WKCG, New Voice of Kenyon

Kenyon College found that it had a new voice medium of expression—two weeks ago when its own radio station WKCG went on the air for the first time. The baby new voice was an instant hit on most of Gamby's radio sets, but it took time for the station's techniques to improve the quality of the new iron out "bugs" and make everything sound in a pleasing way.

Though in its infancy, ambitious staff members are optimistic about the station's future. "We've been doing some loud what we've been able to do," said Drama Group Plans Five Plays for '46

In the coming year the Dramatic Club intends to present five plays at Kenyon. "If we have a response," said Thurbur's and Nugent's "The Man and Arms" and "The Hound of the Baskervilles."" The show of these three are "The Wild Duck by Ibsen, "The Courageous Fling" by C. H. Hoyt, and Molsen's "Tartuffe.

SIX ACCEPTED BY HILL PLAYERS

Six new members have been chosen by the Speech Department for the campus Hill Players, an honorary society for recognition of dramatic work. The new members are Philip Fendig, James Hansen, Nevin Darwood, Charles Swoger, and Henschel Welsh. The membership of this group is limited to the former members, but since there were no former Hill Players now on campus, Dr. Black decided to induct the group.

These men were qualified by their participation in a major capacity in seven play productions and having senior standing in Speech Department. The group is limited to eight members, all of whom have qualified to date have been accepted through Saturday. The station offers a variety of musical programs including "Symphony of Sounds," which is named for the station. This program is being produced by the newly-built 300-foot tower. The present WKCG can be tuned in at 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., and from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Monday.

Prof. Asford and Eberle Examine ASTP At Denison U. Meeting

Professors W. Ray Ashford and Eberly, of Denison, were members of a discussion panel at a meeting of the American Association of Teachers of French at Denison University, October 18.

Since Kenyon had a part in the ASTP Program, the discussion panel was made up mainly of those who derive from the ASTP experience in the language field. "Missionary work" was particularly significant to the students of Kenyon's Modern Language Department.

Professors Ashford explained the set-up and functioning of the ASTP Language Program with emphasis on the increase of students behind the program.

Scope of Training to be Left to Professor

President Gordon Keith Chalmers announced this week in an interview with a Collegian reporter, that plans are for an organization at Kenyon. Each faculty member is given the opportunity to determine the scope of the training offered. The professor is under no obligation to select only courses, but he is required to offer courses in his area of special interest. The training will be offered as a number of subjects. The courses will be organized in such a way as to provide the students with the necessary background for admission to various colleges.

Professors tend to agree with the idea of a larger and more formalized concept of a music department. The students' need for a broader and more formalized training in music has been an increasing concern. The students are well aware of the need for a more formalized training in music and are looking forward to the opening of the second semester.
A ‘Clearing House’ Needed

Here is one of the many ways in which the new student government may be put to immediate and convenient use. Complaints have been heard from many students that it was impossible to attend the meetings of a number of different campus groups. The reason was simple: too many meetings were scheduled for the same day and time.

This situation can be removed by using an instrument well-provided for in the new student-construction activities committees (from which elections are held to make up the student fund-appropriating body). For example, the Discussion Club Committee, up to now one of the heads of Philanthropic, Nu Pi Kappa, International Relations Club, the French Club, et al. could determine regular and specific days and times for un-conflicting meetings of the various groups. The discussion club heads acting as a clearing house should do so immediately. They thus assure maximum attendance at their respective gatherings.

HILLTOPICS

by Sandy Lindsey

The subject of singing down Middle Path has been recurring of late and we will pass on a few additional remarks on the matter for the benefit of those minds not yet nightly set for ease by brotherly bedtime stories about Kenyon traditions. Singing down the path, we gather, is a hoary and venerable heritage and ought to be accorded respect due its traditional value and also its immediate worth. We are not given to venerating the past—that smacks slightly of reaction—but the matter deserves serious consideration.

The last issue of Collegian carried an article on the subject (written by a freshman, no less) so we must beg your indulgence for being repetitive.

The book has it that any individual or group of individuals on the path at the time a group is singing down should step ‘quiedy’ aside and allow the men to go by. Note the word ‘quiedy.’ Despite some race instances the singing is not unpleasant to the ear and on some occasions it is downright tuneful! Talking or joining in the singing is not only bad manners—it isn’t cricket!

Speaking of bad manners brings us to an enlargement upon that theme because the times are ripe for a clear statement on the subject. We are creatures of appearances, as Plato put it and as we believe so are you judged. This has been a noticeable lack of ordinary common courtesy around the campus of late. Indeed it might be said that a strong air of boorishness and rudeness is hanging like a pall over the whole campus community. To be sure there are exceptions, for which let us be grateful. But on the whole there is a need of gentility.

We do not suggest that this regrettable atmosphere is concentrated in any one class but we urgently propose that some measure be taken to re-establish the traditional relationships between upperclassmen and lower in the fond hope that the ensuing lessons in discipline and big-brother advice (good, bad, or indifferent) may make a beginning in the direction of bringing up the whole spirit and conduct of the student body. We need to be proud of our Kenyon heritage and the way to show it forth to the world is by disciplined conduct, gentlemanly manners, and gentlemanliness among ourselves and with others. This is a terribly serious thing and every true Kenyonian will reflect upon it and set accordingly.

Let us not be too much that is dry—we think we can sympathize thoroughly with the several professors who have not yet stopped thinking and lecturing in terms of “instead of” ‘semineters.’ Nach, it’s understandable.

We find ourselves so conditioned to the hour-and-a-half interval that when the gongs go over the regular hour we don’t notice it until we turn up late at the next class.

Tak. Reminds us of a pome (well, what did you expect?) by Prasad—

I think that some have died of drought,
And some have died of drinking
I think that naught is worth a thought—
And I’m a fool for thinking.

After that I think the paragraph ‘pomes’ takes on new significance.

Veterans' News

This column is directed to the veterans enrolled at Kenyon College. In addition to what occurs here on campus in regard to former members, we will publish important information from weekly news releases we are now receiving from the Veteran’s Administration Branch Office No. 14.

Most veterans enrolled have had, by now, an interview with either Mr. W. Lee Price or Mr. R. W. Schumun, the veteran’s administrative officers serving Kenyon. Mr. Price is the Asst. Training Officer and Mr. Schumun is the Contact Representative from the Veteran’s Administration Sub-Regional Office in Mansfield, Ohio. They will be in the Speech Building every Thursday to assist veterans.

The Insurance Division of the Veteran’s Administration will have the Assembly period on November 7th. That meeting will be of importance to veterans at Kenyon.

Mr. Price will assist veterans in problems relating to their education or subsistence allowance. Mr. Schumun will be available to assist veterans in other benefits under the laws administered by the Veteran’s Administration such as problems relative to National Service Life Insurance including reinstatement and conversion to permanent plans.

 treatment for service connected disabilities, Hospitalization, Compensation or Pension, or any other question relative to the rights and benefits of veterans.

If at any time during the week you have a question regarding your status as a former service man, you may go to the Speech Building and speak to Mr. J. W. Black. The other day Dr. Raek D. Black said that there were still 14 students who are not completely settled regarding their eligibility for college training under the GI Bill of Rights. At the present time there are 334 students (Continued on page 3).

Taft Redeemed

By R. Snowberger

Critics of Senator Taft, October 5th speech are un-willing to consider it anything but political. But we are of the opinion that Mr. Taft, the senator, was家里 by (1) his party’s platform for an unapproximately honest boat with (2) Britain’s Manchester. Mr. Taft’s philosophy, like that, is strong in the sense that we and the theories upon which the senator’s are based. Goering and his allies were tried by a Greek fashioned grand jury, much as the senator and his colleagues were. Their case were used as an example, and as a result, the other senators are asked to resign.

At no time did Mr. Taft or any of his colleagues publicly demand any need for the senator’s resignation. He spent his time in criticism of what was done and in criticism of the policies of the senator’s colleagues. He did not make any effort to have the senator’s resignation, but he did make a public statement of his views and those of his colleagues. The senator’s colleagues were asked to resign and to resign on the same grounds. Mr. Taft’s speech was used as an example of the senator’s colleagues who were asked to resign.

Government-paid tuition to an educational institution does not place a veteran in a "special privilege" class. Student veterans must abide by all rules and regulations of the institution where they are enrolled. They must maintain satisfactory academic marks. Wilful misconduct or unsatisfactory progress are grounds for withdrawal of subsistence and tuition payments. Attendance must be regular. The VA insists on 12 hours work per semester. This can be relaxed, however, by Dr. Black through the VA if sufficient reason is presented.

Sparked by the fine play of their 145 pound quarterback, Bob Weaver, the Marietta College eleven recovered from a first half quandary to turn back a tired Kenyon team, 12 to 0, before a Homecoming crowd at Benson Bowl on September 16th. The Lords, who had had things pretty much their own way throughout this first two quarters, were no match for their heavier opponents in the second half.

Marietta's first touchdown one midway in the third quarter shortly after Whiting, in Marettia fullback, recovered Vail's fumble on the Kenyon 37 yard line. From here, Gibb carried the ball to the 24. Weaver made a first down by gaining one yard on a quarterback sneak. After Gibb lost a yard on the next play, Weaver took command again and scored on a brilliant

VAIL SPARKS TEAM

Featured this week is a close-up of a member of Kenyon's football team whose name tells the story—Arthur "Sparky" Vail. Always a conscientious worker on the Purple and White eleven, Sparky has been playing good football since prep school days when he held down the position of guard at the Morgan Park Military Academy and Deerfield Academy.

In Kenyon's line-up in '41 and '42, Vail left before the next season for the Navy Air Corps and played for the undefeated DePauw team in '43. Incidentally, he was captain of the squad that year. Back again for his last year, Sparky is playing with pre-service teammates, Andy Morgan, G. Collett and George Whitaker. But likable Sparky does not confine his athletic abilities to the gridiron; he is a main cog on the track team and a good golfer.

Second Outplayed Team Throws Purple and White For Another Loss

For the second time this season an outplayed opponent has been able to take advantage of the "breaks" to defeat a hard playing Kenyon eleven. Capital University turned the trick last Friday afternoon in a mid-October down pour. Playing at home, on Bersholor Field, the "Cats" scored twice in the opening quarter to win their first victory in five starts.

The game had hardly begun before Capital made its touchdown. "Sparky" Vail received the opening kick-off for Kenyon on the 20 and returned it to the 33. The Lords gained only six yards from scrimmage on their first three tries and on the fourth Vail went back to punt. The pass from center was poor, Vail's kick was blocked, and the Linbourn's left end, "Whitey" Schmidt, carried the ball six yards to score. Sutton's attempted conversion for the extra point hit the upright and the score stood; Capital 6, Kenyon 0.

A few minutes later, Schmidt definitely established himself as Capital's hero of the day by racing down under Norm Divine's punt to catch Kenyon's substitute halfback, Dave Walter, in his own end zone for a safety. Those two small points proved the margin of victory for the here-to-fore "winless" Capital team.

The Lords bounced back in the second quarter to score for the first time since last year's Heidelberg game. Starting from their own thirty-five, the boys from Gambier, led by Groft Collet and Harry Eschenbrenner, went the sixty-five yards to the Capital goal line in a sustained drive. Eschenbrenner going over from the four yard line. The try for the extra point was no good, Capital 8, Kenyon 6.

The playing conditions were much in the second half that neither team could do much of anything. Kenyon's running attack netted only 19 yards and the Caps, 20, in the entire latter thirty minutes of play.

Groft Collett averaged four yards per try rushing from scrimmage, and Harry Eschenbrenner, 3.8 yards. Three backs played headed up ball, the former seeing a full sixty minutes of action.

The defensive work of Vail and Cooke, together with the whole Kenyon line, allowed Divine, Sutton, Yontz, and Sutton, the Capital backfield, to gain only 44 yards from scrimmage while the Lords rolled up 134.

Coach Dave Henderson has shifted "Sparky" Vail from the fullback spot to left half in a move that may well remedy whatever ails the Kenyon eleven. Harry Eschenbrenner will replace Vail at fullback.

Kenyon Meets Ashland Tomorrow

Tomorrow Ashland will host to a juxted Kenyon eleven at the former's home field. To date Ashland has won 2, lost 2, and tied 1. The lost to Hiram last week 28-11 and tied Mt. Union the week before 6-6. The Mt. Union squad is rated one of the best in the state, although they lost last week to Case 13-6. Kenyon's opponents Saturday, Ashland, was defeated by Hiram last week. The prospects for a Kenyon victory seem brighter than ever.

The Lords played without the services of Dick Shirley, right guard, who was injured in the Marietta game.

Swimming Season Outlined; Coach Asks for Volunteers

Coach Bob Parmelee started the 1946-47 swimming season by outlining the program for the coming year. Twenty-two prospects were on hand, with at least ten more expected.

"Training, Study, and Practice," said Bob, "are the only ways we can turn out a winning team." He emphasized the importance of studying and practicing regularly.

The first practice will be held Monday, Nov. 4, at 9:00 P.M. and will continue on the week of Nov. 12 to 14. The Lord coach stated that anyone breaking this rule would be cut immediately.

CHEERLEADERS ORGANIZE

The reappearance of cheerleaders at Kenyon football games is a welcome one. Bob Angell, Bob Wysong, and "Dusty" Miller voluntarily organized this among themselves, and much praise should be given them. They can only be successful if the entire student body gives them 100 per cent support. (HINT: LEARN THE CHEERS.) If any student has some cheers which would be appropriate for Kenyon, please see Bob Angell in N.L. 12.

Pasini Begins Soccer Training

Put Pasini, organizing a new sport at Kenyon, has begun the long and arduous task of preparing a soccer team for possible intercollegiate competition. Soccer is a game that is fast becoming one of the most popular sports in the country. It is a game that gives the participant fast action and rugged body contact. For the onlooker, it provides an evening time with many thrills and spills.

From the material that turned out for practice on the first day, there are many players who have had much experience and show promise of developing into strong aggressive players. Unfortunately they are in a minority, and much drilling in the fundamentals will be necessary before we can ever think of putting a team on the field. However if enough interest is shown in soccer, we can look forward to a good season next year.

Intramurals

Starting out the tough football season with a bang, the Delts added a few more points to their already high (167) score by turning back a strong Beta nine. The game ended in a 6-6 tie, but in the extra five plays each team was allowed, the Delts came out on top. In case new students are not familiar with the Intramural activity, here is how it works:

A Victory trophy is presented to the division first reaching 200 points. Points are earned by winning a game, the number of players participating in the contest, and by the team winning the college championship. Men with varsity awards in any sport are prohibited from playing that sport in the Intramural series. Dick Hershberger is president of the Intramural Sports Program. Anyone wishing to know more about this activity can obtain a copy of "A Handbook of Intramural Sports" from Mr. Paulin in Rose Hall.
