Council Invites Co-ed Legislators

by John Desmond

Monday, Student Council considered the possibility of setting up a devolved government, changing the time for comprehensive exams until after spring break, and also expressed "carnal disgust" at the new phone fees on middle pager.

Senate Probes Veto Power; Girl Members

The Senate session last Tuesday was highlighted by a discussion of the presidential and an invitation to the Coordinating Council to select women to serve as the dean and the coordinating council's members. The examination of the presidential role was in response to a request by Student Council last year. The Senate reaffirmed the question to be raised at a time when a woman's role were being discussed on campus. The question of the veto, however, was still to be much debated throughout the day. The Senate explained that American colleges were fortunate in having a system which reigned above the various college offices, as well as to try to establish a line of authority to various college officials. It was seen that the right to final judgment. The President of the Senate is of course the last designated administrative authority in the handling of the Trustees. The Senate seemed satisfied with the explanation and discussion ended.

Senate also moved to invite ad hoc non-legislative representatives from the Coordinating Council. The Senate will now decide the number of representatives and the groups which will be in the Coordinating Council.

In response to the visits on campus and the findings of the student groups of the two SLCs and 20 representatives, the Senate decided to invite students that, while last, these groups were invited to visit the library to discuss their student literature on campus, such persons would request permission from the Dean of Men before entering the building.

One Senator pointed out that the growing number of students crossing floors 223 going to and from classes is creating a traffic hazard which should be attended to. Senate recommended that President Caples increase the new to the State Traffic Board.

Debate Scores 5-3 Record

The Kenyon College Debate Team successfully opened its season at Olin Hall, University of Kentucky, Saturday, winning five matches and losing three. The team consisted of varsity debaters: Joel Kelly, Cockburn, Joel Berry, Joel Caples, Joel Cross, and Joel Green. Freshmen debaters Bill McCall and Tom Greene.

The season opened this year, " Restricted, that the "We are not talking about grossly a particular percentage of the time, but we are talking about a significant investments. " Teams which the Senator believed was no evidence in favor of the Ehrlander Cabinet since 1945, has most recently been the Minister of Education in charge of education. Palem was responsible for many social reform projects in the areas of higher education, vocational training, and employment. Palem also achieved notable success in Sweden and England for his appearance in film (The clothed in the film) "Am I Curious (Yellow)?"

Palmes' political career started shortly after he received his degree in political science and economics from Copenhagen. After completing a four month hitch-hiking trip all over the United States with no money and traveling extensively throughout Southeast Asia, Singapore and Indonesia, he returned to Sweden and became very active in student work. Palmes played a large role in the formation of the International Student Conference, an organization created by students against non-Communist countries.

It was this welding and maturing interest, in student activities and politics that played a role in the development of his political ideology. A social democrat, Palmes sees his role as trying to achieve technological development to the development of equality, democracy, and cultural growth. He is in a secure area of the fact that people are no longer satisfied with the number of jobs. And he seeks the center around the work of his colleagues. The load of his colleagues, the load of the peasants of Vietnam, the load of the people of America for the benefit of Paris and Prague as a reminder that clashing solutions exist and tough to "stand still these days is to fall back."

Ball Shows Photos On Mideast Lands

An exhibition of about ninety photographs of the Middle East taken by Professor A. Davis, alay, chairman of the religion department, will be presented starting Thursday, October 8, in the Robert Brown Rosen gallery of Chalmers Library. The display consists of mostly black and white photos of the landscapes, the historical buildings, and the people of Jerusalem, Jordan, Israel, Lebanon, Iraq, Iran, and Turkey. Mr. Davis has taken these photographs over the past thirty years. The photographs illustrate the particular geography, culture, and history of the Middle East. The exhibition is designed to interest people in the extraordinary rich history and culture of the Middle East and especially in its magnificent architecture.

Mr. Davis was an amateur photographer before his visit to the Middle East. He took the photographs because of his training in geography, and, particularly, because of his interest in the historical geography of the Middle East during the Biblical period. Many of the photographs have appeared as illustrations in books he has written on that subject. Others are part of research for his soon to be published "Atlas of the Biblical World."

Mr. Davis lived in the Middle East from 1957 to 1966 and has returned there many times since then. He is a member of Kenyon College's faculty in 1966. The exhibit will remain in display in Chalmers Library until the end of October.

Women Name Constitution Committee

The Coordinating Council has moved to establish a dormitory arrangement in the Coordinating College. The Council believes that the women's offices will elect a representative to a special committee, to be named by the women's group, who will be a non-voting member of the Coordinating Council, will then be elected by the entire women's college. The council had the power to make all rules pertaining to dormitory living. One member of the Council suggested that the House Council create Social, Financial, Academic Affairs, and any other committees deemed necessary. All actions of the House Council will be subject to ratification by the Coordinating Council. Another senator noted that the House Council in its first part of the Coordinating College Constitution. The chairman named a Constitution Committee, consisting of James Ceasar, chairman, Amy Goodwin, Susan Neft, and two members of the proposed House Council.

In other discussion of the constitution, a member of Council brought up the question of a judicial forum. Another question that arose to the question of the women students to all about student boards which would involve instituting an honor system.

It was also agreed that the Council and the representative of American College of the Student Council will attend the next meeting.

IFC Discusses Homecoming

by Kent Harrison

Monday night marked the move toward joining the Senate in action on comprehensive examinations and the phone booth on middle pike. IFC also named committees to investigate alleged violations of house rules, and to look at this year's rush procedures, house rules and improvements.

The committee discussed for Homecoming weekend. It was noted that the hours for this weekend are an unusual: midnight on Friday and 2 a.m. on Saturday. Barrickles will participate in the weekend activities, and will be warned not to participate in the weekend activities. There must be no drinking or illegal access to the campus.

To the Editor:
I have several points of disagreement with the writer of the October 2, 1969 entitled "1095, Rush", and would like to take this opportunity to express those points.
First you and your colleagues seem to be unaware that the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity has never exhibited aicanic behavior. This is especially true when comparing the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity with other fraternities in the nation. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has a long history of being one of the most popular and respected fraternities on campus. It is not fair to make such a generalization about the entire fraternity on the basis of the actions of a few individuals.

P.S. I am a member of the fraternity and I believe that all fraternities should be held to the same high standards of behavior. It is unfair to make such sweeping statements about the fraternity in general.

Mr. Charles Fischer, age 72, was the featured pianist player last Saturday night at the Kenyon College Fine Arts Festival.

Pianist recalls silent era

I wondered if you noticed any differences in the present silent era. Not a great deal at Kenyon, I think the response was just the same. The only thing that changed was the Roaring Twenties on a Saturday night. It was wonderful the way the boys and girls responded just the way they did when I played piano four hands.

Q. You mentioned the importance of playing your best when there is a little action on the screen. I learned through my years of experience in the theater never to stop, but to continue on and kill the spot. To try to distort the audience is the people's attention.

MARIETTA FROZEN GRIDDERS, 17-0

by John Ryerson

If you can't score, you can't win. And that was the story for the Lords Saturday night at Marietta as they did just that or rather lost by the score of 3-0. The Foresters are one of two remaining colleges in the OAC who still run a defense on the single-wing.

Initially, this involves an isolated line and two backs-as primary ball handlers, followed by a quartermback, fullback, wingback, end, and two flankers. The respective positions the wingback and flanker cut out defensively do not exist in a conventional defense. With such playmakers on one side of the ball, the Foresters have not had good success against it.

In three games the Lords have shown three different strong points: pressure against Center, rushing against Mt. Union, and defense and offense. On offense they take the ball over in each game, while on defense they have not been able to hold back opponents in high scoring contests.

Kickers Record

Third Shutout, 4-0

by Pete Pappas

The Lord behind goal line Price recorded his third shutout of the season last Saturday against Hiram. 4-0. Kenyon is still unscored upon in regular season action.

The first period was completely dominated by Kenyon. The Lords generated Hiram's rare continuity and led by a score of 4. The bookers, however, unable to utilize a smooth passing attack, failed to come up with big shot. The overall quality of plays centered in the second frame. The passing lacked sharpness and the defense became sluggish. The high light of the quarter came when Hadleigh threw a low shot into the Hiram goal. This gave Kenyon a 1-0 margin at the half.

The Lords came out with added vigor in the third period. After two fruitless efforts, Brussee Mayer got the Lords untracked by pitching a low ball into the net. Hiram then piled on as at least a holding a pass to Barcalay who converted Kenyon's fourth mark.

The second half played similarly to the first. And again playing a fine quarter, Kenyon lost moments. Game fell to keep up. 4-0.

Getting The Ball Downfield

Kenyon's soccer team was defeated 4-1 by the eighteen time letterman Punched Wesley, Weisler, dissipating the home crowd by crush- ing Hope's keep for an undefeated season.

The previously unbeaten Lords on its only half off the face of Steve Bralower, Weisler got the Kings and Needham, who scored two and two goals respectively, furnace the edge in territory play a play correct, the Lords activités throughout the contest. The game ended at Marietta Friday with returning home hoping Ober- lin in October 15.

OFFENSE FOLDS IN 1ST LOSS

MARIETTA FREEZES GRIDDERS, 17-0

The story lies in Kenyon’s sub-par defensive line.

Because of an injury to Frank Price, the normal left guard, the Lords were forced to use a brand of new offensive line which had not worked together previously. This lack of experience resulted in the pass protection, and as a consequence quarterback Charles was dumped ten times while dropping back to attempt a pass. On almost every play, pass or run, the Marietta defense put tremendous pressure on the Lord offense, forcing many misses because of this pressure.

At the start of the game, it appeared that Kenyon would make three in a row immediately. The Lords were leading 3-0 before the quarter ended, and had the drive stalled, and an at- tempted field goal by Kenyon went away. This proved to be the best scoring opportunity until the very end of the game for the Lords. Marietta also had trouble putting the ball over the goal line to the finish and most of the second quarter. Two key fumbles by the Foresters helped, and with the aid of a pass interference call against Marietta moved the ball to the seven yard line. But here the drive stalled, and an at- tempted field goal by Steve Fauster went away.

No long field goals are needed against the Kenyon defense. The game was a tightly played defensive struggle, with Marietta losing 10 more points by the end, but that was not the relevant point. Kenyon, after averaging 32 points in its first two encounters, couldn't score and couldn't get the ball across for a score.
