The COLLEGIAN Survey
A Report On FP HA Housing

Mindful of the married veterans' housing problem, the COLLEGIAN this week presents findings in a canvassing of married veterans housed in the Harcourt units and of those administrative officials concerned with the housing project. It is our intention to be entirely fair and unbiased towards the inhabitants of the government units and to the College administration in its relations with the Harcourt area.

As a result, there has been a considerable amount of criticism on the part of the student body, and a number of complaints have been voiced concerning the administration of the housing project. Complaints concerning prevalence of occupancy, delay in completion of the project, and the quality of construction have been made.

The consensus showed, for the most part, that there is a strong feeling among the married veterans’ housing that it has done and is trying to do better in these living conditions. The chief objections raised by the campus center around the preference in occupancy of clerical workers and faculty members already housed, and in the number of faculty and staff members who are housed in the government units.

We have attempted the laws to the college housing, and we have investigated the laws. Our figures have been The COLLEGIAN therefore, recheck by FP HA headquarters. It was found that virtually all government units may be used to house non-veteran faculty and staff. By checking available figures, it was found that there were at least three units in the Harcourt housing non-veteran faculty and staff. This is a 9% occupancy by non-veteran faculty and staff as opposed to the allowable limits of 10% occupancy. Although this figure is the result of a small sample, it will allow for the increase of faculty and staff population resulting from the increase in student enrollment.

Perhaps the most pointed argument is discussion of the complaints concerning the housing in the project under the category of occupants. These five categories of student enrollment does the average amount of criticism.

MILITARY AND ELIGIBILITY

In order to substantiate and determine the problems of the housing project, the COLLEGIAN especially designed a survey. Mrs. Izabella of the FP HA office, and the educational counselor supplied the latest facts and figures which affect housing Kentucky.

There has been much conjecture about the percentage of veterans to non-veterans in the housing development. It should be emphasized that the 40-60 ratio applied to both the enlisted and the officers, over-all grouping, 60 being the figure for the entire project which the government treats as a unit. As a check on compliance with the regulations, we compiled the figures supplied by the Dean’s office and found the actual veteran to non-veteran ratio to be 47%. The figures, broken down by marital status and married units, the figures show a 64% ratio of married veterans to married non-veterans, and a 36.4% ratio of single veterans to single non-veterans.

Another question appeared largely during the canvassing of the students and raised the point as to what limitations govern the number of faculty and staff members who may reside in the Harcourt units. The figure supplied by Mr. Camp’s office and the

Kenyon Refuses Session

There will be no SO session of the College this summer.

The President’s office made this announcement Thursday night after the results of a survey revealed that only twenty students would attend a summer session this year. Earlier it was announced that the College would requisition one hundred and twenty-five to make it practicable to keep the College open through the summer months. The small response, of course, made it impossible.

Three Temps To Ease K.C.’s Growing Pains

The packaged buildings provided for the government are stated for construction by the College after the completion of the Harcourt housing units. In a special interview with Dr. Chair Bull the COLLEGIAN was informed that the College music department, to be organized within the next academic year, will be housed in both a building 100 by 20 feet, which will be constructed and held to the right of the Speech Building.

The outside began last spring by the "Fire Spot", for better housing facilities has apparently been front. A small government hospital will be erected outside the College and will house a number of the College staff, since it is known to the President that the building is planned by Dean. By a more liberal interpretation, Mrs. Parker and Miss Galbraith are for a housing unit identical to the unit where a building is already in work at the recent visit on campus.

The new hospital, 100 by 20 feet, will be able to house 300 students, especially in the event of an epidemic. The interior of the new hospital is considered as the best in a private hospital in the areas of the epidemic in December 1946, is being planned out by FP HA.

Another packaged building of the same dimensions will be constructed in the middle of Harcourt Place simultaneously with the completion of the Music Building, and will be used as a recreation hall. Dr. Chair Bull, informed us that the government provided the buildings, but that the College assumes the responsibility for constructing them. The job will be done by the same construction firm that has been putting up the housing units.

PLAGIARISM...

We are here, all of us, of our own volition and with the purpose of broadening our colleges' intellectual background. We are here to think and by that very process, to learn. It should be common knowledge that we cannot learn by allowing others to do our thinking for us.

The student who resorts to plagiarism misifies the very aim of his Kenyon training. He leaves school with a mind, incapable of original thought, as barren of thinking as when he entered. He is only self-defeating in his mental incompetence and his intellectual dishonesty.

Plagiarism, as applied to the student, may be categorized as the basest crime that his pedagogical refinement can commit. Neither clever nor ingenious, it is a combination of theft, cheating, and self-defeat. It is legally unpardonable and morally uncondoned.

Lest any of us adopt a "holier than thou" attitude, The exchanged student, who is often the first to protest the proposition that each of us examine our individual attitudes and our past actions, is only too ready to point his finger at others. We are all guilty of the guilt lies in the discovery of the set and not in its discovery or denial. We may be guilty or not by plagiarizing we do ourselves an injustice, we are as guilty of our own record, we destroy confidence in our mental competence, we remove our very intent to think and to learn, and all the years of Kenyon. Now is as good a time as any to defend ourselves, because as the case may be, our intellectual honesty.

Better Inspection...

Though most of the couples interviewed for the Collegian Survey said that the College was going well, many of them complained of the poor workmanship found on campus. They realized it was not the fault of the College's faculty. They realized it had the same faults as the buildings in the same firm which erected "Sprintlnville.

We think the College ought to make better progress from a development point of view in the construction of the three proposed buildings so that workmanship facing on each of the buildings may be more acceptable in the construction stage and be corrected in time.

Notice...

Please turn to our cartoon today, if you are thinking of bumping off your waiter in the Colonnade. However, you haven't a gripe in the world if he doesn't bump your face in the soup. You literally do this in Kenyon's kitchen, if you are the kind of person who is always hungry. You can't ask for your tea if you are the kind of person who never gets hungry. You can't ask for your dinner if you are the kind of person who is always hungry. You can't ask for your dinner if you are the kind of person who is always hungry. You can't ask for your dinner if you are the kind of person who is always hungry.
The great job that Chuck Poul and his committee did in raising funds for the World Student Service Fund was commendable, to say the least. The work was entirely voluntary, and done in the interest of students everywhere. If the drive is an example of what Kenyon students can do when they apply themselves, “things are looking up” hereabouts.

THERE has been a notable improvement in the food in the Commons these past few days, and everyone seems happier for it. Whether the members of the Commons Committee are responsible for the change cannot be ascertained at this writing, but one thing is certain, the food is better, and someone isn’t receiving a well deserved non-pay.

Tomorrow night the basketball squad meets the Student Prison of Heidelberg at Rose Hall. The game will be the second of the season, the Titan squad and will be one of the finest of the year. Coach Paul’s boys will be seeking to average the 10½ trimming handed by the Princes on Dec. 16. If you want a good seat, come early.

If some of you feel you don’t know enough about good music and would like to learn something about it, drop in at any of the Recital Club concerts. You won’t grow to appreciate the best in music, but you’ll find your whole temperament improved.

The Oberlin Naturists, currently the hottest team in Ohio Conference, will seek to extend their winning streak to six when they face the Kenyon swimming team tomorrow afternoon in the Shuler Pool. Kenyon has dropped only one meet this season and that to Bowling Green, a non-conference outfit, so the Oberlin tangles up one of the best on the season’s card.

Oratory Contest
Ted Rogers won third place with his oration, “The Butler of a Nation,” the presentation of the philosophy of Robert Ingersoll, the nineteenth century agnostic.

The four orators were:

George Masker
“A Christian Concept of Peace”

Robert Golden
“Preserve Our Democracy”

Dorothy Hays
Workers and Slaves

James Harner
“Defenders of Capitalism”

The seven orations concerned a wide variety of subjects, but there was a common theme. Each speaker dealt with a prevailing or Orology Contest.

Ashland Gets Nine In Extra Period

In a thrilling Ohio Conference game last night the Ashland Eagles scored nine points in overtime to defeat a fighting Kenton team. The game was a close and bitter struggle all the way, with the hot changing leads many times. As the regular game ended, both teams were billed, but Kenton led six points to four, and thereby holds the title. It was the first straight win for the Ashland College team.

Epp, Rickey continued his run for the conference scoring crown by tallying the almost unbelievable total of thirty-two points. Rickey controlled the backcourt many times during the game, and at spots even seemed to pull it. High scorer for the Ashland Eagles was Red Hurley, a forward, with twenty-two points.

This was the second overtime contest for the Lords, and they had let the first slip away. The Kenton team had the first loss in overtime at Ashland, and the game will be a conference affair.

Tomorrow night the basketball Kenton at Home Hall will hold the game between the Student Princess of Kenton and the Kenton Lords. In their first meeting of the season, the teams played a close game, with the Medley finally emerging the winners. The Forty-four-year-old University of Ohio, in the Kenton gymnasium, last Saturday, December 22.

Cards Stop Lord Rally; Win 66-56

Sinking early in the first quarter, the Otterbein basketball squad gained a lead over Kenton which they held through- out the second quarter, winning 46-38. With the victory, the Otterbein and Shafter,addock, and Aiken,Collins picked up a 12-5 lead in the opening minutes of play, and continued all attempts of the Broken Trail boys to even it.

Epp and Perry Trinkner talked into field goals, and one foul shot and a beautiful set shot, respectively, to bring the score to the end of the quarter to 28-16, from that point on the score was Otterbein's.

Erratic free play and rim shots plagued the shots and White during most of the rest of the game, with an 8-point lead to the fourth quarter that they began to click. Then, in a desperate effort to overcome a few-point deficit, Rickey and Shafter's led drive which brought the spectators to their feet. The Cardinal lead was cut to 7 points, but with two minutes left in the game they tightened their defense, and went on to win 66-56.

Bowling Green 45; Kenton 30

Coach Bob Parmerlee's Kenyon Marian fell before a powerful Bowling Green team last Saturday at the score of 46-36. It was Kenton's first loss in three starts.

A weakness was shown in not having enough reserve strength, as usual, for five games. In contrast to the present team strength represented by only twelve men, while Bowling Green had twenty-seven to choose from.

It was decided after the first five events that Kenton would have a hard time winning, as the score was 21-2. In the last six events, the Purples and White Nate- sons made 26 points to 24, for Bowling Green. Jack St. John, in swimming, made a record, and so did Don "Sag" Clark again. How in the 200 yard breast stroke, the fourteen of Jack Bartlett, John Gregory, Bill Wendler, and Harry Lang took the final relay.
