be provided by Tommy Van Vlissingen and his Woodpiece and heard frequently on the radio.

The Over-Cut Problem

time from the College has considered the problem of over-cuts and suggested revisions in the college ruling which have varied in their practicability. Once again we are asked to present our opinions so until after the next meeting of the Petition Committee of the faculty on December 9 at which time it is planned to petition the college to make certain suggested changes which we think are equitable and justified. In the interim we shall consider the "pro" and "contra" points in this column.

In the first place we are not suggesting radical or unwarranted changes. We do not believe that everyone in the college should have unlimited freedom in every case. We would obviously defeat itself, and the present system protects many against themselves. But we propose a revision of the rule to permit men with a two average to have unlimited cutting privileges. It seems rather ridiculous to penalize the average student for the over-cut, and still make the merit list. We are thinking particularly of the students whose merit list average loses credit for over-cutting. If they certainly deserve privileges for not coming to class he can get his work done despite his reluctance to attend class. The average lecture class is geared to the capabilities of the average student which is as it should be. But we see no reason why the average student shouldn't be free to pursue his intellectual activities as he sees fit and at his own speed so long as he can continue to do his work on the merit list level.

What is more, classes interfere with the intellectual acti-tivity of many in many instances. There is no apparent reason why a student who has his house assigned to him between 3.30 and 7 PM should frequently be re-assigning an assignment for the benefit of the student who has had this work done. It should be possible for this student to be free to spend more profitably the above average student in regard to the things he wants to learn.

But we don't intend to go very deeply into this subject this week. We shall attempt in the future to cover the student's program in a more understandable way, so you will take it up and follow and react to in some tangible way, through petitions, letters, discussions, and editorials.

The Football Season

Tomorrow Kenyon plays the last game of the season, and the odds are unlimited for a game of action. These men Amato, Curtis, Lees, Loening, Schaeffer, Stevens and Lonett have shown over four years of hard playing an good sportsmanship, and we are proud of the records of each of them. A lot has happened to the team in four years, and the change of personnel, the most spectacular, is that Kenyon has had in its four years. This season has seen many changes for the better.

After several scoreless quarters Kenyon has won one game, tied another, and has fallen to tough opponents in conference its toughest battle, and though we have been defeated our defeats have been victories in light of the success of the Lake Forest and Wittenberg games of several years ago.

Kenyon is playing good football. This year's team has improved immensely over last year's team, and the team is going to be even better next year. Though some valuable men are graduating. There are a number of good men in the sophomore class who will fill these gaps and fill them well. Any one who has watched the freshmen play knows that the varsity squad is already getting some good players in the freshman class.

Kenyans have never had griddiron prospects like these.

Fencing Season
Predict Good

Although it is a rather early outlook for this season, we hope that it will be a good one. As last year, sabres and swordplay will be under the supervision of such men with fencing experience as Jack Fullner, Bill Benenson, and Hans Hinssen. The first day of practice will be held before Christmas and will be used on Wednesday, Saturday, and Monday for the beginning, and Thursday, Saturday, and Monday for those who are experienced. As stated before, the fencing will be used for competition with other colleges and schools.

of Rochester at last years opening game. Sensation of the Rochester Kenyon to date has had easy season and won only one game. She defeated Ashland 6-4. Normally there are sercious men playing football, and as five of them were insured last week the team may be smaller. Blufton has been using a modified punt formation with a single winged

The Tigercats are looking for another victory, and many Kenyon fans will be there to cheer on the team.

Riding and Polo
With such a large number of the students and faculty now riding for either exercise or recreation, it is not wrong to predict for the coming season a marked increase in polo. With the recent trend in polo and the change in predictions for the coming season it is safe to say that the next season will be a great season for the Kenyon polo team.

produce nausea. If such a solution cannot be swallowed, the injection of the drug appears harmless. But results have been tried on experimenters, and others who must maintain a high degree of accuracy and efficiency. All results point to the impossibility of the success of this administration. Alcohol is in pulse-rate, in the blood pressure, and in external temperature, is evident, while the internal temperature drops from one to three degrees, thus lowering the resisting power of the body to disease, especially venereal disease. Nicotine has 50% more chance of surviving a major operation or a serious disease. Dr. Baube found that not 10% of the accidents of the country are due to the influence of alcohol, while the same amount could cause the whole condition of 10% of those people living in poverty and in crime. In answer to a question, Dr. Baube said, the more serious reactions to alcohol were the development of lesions around the liver and the inflammation and edema of the stomach. Alcohol inflames, burns, and harms the skin when applied externally, and has the same effect when applied internally.

In urging the discussion of tobacco, Dr. Baube pointed out that a comparatively new habit, and that it is spread to the public by advertising in the position that tobacco, the first cause of pneumonia, the first cause of tuberculosis, the first cause of heart disease, the first cause of cancer, and the first cause of heart failure. Such statistics are enough to suggest the importance of tobacco in the economic life of the country.

The personnel, which is the vice for the end of the week, will take place in the Great Hall of the Commons from 1:30 P.M. until 5:30 P.M. Saturday. The hour for the dance Saturday night is 9 to 12 P.M.

The "entertainment," which is the final reason for the week's end will last from any time Friday until any time Sunday. Most of the divisions have planned parties, dances, or dinner for sometime or another during the debacle.

Advance reports indicate that November 15 - 16 will be one of the better week-ends. Steve, formerly affiliated with the Cleveland Indians in an unfeasible capacity, and now a member of the Blue-Sea Shop said, "Dance week-end, November 15 - 16? Well, I hope someone has this week-end, always enjoy a break in the monotony of college life."

Joe Freshman, said, "It is no way to have anything in common with the world's finest dance champion."

It was reported that a group of ten men questioned were able to estimate the distance traveled in November 15 within 20 minutes without even heating.

Thus, dance week-end takes over the place occupied by thai. The political situation, and theungle is very happy to help the medium by which the ruler, which has been circulating concerning the reality of such an event, is definitely confirmed and exposed as a fact.

Have No. Just as they were poorly balanced and supported by a group of Tây-sa, they have had to be avoided to exist. The news of the day will be Hemingway is back in form.
