Kenyon College has a long and illustrious history, but it is during this time of our generation, Kenyon has seen rapid growth in the last century and a half. Today, Kenyon is present in its present duty to serve as an institution that is obliged to see to it that education is lived through this period and before, and that the service is continued.

The college was founded not so long ago. It was in 1824, and it was named for the Reverend Joshua Kenyon, a Unitarian minister who was a close friend of the abolitionist William Lloyd Garrison.

The college has grown from a small, rural institution to a full-fledged university with a campus on the shores of the Mohawk River. Today, Kenyon enrolls over 2,000 students from all 50 states and more than 50 countries around the world.

Kenyon College offers a wide range of academic programs, from liberal arts to professional studies. The college is known for its small class sizes, dedicated faculty, and strong emphasis on undergraduate research and community service.

The college is located in Gambier, Ohio, a small town nestled in the hills of the Hocking Valley. The campus is home to a variety of academic and athletic facilities, including a 1,000-seat indoor arena, a 400-seat outdoor amphitheater, and a 200-seat lecture hall.

In addition to its academic programs, Kenyon College is also known for its outstanding athletic programs. The college is a member of the NCAA Division III, and its teams compete in a variety of sports, including football, baseball, basketball, soccer, and track and field.

Kenyon College is committed to providing its students with a high-quality education that prepares them for success in all areas of life. The college is dedicated to fostering a supportive and inclusive community that encourages diversity, equity, and social justice.

The college is proud to be part of the Kenyon community, and it looks forward to continuing its tradition of excellence in education for many years to come.

Lord Netters

Lost Match, 4-3

With Ken Dallas and Bill Murray, the only two returning men from last year's squad, and three Sophoms playing their first year of college tennis, a n a m e l y , Ken Banks, Bob Durham, and Murray Smith, this year's team found the going a little rough. For the first time in several years the Lords suffered a defeat when they dropped their opening match to Lafayette 6-1. However, they bounced back from this setback by handing Miami U. two 4-3 defeats, and a 6-2 victory over the University of Cincinnati, the following week.

Last Saturday the netters were granted the joy of scrolling up Oelberlin without the aid of their number one man, Bob McMillan, and, thus, handily chopped them, dropping a close decision to their hosts 4-3.

Brouse, Vandenberg Tie

Locking the material that is usually present, the Kenyon Chaffers finished the season with an blank record. Brouse, he only returning letterman tied with Vandenburg for the number of individual matches won. In the two matches with Miami, Brouse and Vandenberg each won one match, while Vandenburg tied another.

In the two matches with Oberlin, Brouse was twice and Broune once. Brouse was the only winner against Dennin, taking one match in each of the two meets.
