Varsity Team

This year’s varsity team will be a fast and throwing type of basketball with both slow and quick break being essential. The squad has been working nothing short of every evening and is being whipped into fine shape by Coach Hoffman. There are ten men on the squad with Amato the only senior. Due to the small squad, Coach Hoffman predicts that early game results will be as just as strong as the reserve. He is counting equally as much on the men who do not start the game as upon those do.

This will be Amato’s third consecutive year as a regular, and his second as captain. He will not do quite the extent of ball handling and shooting of his career. Coach Hoffman is, as usual, very quick and a good blocker besides being very energetic and progressive on every play.

Last year he was the leader on the team.

The team is largely made up of men who were in the fall of 1922 when he was a head of the New Trier High School. He was a member of the Board of the League of the Hague.

Mr. Thomas resigned his utility to the League of the Hague in 1914. He was one of the men who is now in New York in politics, Mr. Thomas is a member of the Board of the League of the Hague in 1914.

The Storm That Passes

A small unimportant incident in Gambier, Ohio, has become involved in a sensational murder ring. Dirty work, including violence, has been a common aspect of this ring, which has been in operation for some time in this country. What should a college do when a fraternity house is involved in such a matter?

Certainly a college fraternity chapter has a three-fold semi-permanent duty: to function as a social club, to function as a social unit for the individual, and to function as a social unit for the college. If a college, through its action, brings a fraternity house on the "Hit" and for the college as a whole. What is the policy of the college in such matters, since it is the function of a social club to function as a social unit for the individual? We are not maintaining that the fraternity should be considered as a means for the college, national organization, or to itself. It ceases to be a social club and the social unit becomes a social club.

The plan of the college, which is the plan of the fraternity, is that the fraternity shall be considered as a social unit for the individual. The plan is that the fraternity shall be considered as a social unit for the individual. The plan is that the fraternity shall be considered as a social unit for the individual. The plan is that the fraternity shall be considered as a social unit for the individual.

On the other side, I had to be on my guard against—what? Aye, what? Ah, dear souls who can talk so bravely about the fascinations of “Romana” and the duty of resisting its seductive charms, what do you know of the anguish of a heart that is called to give up all for truth? ... No, on the side of the Church of Rome there was absolutely nothing, - unless, indeed, it might be some attraction lurking in the very complexities of that institution. Inassuatable Convulsions.

He had found Protestantism an insusceptible commodity between Rationalism and Catholicism. He came to a grieve with Cardinal Newman that "there is no medium in that philosophic between atheism and Catholicism."

The Apologia, "The Invitation Breasted," was hailed by critics as a masterly presentation of the case for Papal authority. "The Tablet" in London and "The Catholic World" in New York, published lengthy and fashionable reviews. The title of the book drew its significance from the plea for the reunion of all Christians made by Pope IX in the famous Apostolic Letter of 1870. And it was published to the end of the book, "Awakening and What Follows.

James Kent Stone became a convert to Catholicism at the age of 72 after a conversion to Anglicanism of over 50 years. He had lived in the United States and had a final convert to Catholicism in England. He wrote extensively on the subject of Catholicism and published several books on the subject.

Remember two important residents: the Metropolitan Opera Association on Saturday nights. Those who are interested in the West-Berberide feud had a short time for the Philharmonic on Sunday afternoon.

THE ACCUSING FINGER POINTS

Cesar, and not to praise him, we are gathered together today both to praise Ginsberg and to bury him. Which leads me to my text. "Blessed are the peace-makers but Germany is in the wrong." We have lost from amongst us one beloved Bundles for Britain man, and the time is obviously here to fight or to perish, or gentlemen of the Senior Council don't jump to any hasty conclusions. The - - - - Collegian will carry a letter explaining my position."

"So be it," chants the choir.

"This ends the case," says Dean Amhurst pointing to the foot of the casket.

Extravagantizing the conversation is a figure with long flowing locks encircled with a laurel wreath. He is wrapped in a long - flowing - weight - sized toga. He is Instant the sceptical philosopher. He heathens and inquires. "Do you think, Mr. Phaflour, that the peculiar circumstance merit such a categorical statement? Only a member of that clan is able to perceive themselves between the clavicles, just behind the fifth thoracic vertebrae, can perform such a deeds. Principle of tautology. Toni was not a member of the clan of contortionists. Therefore, as the inevitable conclusion of a syllogism in Carnotacean, Toni did not commit suicide. Heh, Heh," he chuckles as he grinds his molars and his pre-molars.

"Impossible, Russell is right," exclama Phaflour.

"Alimentary, my dear Phaflour, alimentary," answers Santafes in a guttural tone.

"Do you think, my dear colleague, that such a wound could be inflicted with a screw-driver?" consults Phaflour. "Santafes reflects, "Would it be poetic according to THE WORLD'S BODY? Yes, could be."

"With an I - THINK - I'VE - GOT - IT - AGAIN quicker in the accusing finger, he directs the digit at Amhurst.

Next week, The Accusing Finger Points, or The Leopard Changes His Spots.
